

THE NAPAN

Vol. XLVII] No 32 - E. J. POLLARD, Editor and Proprietor.

NAPANEE, ONT., CANADA

HERE'S YOUR CHANCE

Secure a modern business education that will increase your earning power and start you on the "Road to Success." One of Canada's Leading Schools:-

KINGSTON,
ONT.

Thorough, practical and up-to-date courses in all Commercial branches. Special rates to the first fifty who register for the Fall Term—Full particulars and catalogues sent free.

Fall Term opens Sept. 1st.

T. N. STOCKDALE, Principal.

Robert Light

Manufacturer and Dealer in Lumber,

Lath,
Shingles,
Cedar Posts and Stakes,
Patent Roofing,
Hardwood Flooring.

Doors, Sash,
Blinds,
Mouldings,
Verandah Columns,
Stairs and Brackets, and Interior Finish.

Machine Work Done Promptly.

Telephone 53.

Your Lawn Mower

WILL RUN EASILY
CUT PROPERLY
AND LAST LONGER,

If you have it sharpened on our New Machine built specially for sharpening Lawn flowers.

Machines called for and delivered.

The Napanee Bicycle Works

W. J. NORMILE, Prop.

NO MORE. 35c. NO LESS.

Is the return fare between all ports on route of

Str. Reindeer

TO MY WALLPAPER FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS.

I wish to thank you for your past patronage and hope that if I have given you good satisfaction and you are satisfied with my WALL PAPERS in regard to Fast Colors and the length of rolls, and the way that I have served you, I hope that I will see all your smiling faces at my store looking for Lloyd's Wallpapers, as they are the best money can buy.

JUST A WORD

I have a good many Samples of 21 inch Paper, meaning a great saving, also

I still sell the Border

by the Roll.

If you do not see my PAPERS you will be sorry when you see your neighbour's.

GOT AT
T. T. COVET'S

TOWN COUNCIL.

Council Chamber,
July 20th, 1908.

Council met in regular session on Monday evening, Mayor H. Meng in the chair.

Present—Reeve Symington and Councillors Steacy, Simpson, Osborne and Denison.

The minutes of the last regular session and special session were read and confirmed.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From the Napanee Gas Co., stating that damage was done to the gas main on West street, during the course of the construction of the sewer, for which the company would hold the town responsible.

Referred to Streets Committee to report at next regular meeting.

From D. H. Preston stating that several windows were broken in the house occupied by W. A. Carson, also other damage to the building, caused by blasting in the sewer on West St., for which damage he would expect the town to settle.

Referred to Streets Committee to report at next regular meeting.

From Geo. A. Cliffe and M. S. Madole asking for the removal of some poles belonging to the Napanee Water and Electric Co. Two poles border on Mr. Cliffe's lawn, and another one is in front of Mr. Madole's. The one in front of Mr. Madole's is considered dangerous.

Moved by Coun. Denison, seconded by Coun. Steacy, that the Electric Light Co be notified to remove the poles complained of within twenty-four hours, and if this is not done the Street Committee be empowered to have same removed.

Moved in amendment by Coun. Simpson, seconded by Coun. Osborne, that the matter be referred to the Streets Committee to report. Carried.

From I. H. Brisco asking for a rebate on the license of the Brisco opera house. The amount of the yearly license is $25, and he asked for a rebate of three-fourths of this amount, as the house was ordered closed early this spring.

The request was granted.

From N. Fellows stating that he had paid to the town treasurer the sum of $11,96 in connection with the construction of the East street sewer, and would ask the council to instruct the treasurer to return to him the sum of $5,98, as this amount was in excess of what he should pay according to agreement.

Referred to Finance Committee to investigate and report.

From U. Wilson, M. P. stating that when he had received the town clerk's letter relating to the meeting of the Railway Commission at Ottawa, it was nine o'clock on the 15th of July. He had given the matter his prompt attention, but when he arrived at the meeting of the Commission he found that the town's appeal had been before the Board, and dismissed, as no person had appeared in support of the town's complaint. Filed.

From H. M. Deroche on behalf of Miss Elizabeth Blewitt, complaining that the carters, by occupying the sidewalk in front of her property on the south side of the market, prevented her from securing a suitable tenant, and asked the council to look into the matter.

Referred to the Chief of Police.

Mr. Willet Vanalstine and others

Harvesters' Sale....

Moleskin Overalls regular value 60c. Sale price 39c, all sizes.

Blue Striped Overalls with bib, 50c. value. Sale price 39c.

Harvesters' Cotton Gloves 8c. a pair.

5 inch Brim Straw Hats, regular 20c. value. Now 13c or two for 25c.

Regular 50c Working Shirts in different cloths. Sale price 39c.

5 Dozen Men's Fancy Print Shirts, 85c and 75c. Sale price 55c.

J. L. BOYES,

Coun. Osborne, and resolved that this council deplores the fact that there is no suitable accommodation in this county for the poor of the various municipalities, and that this council considers it a disgrace to our pretenses towards advanced civilization, that in this old country, which was the birthplace of so many christian and charitable institutions, no suitable provision is made for our deserving poor. Other counties have constructed, and are maintaining their houses of industry, and point with pride to the good work they are doing. Lennox and Addington is just as able to do the same, but we have to hang our heads in shame when questioned as to what we are doing for our poor. It is a notorious fact that a very large proportion of the poor, receiving aid from the town of Napanee, belonged originally to the rural districts, and when through age or infirmity they became unable to earn a living in their own local neighborhoods they come to town and in a short time became a burden to the county town. From causes similar to this the town of Napanee is maintaining, in whole, or in part, and has for years been contributing towards the maintenance of more than its fair proportion of the poor of the county. That there is urgent need for the erection of a House of Industry in the County, and this council respectfully requests the various bodies in the County to use their influence to secure without delay some practical solution of this long felt want. Carried.

Additional appropriations were made to the following committees; Poor and Sanitary, $75; Streets, $200; Fire Water and Light $300.

The following accounts were paid: Gilbert Storms $ 6 25
W. H. Grass 27 00
H. W. 20 00

JULY

is the return fare between all ports on route of

Str. Reindeer

— on —

Wednesdays and Saturdays

of each week through

June, July & Aug.

Don't forget that you can leave Napanee at 6:30 a.m. or 1 p.m., spend one hour or seven hours in Picton, and reach home about 6:30 p.m.

Arrange to meet your Deseronto or Picton friends on the boat, as this excursion rate is good on all trips same day.

Steamer leaves Picton for Napanee at 9:30 a.m. and 4:15 p.m.

Saturday passengers wishing to stop over Saturday at either town may do so by paying Single Fare by the R.R.

If you do not see my PAPERS you will be sorry when you see your neighbour's.

GOT AT

LLOYD'S OLD STAND.

ALBERT COLLEGE,

BELLEVILLE, ONT.

SCHOOL OF FINANCE.

is now one of the leading schools of practical education of Canada. ATTENDANCE DOUBLED IN LAST THREE YEARS.

$34.60 pays board, room, tuition, electric light, use of bath, gymnasium, all but books and laundry, for twelve weeks — longer period at reduced rate. $30 pays tuition alone for the entire scholastic year.

A staff of experienced specialists give individual instruction in five distinct courses. An evening class FREE for all registered students in this department. Graduates holding the best positions. Candidates prepared yearly for the examinations held by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Ontario, and for Commercial Specialists.

Special attention given to Matriculation, Teachers' Courses, Education, Fine Art, Physical Culture.

College reopens Tuesday, Sept. 8th, 1908.

For Illustrated Calendar, address
PRINCIPAL DYER, M.A., D.D.
Belleville, Ont.

VOTERS' LIST, 1908

Municipality of Sheffield,
County of Lennox and Addington.

Notice is hereby given that I have transmitted or delivered to the persons mentioned in sections 8 and 9 of the Ontario Voters' List Act the copies required by said sections to be so transmitted or delivered of the List, made pursuant to said Act, of all persons appearing by the last revised assessment roll of the said municipality to be entitled to vote in the said municipality at elections for members of the Legislative Assembly, and at Municipal elections, and that the said list was first posted up in my office at Tamworth on the 11th day of July, 1908, and remains there for inspection. Electors are called upon to examine the said list and if any omissions or any other errors are found therein to take immediate proceeding to have the said errors corrected according to law.

J. F. DIAMOND,
Clerk of the Township of Sheffield

Dated 15th July, 1908, at Tamworth.

NEWS NOTES.

It was twelve years ago Monday since the Laurier Government took office and Canada began to progress with that marvelous rapidity which has made her the modern marvel of the world.

Itch, Mange, Prairie Scratches, Barber's itch, and every form of contagious Itch on human or animal caused in 30 minutes by Wolford's Sanitary Lotion. It never fails. Sold by — T. B. Wallace.

"The papers are afraid to say anything," sneered the first citizen. "Some people don't feel that way about it," replied the other. "Ever run for office? No, but I wrote a letter roasting some fellow that needed roasting, and the paper didn't print a line." "Did you sign your name?" "Certainly not. Dye think I'm a chump?"

The latest addition to the Picton Yacht club fleet is the "Yellow Kid," a gasoline launch of the racing type, owned by Hepburn Bros. She was put in the water on Wednesday, and given a few trial spins that were very satisfactory to her owners. She is equipped with a forty-five horse power engine, and although working a little stiff, travelled at the rate of twenty-four miles an hour, with the engine working at three-quarter speed. It is the intention of her owners to have her in good racing trim for the Champlain races next month, and we may confidently expect to hear good reports from her.

The latest addition to the Picton Yacht club fleet is the "Yellow Kid," a gasoline launch of the racing type, owned by Hepburn Bros. She was put in the water on Wednesday, and given a few trial spins that were very satisfactory to her owners. She is equipped with a forty-five horse power engine, and although working a little stiff, travelled at the rate of twenty-four miles an hour, with the engine working at three-quarter speed. It is the intention of her owners to have her in good racing trim for the Champlain races next month, and we may confidently expect to hear good reports from her.

Coughs, colds, soreness, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Cresolene tablets, ten cents per box. All druggists.

that the carters, by occupying the sidewalk in front of her property on the south side of the market, prevented her from securing a suitable tenant, and asked the council to look into the matter.

Referred to the Chief of Police.

Mr. Willet Vandistine and others petitioned the council for granolithic pavement on the east side of Centre street, between Thomas and Graham streets, the petitioners to pay half of cost of construction.

Referred to Street Committee to report.

Mr. Geo. A. Cliffe and others petitioned the council for a granolithic walk on the east side of Centre street, between Graham and Isabella streets, petitioners to pay half cost of construction. Granted.

Moved by Reeve Symington, seconded by Coun. Steacy, that the question of building a cement walk in front of Merchants' Bank property be referred to Finance Committee to report. Carried.

S. C. Denison and others petitioned the council for a cement walk on the east side of Centre street, between Isabella and Ann streets, petitioners to pay half cost of construction.

Referred to Streets Committee to report.

W. Vine and others petitioned the council for an electric light at Vine's corners, Salem.

Laid on table until after rate is struck.

A By-Law as follows was passed:

1. That from and after the passing of this By-Law the assessment of the Town of Napanee shall be taken between the first day of July and the Thirteenth Day of September in each year, and the assessment roll shall be returnable on the first day of October, and the time for closing the Court of Revision shall be the 15th day of November, and the time for the final return by the Judge of the County Court shall be the fifteenth day of December.

2. That this By-Law is enacted under the provisions of section 33 of the Assessment Act, 1901, and all the provisions of said section are hereby adopted, in so far as the same are applicable to towns.

3. That instead of making a second assessment for the year 1908 the said council hereby adopts the assessment roll previously made and revised in year pursuant to the provisions of sub-section (3) of section 33 of said assessment Act.

Coun. Simpson gave notice that at the next meeting of council he would introduce a by-law to strike the rate from August to December 31st, 1908, and also a by-law to provide for the payment of taxes.

A by-law was introduced by Coun. Simpson for an increase in the clerk's salary from $300 per annum to $450 per annum, and that on and after January 1910, the sum of $50 be added yearly until said salary shall have reached $600 per annum. The by-law was given its first reading, and in committee of the whole the committee reported progress and asked leave to sit again.

The clerk was instructed to forward the Township of North Fredericksburg the town's account in connection with the recent fire at Mr. F. J. Fife's.

On motion of Reeve Symington and Coun. Denison the clerk was instructed to ask the Electric Light Commissioners to have an electric lamp placed at Mr. Lamey's corner, just north of R. C. church.

On motion of Coun. Simpson and Coun. Osborne the Fire Water and Light Committee were instructed to have an electric light placed in the covered bridge, $50 per light, on Clarksville road, and that said work be done at once.

Moved by Coun. Osborne, seconded by Coun. Steacy, that the Street committee be instructed to procure ballast from G. B. Joy's pit at a cost of 50c. per load, $1.00 per pit, or $5c. per load delivered, if ballast is considered suitable.

Moved in amendment by Counsellors Simpson and Denison that the Street committee investigate the several ballast pits, and procure ballast where it can be got the cheapest and the best.

Moved by Coun. Steacy, seconded by

Additional appropriations were made to the following committees: Poor and Sanitary, $75; Streets, $200; Fire Water and Light $300.

The following accounts were paid:
Gilbert Storms $ 6.25
W. H. Grass 27.00
H. W. Kelly 29.00
Napanee Beaver 10.50
J. L. Boyes 1.50
Bell Telephone Co85
Electric Light 100.33
A. Wolfe 1.11
Northern Electric and Mfg. Co. 50.00
Kingston Whig 2.00
W. H. Grass50
Mrs. Richardson 3.00
Special Constables 14.00
S. W. Pringle 2.00
Ira Jaynes 4.00

The following accounts were referred to committees: M. S. Madole $2.22 and $3.15, Town Property with power to act; Napanee Express, $12, Printing and By-Laws with power to act; T. S. Henry $5.80, Finance with power to act.

Charcoal and Stoves.

Charcoal, Charcoal for toasting and broiling. Try it for your boilers. Two sacks for 25c.

BOYLE & SON.

Piles are easily and quickly checked with Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. To prove it I will mail a small trial box as a convincing test. Simply address Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. I surely would not send it if it were useless. I was certain that Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment would stand test. Remember it is made expressly and alone for swollen, painful, bleeding or itching piles, either external or internal. Large jar $6. Sold by — ALL DEALERS.

MARLBANK.

The people of this section are looking more pleasant since the rain of Saturday last.

A great many from here spent Wednesday on an excursion trip to Kingston, all returning well pleased with their trip.

Mr. Hezekiah Fitchett has erected a large store on his premises, which adds greatly to its appearance. Mr. Frank Malick has it rented and is doing a thriving business.

Mr. Ben Tell has also opened a general and hardware store combined, and is selling at moderate prices.

Mr. Tom Parfit has started a stage line from Marlbank to Napanee, which will run on market days only, the rates are low and as Mr. Parfit is an accommodating and obliging man, people travelling will find it to their interest to patronize the stage.

Mr. William Scanlin, who has been engaged for long time past with the Portland Cement Co., as overseer of the packing and shipping department, we are sorry to say, is about to go away, as he has secured a better situation at Port Colburn. He came with his family to this place about eight years ago, and from his arrival in this place he has always been one of its leading and active members, always ready and willing to take an active part in everything that was good and beneficial to his fellow men. Mr. and Mrs. Scanlin has won to themselves a host of friends, being loved, honored and respected by all who knew them, and will be greatly missed by many.

Renned Gasoline for stoves and engines at the right price. The Medical Hall — Fred L. Hooper.

How to Get More Milk.

Make your cows comfortable by spraying them with Red Cross "Flyoil." It is equally good for horses and is guaranteed to do the work perfectly. Sold in Napanee only at Wallace's Drug Store, $1.00 a can or 75c a gallon when you bring your own can.

The new gas tank for the gas house is being erected this week, and in a short time the Gas Co. will be ready to supply gas.

Eyes

Tested
Free.

EE EYE — GLASS

EXPERT OPTICIAN

Newest Frames.

GLASS — GLASS

F. CHINNECK'S

Jewellery Store.

Near Royal Hotel.

Good Quality Store.

NAE EXPRESS.

$1 per Year in advance: $1.50 if not so paid.

ANADA—FRIDAY, JULY 24th, 1908

PROMOTION EXAMS.

Collegiate Institute.

The following is the list of successful pupils at the promotion examinations. The names are in order of merit.

Lower School Division A to Division B

Mamie Blute, Kenneth Cambridge, Gordon Anderson, Martha Booth, Ignatius Clancy and Gladys Miller, equal; Reta Craig and Minnie Parks equal; Lola Madden and David Valleau equal; Adeline Barker, Clayton Martin, Frank Mills and Beulah Spencer equal; Ryerson Rankin, Roy Scrimshaw, Florence Sexsmith, and Elsie Woodcock equal; Evelyn Gleeson, Winnie Perry, Fanny Savage, and Frances Wagar equal; Frank Jamie son, George Masters, Maisie Stark.

Lower School Division A to Division C

Leo Scrimshaw, Jack Hetherington, Marjorie Gibson, Eileen Empey, Mabel Anderson, Grace Dryden.

Lower School Division B to Division C

Hazel Gordon and Ross Martin equal; Willie McGreer and Mabel White equal; Sfandhope Anderson, Edna Hudgins and Rheal Perry equal; Clara Crouse, Vernon Horton and Melville McCormack equal; Marie Huffman, Florence Walker, Charlie Fitzpatrick, Donald Fitzpatrick and Ernest Wagar equal; Willie Meng, Ross Card, Harold Oldham, Marion Kayler and Elsie Sherman equal; Vivian Hamby, Kathleen McCarten, Jennie McGreer, Florence Meads, Ruth Milling, Willie Stark and Maggie Wilson equal; Edith Edwards, George Grange and Albert Walker equal; Dorothy Vanalstine.

Lower School Division B to Middle School Division A.

Marie Blakely, Walter Denyes, Roy Root, Louise Hetherington and Beverley Simpson equal.

Lower School Division C to Middle School Division A.

Lambert Graham, Helena Merrin and Cleo Parrott equal; Belle Cummings, Iva Barker, Grant Fraser and Lulu Hill equal; Gerald Anderson, Bella Allen, Edna Laudley, Vivian McLaughlin and Beatrice Winters equal; Florence Ballance, Victor Clark, Bruce Johnston, Percy Laudley and Willie McLaughlin equal; Estella Douglas, Zella Parks and Clarence Windover equal; Hester Gibbard and Lucy Scott equal; Maggie Armstrong and Clarence Wartman equal; Arthur Kinney, Julia O'Brien, Earl Vanalstine and Helen VanLuyen equal; Edna Aney and John Booth equal; Norine Soby.

Middle School Division A to Division B

Gertie Killoran, (honors) George Scott, Stanley Henderson, Stanley Asselstine, Aubrey Cowan and Maggie Sexsmith equal; Vincent Corrigan, Flossie Baldwin and Hazel Leonard equal; Willie McLeod, Lucy Murphy, Myrtle Bell and Katie Gates equal; Winnie Craig and Susie Donovan equal; Ross Dafoe, Mabel Madden and Laura Rockwell equal; Katie Blute and Willie Denison equal.

Middle School Division B to Upper School.

Marjorie Simpson, Marion Wilson, Marion Paul, Grace Asselstine.

Get my "Book No. 4 For Women." It will give weak women many valuable suggestions of relief—and with strictly confi-

Napanee 2

Kingston 1.

Napanee Scores the Winning Run in the Tenth Innings.

A fair sized crowd was present at the park on Wednesday afternoon when Napanee and Kingston ball teams faced each other in what proved to be absolutely the best game of ball ever played in Napanee. It cannot be said this time "that Napanee had it one hundred per cent easier than taking candy from a baby," because it was a fight from the drop of the hat. There is no question about it, the "Three Linkers," from the Limestone city, are without a peer in amateur circles, unless it is our own boys, who played the game of their lives on Wednesday. It was anybody's game from start to finish, and all that was needed was an error to throw the game one way or the other, as it was almost impossible to score owing to the snappy work of both teams. Napanee scored the first run under peculiar and laughable circumstances. It was in Napanee's half of the third when Derry went to bat, hit out nice clean single, and on the first opportunity purloined the second bag. Wood then hit to second and was thrown out at first. Warner hit an infield grounder and was also out at first, and by this time Derry had reached the three-quarter post. When Warner was out the Kingston players got it in their heads that there were three out and proceeded to leave the field. Derry, who always keeps tab on the game, knew there was only two out, and made tracks for the home plate. When the Kingston boys realized their blunder they could have all been bought for a song.

Kingston scored their only run in the fifth when Dickson reached first on a clean hit over third, stole second, and came home on an overthrow to second by the catcher in an endeavor to catch Davidson.

No more scoring was done until Napanee's half of the tenth when Shultz singled and was advanced by Wood. Warner popped one out to short, which was fumbled, and Shultz scored the winning run with one player down.

Following is a synopsis of the game by innings:

Kingston—Esford hit and was caught out by Shultz, Saunders fouled and Rose made a beautiful catch dodging through the crowd to do it, Vanhorne out for bunting third strike.

Napanee—Warner hit at first, McNeill caught by third baseman, Rose fanned.

Kingston—Dickson fanned, Derry bunted and was thrown out by Rose, Davidson hit to Shultz and was thrown out at first.

Napanee—Shortie hit to second and was out, Trimble singled, but was caught stealing second, Alson hit, Shultz hit and Allison was caught stealing third.

Kingston—Smith hit to Derry in centre field and was caught, Birch fanned, Burke hit to third and McNeill threw him out at first.

Napanee—Derry reached first on a clean hit, and stole second, Wood out in infield hit, Warner hit to infield and was out at first, Derry going to third and came home when Kingston thought the side had been retired. McNeill fanned.

Kingston—Esford reached first, Saunders singled and Esford was put out at second, Vanhorne hit to Derry in centre and was out, and Jack made a nice double play by throwing Saunders out at first.

Napanee—Rose caught out by left fielder, Shultz hit to second and was out, Trimble singled, Allison out at first.

Kingston—Dickson got a nice single over third, and stole second, Derry struck out, Davidson reached first safely, and Dickson went to third, and on an overthrow came

NEW LUMBER YARD

Messrs. J. R. Dafoe and W. T. Waller, have purchased the lumber stock and business of Mr. M. S. Madole, and have overhauled the machinery of the planing mill and have it equipped for first-class work, and are prepared to supply the following first-class building material:—

Lumber, Lath, Shingles, Sash, Doors, Blinds,
Mouldings, Verandah Posts. Also Cement,
Sand, Lime, Building Paper, Roofing Drain Tile

in fact anything required in the building trade. Lumber Dressed, and Sash and Doors, Etc. Prepared to order.

When intending to build, give us a call, foot of East Street.

DAFOE & WALLER,

Orders left at T. H. Wallers' Hardware Store, or at J. R. Dafoe's Office will receive prompt attention. Telephone No. 14.

FOR SALE—Brick house, Newburgh road, nine rooms and bath room complete. Good garden, stable, and chicken house. Electric light, gas, water and furnace. Excellent well and cistern. Enquire at THIS OFFICE.

30 LIGHT ACETYLENE GAS STORE OR HOUSE MACHINE for sale at a bargain. It was thoroughly tested and worked perfectly, never once going wrong, and was used along side a coal furnace in cellar which was used all winter. The machine was passed by the insurance companies. Can give references, being because having installed electricity which suits our trade better. Call and see us or write anyway. F. CHINNECK'S Jewelry Store, Napanee.

IN THE SURROGATE COURT OF THE COUNTY OF LENNOX AND ADDINGTON.

In the estate of Rachael Dean, late of the Town of Napanee, in the County of Lennox and Addington, Married Woman, deceased.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to R. S. O. 1897, Chap. 129, Section 38, and Amending Acts, that all persons having claims against the estate of the said Rachael Dean, who died on or about the 13th day of May A. D. 1908, are required to demand payment or to deliver to John English, Solicitor for the executors, on or before the 23rd DAY OF JULY, A. D. 1908, their names, addresses, and description, and a full statement of particulars of their claim, and the nature of the security (if any) held by them, duly certified, and that after said day the executors will proceed to distribute the assets of the said deceased among the parties entitled thereto, having regard only to the claims of which they shall then have notice.

JOHN ENGLISH,
Solicitor for Executors.

Dated at Napanee this 27th day of June A. D. 1908.

EXECUTORS' SALE OF VALUABLE REAL AND PERSONAL ESTATE BY AUCTION.

Samuel Casey Denison and John W. Hamby, Executors of the last Will and Testament of Rachel Dean late of the Town of Napanee, married woman, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said will, of Rachel Dean, will offer for sale on SATURDAY the 25th day of July, 1908, on lot number sixteen on the north side of Thomas street, in the said town of Napanee, at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon, the following real estate, being composed of

(1) Lots 16 and 17 on the north side of Thomas street, in the said town of Napanee, excepting a strip 56 feet wide off the north side or ends of said lots conveyed to one M. S. Madole.

(2) Those parts of lots 1 and 2 on the south side of Thomas street, in the said

Spring Goods Arriving.

New White Waists

This is the best time of the year to buy White Blouses, as all experienced shoppes know, before all the prettiest ones get picked up. Come and see our stock before buying.

New Spring Coats.

In these we have a very fine assortment.

New Millinery

We are opening up this week our first shipment of Spring Hats, Feathers, Flowers, Laces, etc.

DOXSEE & CO.

The Leading Millinery House.

D. R. BENSON

Graduate Ontario Veterinary College, has opened and office second door south of Express Printing Office, where he may be consulted on all diseases of Domestic Animals. All latest veterinary sciences.

Residence: West Street, near Madden's grocery.

FOR SALE.

Silver Hull Buckwheat

Price 5s per bushel.
Free from foul seeds.

THOS. CHALMERS, Dorland P. O.

27-cp

WANTED.

500 Ladies' Skirts

School.

Marjorie Simpson, Marion Wilson, Marion Paul, Grace Asselstine.

Get my "Book No. 4 For Women." It will give weak women many valuable suggestions of relief—and with strictly confidential medical advice is entirely free. Simply write Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The book No. 4 tells all about Dr. Shoop's Night Cure and how those soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories can be successfully applied to correct these weaknesses. Write for the book. The Night Cure is sold by—ALL DEALERS.

Napanee 6 Gananoque 0.

Game called in sixth innings owing to rain—Napanee playing shut out ball these days.

The Napanee Base Ball team journeyed to Gananoque on Saturday afternoon to open the Eastern Ontario League in that town by a game with the "Garnocks", and succeeded in adding another victory to their list by winning 6-0. Despite the heavy rain before the game, the field was in fair condition, and the contest was watched by a large crowd. The game was a good one and not so one-sided as the score would indicate. Good hitting, assisted by a couple of errors, gave Napanee a good start in the first inning, and when the dust cleared away they had four runs to their credit. "Garnocks" drew a blank. No runs were scored in the 2nd, 3rd, or 4th, although Garnock threatened in the 3rd with three on bases and no one out, but cool, heady pitching by Wood and good support by the team retired them without a run.

Napanee scored 2 runs in the fifth, Garnocks another blank. Napanee a blank in the sixth, Garnocks at bat with two men out, a man on first, and third when a heavy rainfall stopped the game with Napanee still holding the first position in the league.

The teams lined up as follows:

Napanee—Wagner rf, McNeill 3b, Rose c, Shorts lb, Trimble ss, Allison lf, Shultz 2b, Derry cf, Wood p.

Gananoque—Davis ss, Dorey lf, McCarney cf, Clow 2b, Bakerc, Keyworth rf, Hawke 3b, Richardson lb, Pelow p.

Score by innings—

Napanee—4 0 0 0 2 6.

Gananoque—0 0 0 0 0 0.

Manager Herb Daly accompanied the team to Gananoque which gave the team great encouragement.

Wood and Rose are the best battery in the league.

Jack Allison and Miles Warner took off a line drive each.

The infield are playing fast clean ball, as only two errors in two games will show.

Manager Daly and President Sills are out every practice night, but the boys need more out. We have a good team. Encourage them...

The season is now here, truthfully says unexchange; when people who cannot swim take the most appalling liberties with boats they don't know how to manage. It is they who fill the holiday weeks with the haunting sense of tragedy.

AT SUFFERERS' SHRINE.

Thousands of Pilgrims Almost Miraculously Healed by South American Nervine.

"For years I was distressed with dyspepsia and indigestion, physicians and remedies could give me but temporary relief until South American Nervine was recommended to me. I procured a bottle and got great relief from the first few doses. The swelling and soreness in my stomach rapidly disappeared, and in a very short time I was absolutely cured. It has brought robust health." Thomas Sullivan, Arnprior, Ont. (28) South American Rheumatic Cure relieves in six hours.

Sold by T. B. Wallace

Napanee—Rose caught out by left fielder, Shultz hit to second and was out, Trimble singled, Allison out at first.

Kingston—Dickson got a nice single over third, and stole second, Derry struck out, Davidson reached first safely, and Dickson went to third, and on an overthrow came home. Davidson out at second, Smith fanned.

Napanee—Shultz out at first, Derry out for bunting, Wood out at first.

Kingston—Birch hit and reached first safely, but Shorts caught him asleep off the bag and he was out. Burke hit to Shultz and was thrown out, Esford caught out by Derry.

Napanee—Warner caught by centre fielder, McNeill fanned, Rose singled, Shorts out at first.

Kingston—Saunders hit out a nice two bagger, but was caught stealing third, Vanhorn out by Shorts, Derry thrown out by Wood.

Napanee—Trimble got first by catcher dropping third strike, Shultz caught by right fielder, and Trimble caught off first, Shultz out.

Kingston—Davidson caught by Allison, Smith fanned, Birch reached first and stole second, Burke fanned.

Napanee—Derry out at first, Wood singled over third, but was caught at second, Warner reached first, McNeill beat out a bunt, and Rose out an infield fly.

Kingston—Esford fanned, Saundar hit to Wood and was out, Vanhorn hit to Trimble and was out.

Napanee—Shorts out on foul tip, Trimble out on infield hit, Allison out by second baseman.

Kingston—Dickson hit to Shultz, Derry fanned, Davison fanned.

Napanee—Shultz singled, Derry fanned, Wood singled and Shultz went to second, then Warner popped one out to short which caused disaster, Kingston's short and second got mixed and the ball was not caught, and in the meantime Shultz had reached the starting point, and the game was over, 2-1.

The players—

Napanee—Warner rf, McNeill 3b, Rose c, Shorts 1b, Trimble ss, Allison lf, Shultz 2b, Derry cf, Wood p.

Kingston—Esford 3b, Saunders p, Vanhorn cf, Dickson 1b, Derry 2b, Davison ss, Smith rf, Birch lf, Burke c.

Score by innings—

Napanee—0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 = 6.

Kingston—0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 = 1.

While the attendance was fair, all things considered, it was not what it should have been. Napanee has the best ball team this year it ever had, and everybody should encourage them by their attendance at matches.

Saunders pitched a good game for the visitors, but had to be relieved in the eighth owing to his arm playing out.

There are a lot of good sports who steal over the back fence every time there is a game in the park. If they would stop to think a minute they would know it cost the boys considerable for every game that is played, and if it's worth stealing in to see it is certainly worth the price of admission. The ball management have been keeping tabs on some of these people, and when least expected someone will have an example made of them, and it will not be the small boys, either. Any person with a spark of manhood in them, if they stop to think, will never be guilty of such a small piece of baseness again. If they have not got the price they will not be kept out.

Only thirty-three men faced Wood in the ten innings. That's going some!

It would hardly be fair to mention any of the players individually for good work, they all were the best.

While the locals were wearing the smile of victory an amateur photographer got them in a bunch and took their pictures. Well!

One gentleman was heard to remark after the game, "that's the best quarter's worth I ever got."

The two hobos who appeared before the Police Magistrate a couple of weeks ago charged with stealing a coat, and trespassing on the G. T. R., appeared before the magistrate on Saturday for sentence. Mahoney, for stealing the coat, got six months in goal, and Sheppard, for trespass was fined one dollar and 50 cents for 30 days. As he had no necessary capital he took the 30 days.

WANTED.

500 Ladies' Skirts

500 Suits of Clothes.

To Clean and Press.

—o—

Work always guaranteed.

Clothes repaired when necessary.

H. A. RICHARDSON.

Over Symington's Store,

THE - DOMINION - BANK
NAPANEE BRANCH

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed "Tender for Supplying Coal for the Dominion Buildings," will be received at this office until 4:30 P.M. on Monday, August 24, 1898, for the supply of Coal for the Public Buildings throughout the Dominion.

Copy of specification and form of tender can be obtained on application at this office.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed form supplied, and signed with their actual signatures.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, equal to ten per cent (10 per cent) of the amount of the tender, which will be retained if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or if he fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender is not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By Order

R. C. DESROCHERS,

Asst. Secretary.

Department of Public Works,

Ottawa, July 15, 1898.

Newspapers will not be paid for this advertisement if they insert it without authority from the Department.

Sunday, July 12th, was the 22nd anniversary of the passage of the first through train on Canadian soil from ocean to ocean. What a different Canada it has created!

Pure Extract of Vanilla (made from the bean). The kind that has the right flavor, at the Medical Hall—Fred L. Hooper.

MERCHANTS' BANK OF CANADA.
ESTABLISHED 1864.

PAID UP CAPITAL $6,000,000.

RESERVE $4,000,000

UNDoubted SECURITY FOR DEPOSITORS

SIR H. MONTAGU ALLAN, Pres.

E. F. HEBDEN, General Manager.

Savings Bank Department.

Deposits of $1.00 and upwards received and interest at best current rate paid on same. Interest payable quarterly, on the last days of February, May, August and November. Farmers' Business Solicited, and General Banking Business transacted.

Napanee Branch, W. A. BELLHOUSE, Mgr.

Yarker Branch, E. R. CHECKLEY, Mgr.

THE
NORTHERN CROWN BANK
HEAD OFFICE, WINNIPEG.

Our banking facilities are for your use.

We are glad to meet you and to assist you in whatever ways we legally may.

Your savings are safe when in our keeping.

All transactions are strictly confidential.

R. G. H. TRAVERS, - Manager

NAPANEE, ONTARIO.

The Habit of Irritability

By Mary Eleanor O'Donnell

ARE you a victim of the irritability habit?

Do you go to pieces nervously if you are obliged to repeat a remark to someone who did not understand you?

Do you make yourself and everyone else wretched if a chair is out of place, or a meal a moment late, or some member of the family is tardy at dinner? Does your temper fly loose over trifles? If it does, you are a sufferer from irritability—which is a habit, as much as the drug or liquor madness, and you had better reform.

Irritability and all the personal annoyances that go with it are nothing but nervous tension. The ease with which they may be overcome seems something like a miracle to those who study for a better guidance to their bodies.

And of all worries, from the big worries with real foundation to the miserable, petty, nagging, irritating worries, it is the latter that will wear out a woman's nervous system more than will any amount of good, hard, steady, all-absorbing work.

There is only one way to overcome this disagreeable irritability habit, and that lies wholly within oneself.

It is to wake up every morning with your mind made up that you will find pleasure in your work—not view it as an irksome task, and begin the day by getting a good, nice, decent thought into your head.

Don't start it by hating somebody, or planning some wretched little meanness to play even with some real or imaginary slight.

Then, after getting your mental house in order, dash into the bathroom and have a good plunge.

Turn on the cold or tepid water, filling only the bottom of the tub. Fall in and rub a few handfuls of moistened salt over the entire body, pummeling it on good.

Then dip your bath brush in the water and scrub.

After that a quick cold spray, a jump out on the rug, a good rubdown with a coarse towel and oh! but you will feel strong and peaceful.

That's the way to fight irritability. Then downstairs to breakfast, not forgetting your good-morning to those you love as well as to those you don't. Have a nice dish of cereal, one cup of coffee, a bit of fresh fruit, or a baked apple. Don't choke down meat and potatoes. A soft boiled egg and a crisp, brown piece of toast are all you really need.

After breakfast you are supposed to go to work.

You can do your breathing exercises while walking down the block to the street car—the policeman won't arrest you, for he won't know a mortal thing about it and you can drink in deep, chest-expanding, beauty-giving breaths.

They are true health givers and well-armed warriors against the irritability habit.

At luncheon eat something sane. A lettuce sandwich and a big, red apple make a good combination. Then there is chocolate, and bread and butter, and a lot of good things that won't make one's stomach rebellious.

If you eat chocolate eclairs and lobster and plum pudding don't write to the beauty department and say that your complexion blossoms after the fashion of the ruddy speckled trout and that you are very irritable and that Fate and Destiny are against you.

yielding of the biceps causes the opposite set of muscles to do their best work.

For exercising the upper limbs and thighs imagine a rope loop passed just above the knee, the other end being tied to a weight. Raise slowly about three times. In lowering the limb the opposite set of muscles will be exercised to the same extent if you still continue to imagine the downward pulling effect of the weight.

A splendid form of exercise for the muscles of the shoulder joints, chest and upper portion of the back is that illustrated. Give yourself up to the notion that you are standing between two walls which are gradually closing upon you. Force the palms of the hands out and push as if you were really in the situation described.

Raising a heavy weight. In the position shown concentrate the mind on the idea that you are lifting a heavy weight with both hands. Rise slowly to an erect pose. Muscles of the arms, shoulders, back and waist are brought into play by this movement.

If you can stretch the imagination to the point of believing yourself on board ship an extremely beneficial form of exercise will result. Pulling at a rope in hand-over-hand fashion throws the entire upper portion of the body into action.

This exercise develops wrists, arms, shoulders and chest. It consists simply of imagining that you are lifting a heavy box over your head. It may be elaborated upon by starting from a kneeling posture, grasping the imaginary box as it lies on the floor, and slowly raising it until over the head.

Resistance Movements for Muscle Building

AVERY interesting set of physical culture exercises is classed under the head of resistance and vibratory movements.

They consist of various muscular flexions and extensions brought about by the lifting, pulling and pushing of imaginary objects.

The biceps can be developed just as well by this movement as if you were using a wallpull. Grip an imaginary handle, the other end of which is attached to a stout spring. Then pull toward you as if "making a muscle." The resistance of the muscles on the under side of the arm, of course, affords the pull that a real spring would give. Reversely, in coming back, the reluctant make one's stomach rebellious.

HEBE'S HELPFUL TALKS

If you eat chocolate eclairs and lobster and plum pudding don't write to the beauty department and say that your complexion blossoms after the fashion of the ruddy speckled trout and that you're very irritable and that Fate and Destiny are against you.

It's neither one or the other. It's indigestion. And you have your own silly pated self to blame.

After luncheon get a little more fresh air—more deep-down breaths.

Take a minute or two of the luncheon hour to turn the searchlight into your heart and put a check on unkind impulses.

Ask yourself: "What sort of a morning did I have? Unpleasant? There was that argument with the maid—really didn't lower myself in my own estimation a bit? Oh, well! this afternoon is going to be better."

To overcome irritability travel towards perfection. You aren't going to get there, but you will find the way pleasant.

Then some way try to get in a little reading during the twenty-four hours.

A little sound reading; the kind that will make you say, "There's a lot in that, isn't there?" For the right kind of reading is the soft light that casts cheery glows in the dark, weary spots of life.

After dinner not a bit of work should be done.

It's a big mistake to go and drag the day's tasks into the night. You haven't any right to do it.

It is the time of the twenty-four hours for rest, and by resting you will be better equipped for the next day's efforts to overcome your mean disposition.

Evening is the time for recreation, sooting hours, for relaxing, dropping down in lazy corners among cushions and thinking of idle, pleasant things—and sometimes the serious things of life.

We must take life as we find it, better it if we can, but certainly there is no sense in throwing our heads against the stone wall of absurd tempers and unnecessary peevishness. There are many exercises for quieting the nerves, but everyone requires that you first gain control of yourself. And the girl who has acquired the irritability habit cannot overcome it until she recognizes this fact.

RATTLED.

"Hear about Reggie?"

"What's the latest?"

"Well, you know how bashful he is?"

"Yep. Get on."

"The other night he proposed to Miss Coyne. Of course, he got all balled up. He thought the proper thing would be to get on his knees to her."

"Yes..."

"So he did. Well, he hadn't been on his knees since he was a kid. And, rattled as he was, he couldn't think a thing to say but 'Now I lay me down to sleep!'"

ROCKY.

Mr. Wiggins, in his study, was endeavoring to concentrate his thought upon a bit of writing. A perpetual noise in the flat above annoyed him beyond human endurance. Rushing into the sitting-room he cried,

"What is that confounded racket?"

"My dear, it is only the lady above rocking her baby to sleep."

"For heaven's sake, run and tell her to use smaller rocks!"

part of the arm, of course, affords the pull that a real spring would give. Reversely, in coming back, the reluctant flexible portion stretches over the hairy box as it lies on the floor, and slowly raising it until over the head.

HEBE'S HELPFUL TALK

To Retain Youthful Appearance.

AMERICAN women are said to be the best groomed women in the world, and yet they have much to learn in the art of retaining their youthful appearance.

Those who dare to disregard the rules of hygiene soon find they are slowly but surely losing their former power, and must give way to those who have wisely profited by the aids at their disposal.

It is every woman's duty to look her best and to preserve as long as possible all the charm with which nature endowed her.

The time spent in improving the appearance is a good investment, and will yield a royal interest, providing it is well directed and not carried to excess.

Fifteen minutes each day devoted to the intelligent care of the complexion will do more good than three hours once a month and nothing lends a greater charm to a woman than a perfect complexion.

To be well preserved means to be well groomed, but it is quite possible to be well groomed and not well preserved.

Many women are scrupulously clean, but never seem to realize the necessity of guarding against the formation of wrinkles, crow's feet, large pores or the ugly brown spots, which to the well-trained eye is an evidence of neglect.

Woman's first effort should be directed to the prevention of wrinkles.

Learn to use, but not abuse the face. Facial repose should be taught in our schools, and practiced by the elders, then we would not see people in conversation raising their eyebrows to the roots of the hair, drawing them together until they form great, deep furrows between the brows, or drawing their mouth to one side in a vain attempt to be impressive.

The expression should come from the eyes and mouth and not the forehead.

The mouth can be quite as expressive when straight as when drawn to one side.

One can laugh as heartily with the eyes open and nose unwrinkled as by screwing both into a mass of wrinkles. Facial contortions are responsible for more wrinkles than age.

Vaucaire Remedy.

Bust developer for Florence H., Mrs. M. H. and M. E. H.

Liquid extract of gallega

(goat's rue) 10 grams

Lacto phosphate of lime. 30 grams

Tincture of fennel 10 grams

Simple syrup 400 grams

The dose, two soupspoonfuls in water before each meal.

Superfuous Hair.

N. G., Baltimore.—Electrolysis is the only means by which this growth of hair can be permanently removed. The depilatory given in the paper will only remove it temporarily. Electrolysis is a perfectly safe method, and when given by one thoroughly understanding the work the hair will never return.

To Darken Hair.

A. D., of W.—A harmless vegetable dye, which by repeated applications will turn the hair quite black, is made of:

Mullen flowers $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce

Genista $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce

Steep in water till the liquid is black; apply with a brush.

Blackheads and Pimples.

Directions for treating blackheads and pimples for A Friend, Caroline O. and Mathilde:

Cleanse the face with the cleansing cream, remove at once with a soft towel, bathe in hot water and apply the blackhead lotion; if there are pimples and no blackheads, apply the pimple lotion.

In the morning bathe in hot and cold water alternately several times; into the last cold water put a few drops of benzoin.

The expression should come from the eyes and mouth and not the forehead.

The mouth can be quite as expressive when straight as when drawn to one side.

One can laugh as heartily with the

which is one of defense. The appearance of these powerful enemies with their war chariots and overwhelming numbers fills the heart of Saul's men with fear, and they either desert or follow him trembling (1 Sam. 13. 6, 7) but he gains a number of important victories. Several stories concerning Jonathan — Saul's son and a popular hero—are told. In a wonderful exploit he and his armor-bearer start the rout of the Philistines single handed (1 Sam. 14. 1-16). Later, when he breaks a vow which his father, unknown to him, has made, he is saved by the demand of the people. At this time also Saul shows signs of the self-dependence which was later to cause his rejection (1 Sam. 13. 8-14). In succession he meets the Moabites, the Ammonites, and the Edomites, the three great people whose territory flanked Israel on the south and east. Finally, he goes out against the Amalekites, with whom Israel has an old score. They formed the first line of opposition to her advance from the wilderness into Canaan and she has not forgotten (Exod. 17. 14). It is the part of justice and religious duty to visit upon them the sin of their fathers, and this Saul sets out to do impelled by the command of Jehovah through Samuel. The war and if the pimples have formed a yellow head contents of these also may be expelled with the instrument. Massage for ten minutes with the massage cream for pimples; remove all the cream from the face and bathe with the toilet water.

Blackhead Lotion.

Boracic acid 1 dram

Alcohol 1 ounce

Rosewater 2 ounces

Pimple Cream.

Linoline $\frac{1}{4}$ ounces

Oil of sweet almonds $\frac{1}{4}$ ounces

Sulphur precipitate $\frac{1}{4}$ ounces

Oxide of zinc 5 drams

Violet extract 1 dram

Cleansing Cream.

Orange flower water 4 ounces

Oil of sweet almonds 4 ounces

White wax 2 ounces

Melt the wax and oil in a double boiler, remove from the fire and beat in the orange flower water; beat until cool.

Cleansing cream is always applied with the tips of the fingers in a rotary motion and removed at once with a soft towel.

Eyebrow Grower; Thin Arms.

Dear Hebe—Please tell me what to do for scanty eyelashes and brows and tell me how often to apply the grower. Also could you recommend something for thin arms?

P. R.

Apply this tonic to the brows and lashes with a fine sable brush, using great care that none will enter the eyes:

Lavender vinegar $\frac{1}{2}$ ounces

Glycerin $\frac{1}{4}$ ounces

Fluid extract of jaborandi 2 drams

Massage cream for thin arms:—

Tannin $\frac{1}{2}$ gram

Landoline 30 grams

Oil of sweet almonds 20 grams

Oil of rose geranium 4 drops

Use of Rouge.

Young Wife—Do not use artificial color unless as you say at times when

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

INTERNATIONAL LESSON, JULY

26.

Lesson IV. Saul Rejected by the Lord. Golden Text, Josh. 24. 24.

THE LESSON WORD STUDIES.

(Based on the text of the Revised Version).

Saul's Campaigns. — The people had not overestimated the powers of their leader Saul, who at once began a series of brilliant campaigns against their enemies on all sides. One of the strains of popular report even has it that his selection as king was the result of a successful calling of the clans and leading them out to the rescue of the men of Jabesh-gilead at the time of an Ammonite invasion (1 Sam. 11). Much of his reign was taken up with battles against Israel's foes, and Chapters 13 and 14 are devoted to the record of these conflicts. First, there is the Philistine campaign, is one of extermination, and is to include none but the offending nation, so the Kenites who live among the Amalekites are given an opportunity to flee before the final attack. Israel's victory is decisive and complete. It is the disobedience in the disposal of the spoil which causes Samuel to leave his place of retirement and come hurrying down with the word of Jehovah against Saul, whose selfishness has prompted it. The brilliancy of David's conquests and the shameful death to which Saul finally came have tended to dull the lustre of his own life, but it must be remembered that he was one of the very greatest of Israel's military leaders, and that his victories laid the foundations for the successful reigns of David and Solomon.

Verse 13. Samuel—The aged judge is still regent in any time of crisis, although he has given up formal power.

Blessed—A gracious form of greeting, though it savors of hypocrisy here.

Thou of Jehovah—He represents the conscience of Israel and is the one link between them and their God.

I have performed the command-

THE HEAVENLY VISION

Nothing Is Impossible to Those Who Cherish This Light and Heed This Call.

"I was not disobedient to the heavenly vision."—Acts, xxvi, 19.

He who has fully followed his ideals may have missed all other prizes in that pursuit, yet he has found happiness and riches that could have become his in no other way. Here is the secret of satisfaction, here is high success in any life, that one shall have followed fully his ideals, shall have kept the best steadily before him.

Heavenly visions come to all. They may not come with the rushing of angels' wings, nor with strange and mysterious signs and appearances. Perhaps some of the old time visions of great missions and of great heights of character are described in terms of the supernatural only because they seem so much above the plane of the normal, average experience.

None is poorer than he who has never known high aspiration, who has never lifted his eyes to see the glory set before him. After all, the measures of any life is the extent to which such visions of great possibilities and lofty tasks has entered into the being and dominated the deeds.

There is nothing like this to make a man strong to endure, to make him despise the paltry prizes that seem so attractive to eyes blind to

THE GREATER GLORY.

This is the food that angels envy, food that has sustained the soul through long days in the deserts, through weariness, toil, disappointments, fears, forsakings, losses, and loneliness. They are able to despise the cross and to endure the shame who have seen the glory set before every worthy life, and leading on every high path of service or of sacrifice. No man or woman ever attained anything without this; nothing is impossible to those who cherish this light and heed this call.

Livingstone, Lincoln, Garibaldi, Florence Nightingale would have failed without the vision. In the rewards of wage or fame there would be no power to bear them up, on the contrary their daily experiences were enough to turn them from the chosen path, but for the lofty confidence that they were doing the work for them, but for the inspiration of the ideal before them.

And this is any man's religion, to follow his ideal, to seek to be the best that day by day he knows, to do the highest duty that any lofty desire indicates, to take the path that leads up in love, and service, and purity of living. The religious life is the life that moves up into his higher self, and so ever finds new heights before it.

The great question for every man in religion is, not so much whether he will obey the ten commandments, no so much whether he will bend to the dictate of church or preacher, but whether he will be obedient to

THE INNER VISION

Of the voice from heaven that speaks in his own heart and bids him forsake his dull ways of self-content and rise to higher living, to sacrificial service.

That vision calls us to paths of pain, that vision, if you but heed and seek to obey, makes tremendous demands of you. It is not the easy, heedless following of an emotional, romantic love for glory; it is the thorny path of the cross, the way of burden bearings; it is so hard as to be heroic.

The thing that is eating like a cancer into our hearts, and robbing us of our power, and stealing our possibilities is our love of ease, our hatred of the things that are hard; we refuse to obey the heavenly vision because to do so would be to endure, hardness, to forsake our soft and pleasant ways. So seeking ease we lose life.

Our days are filled with a dull discontent, not because we do not possess the things of this life, but because we have missed its greatest prize, the joy of following growing ideals. There is nothing we need to cherish more, to guard more closely than this, the visions that stir to greatness, the passion for perfection, the hope of high living and serving.

HENRY F. COPE.

war the fate which often awaited not only the property, but the persons of the vanquished was annihilation in the name of a religious vow.

Gilgal—A town prominent in the history of Israel at this time. It was a sacred place (1 Sam. 13; 9, 10) and was the scene of Saul's previous crowning (1 Sam. 11, 14, 15) as it is now of his rejection.

22. And Samuel said—This reply which is in poetic form is worthy of the great eighth century prophets and greatly resembles them in its emphasis on moral rather than ceremonial excellence (compare Amos 5, 21-24; Hos. 6, 6; Mic. 6, 6-8, and Jesus' words in Matt. 9, 13).

To hearken—Means the same as "to obey" in the previous line. So, the fat of rams corresponds to "sac-suitable place to jump in, for I did not like to crawl in ignominiously at the pilgrims' bathing-place, near which we were, and which would have been the wisest course to adopt. I wanted to take a header. So procuring a long stick, I ascended the stream a little, and made sure by sounding with it of a deep spot under an overhanging tree.

In I plunged, intending to swim down to the regular bathing-place, where I knew there must be a good bottom for getting out. Down I came with the fast-flowing, yellow flood, striking out in the fullest enjoyment.

But when I was just about to put my foot to the ground, I was brought up sharp with a tremendous blow on my right breast. If it

TUGGING AT A ROPE

STENAR

LIFTING BOX OVERHEAD

S ON BEAUTY

It is important to look your best. Every man should want his wife to look well and she should make every effort to do so, but it is better to try to improve the physical condition and the color of the skin will improve also. I know the liquid rouge you mention, and when carefully applied it is imperceptible, and I must confess very becoming to some people.

Advice Asked.

Mrs. Livingston—I consider the article you mention perfectly useless. Exercise is far more effective. I am sorry you did not ask my advice before spending your money.

To Acquire a Ruddy Complexion.

Pale Young Man—Expose your face to the sun and wind whenever you have a chance to do so and eat a simple diet. This is the only practical way to acquire the coveted ruddy complexion you desire.

To Brighten the Eyes.

Grace—Take eight hours' sleep out of twenty-four. Your eyes will soon look brighter and the circles will disappear. Drink no coffee with the evening meal. By no means use drugs in the eyes, as they are decidedly dangerous.

Grace of Movement.

Helen—A good dancing teacher will teach you grace of motion, also the rules of etiquette you wish to know.

White Spots on Nails.

Dear Hebe—I have a white spot on every nail, and on some there are two or three—what will remove them?

CLARENCE.

Rub the spots each day with equal parts of pitch and myrrh melted together and they will soon disappear.

Complexion Query.

A Reader—You need never expect to have a good complexion as long as you take only one warm tub bath a week. Take a hot tub bath every night; use good soap and a bath brush. In the ment of Jehovah—Samuel, speaking for Jehovah (15, 2), had renewed the old command given to Moses and handed down to Joshua (Exod. 17. 14-16) to fight against the Amalekites till they are destroyed. It was essentially a religious act and Saul was accountable in its performance to Jehovah. His word was untrue, as he had not followed the explicit command of Samuel (1 Sam. 15, 3).

15. Amalekites—Israel's oldest and most hated foes. They were a robber, nomad people living in lower Palestine who harassed and molested the twelve tribes from the time of the battle at Rephidim, when Moses prayed while Joshua fought in the pain, all through the period of the Judges, till their final extermination at the hand of David. If it is true, as is thought, that they were at the head of the confederacy of Canaanite tribes who possessed the land, and represented them in the conflict, the bitter rivalry between them and Israel was to be expected.

The people spared—A falsehood. They dare not have done so except at Saul's command.

The best—A suspicious selection. To sacrifice—A flimsy pretext, for morning, a cold sponge and a vigorous rubbing with a Turkish towel. Breathe deeply at all times. In the morning stand before an open window, clothed in a loose gown; stand tall, chest well held up; take long, deep inhalations through the nostrils with mouth closed; exhale quickly through the mouth.

Personal Reply.

Respected Reader, St. Louis.—When a personal reply is desired a self-addressed, stamped envelope is required.

Enlarged Pores.

Dear Hebe—Please tell me how to treat my nose for enlarged pores.

POLLY.

Cleanse the face with a good cold cream, then bathe in hot and cold water alternately; this you must do each night. In the morning bathe in hot and cold water, and into the last cold water put a few drops of benzoin. Once a week massage the face thoroughly.

Biting Finger Nails.

Dear Hebe—My little girl, aged 5 years, has formed the disgusting habit of biting her finger nails. I notice you say under the circumstances the nails should be manicured. Do you not think she is too young? Is there anything I can do to correct this?

MRS. SMITH.

Your little daughter's nails should be very carefully manicured, regardless of her tender years, as it is the only way to break her of the biting habit. It removes all the little rough particles of cuticle, which is bound to annoy a nervous temperament, young or old. When the nails are in good condition there is little or no inclination to bite them, their destruction would have amounted to a sacrifice to Jehovah.

Utterly destroyed—Put to the ban. This was the execution of a religious sentence; hence the seriousness of disobedience even in a detail. Achan's sin with its tragic results corresponds to this and is of the same sort. There were degrees of severity in the enforcement of the ban, but in the case the extreme penalty of absolute annihilation of every living thing was imposed.

17. Though thou wast little . . . of Israel—Compare Saul's own words in Chapter 9, verse 21. His elevation should have increased his sense of responsibility to Jehovah.

Jehovah—The agent of God's will is overlooked. According to Hebrew thought all things were due to the direct action of Jehovah.

19. Didst fly upon the spoil—A graphic expression indicating lack of self-control and personal greed.

20. Agag—This was possibly the title of the king of the Amalekites rather than a personal name (compare Pharaoh in Egypt).

21. Devoted things—Or, as sometimes translated, "accursed," "consecrated," "dedicated," and "holy to Jehovah." The ethical meaning in the English words was not part of the original one, which more nearly corresponds with the idea of taboo among modern tribes. Anything was "devoted" which was utterly given to Jehovah. This might be done in either of two ways, (1) by giving it to the priest for personal or ceremonial use, or (2) by rendering it unfit for any use at all. Complete destruction was the most thoroughgoing form of devoting to Jehovah, and as every war was a holy monial excellence (compare Amos 5. 21-24; Hos. 6. 6; Mic. 6. 6-8, and Jesus's words in Matt. 9, 13).

To hearken—Means the same as "to obey" in the previous line. So, the fat of rams corresponds to "sacrifice." The repetition of thought in parallel expressions was part of the poetic form.

23. Witchcraft—Or, divination, was held in disrepute among the Hebrews, especially in later times. It was a Canaanitish practice and condemned by Jehovah—indeed it amounted to apostasy from him.

Idolatry—The worship of images of which teraphim seems to have been one sort. They were probably in the human form and were sternly denounced by the later prophets.

25. Turn again with me, that I may worship Jehovah—Samuel's placation was necessary before any approach could be made to Jehovah so completely was he Jehovah's representative.

27. Laid hold—That is, Saul laid hold on Samuel to detain him as he turned to leave him to his solitary way.

Skirt of his robe—Compare case of David and Saul (1 Sam. 24, 4).

Rent—Was torn.

28. And Samuel said—It was an accident but Samuel at once saw in it an "omen" of God's purpose toward Saul and used it as such. It was common to take any unusual event as an indication of divine communication.

A neighbor of thine—That is, David.

BATHING IN THE DEAD SEA.

Sir Gray Hill Tells of His Exciting Experience.

It is well known that the waters of the Dead Sea are much heavier than those of the ocean. This is due to the great amount of salt held in solution. A few years ago Mr. now Sir Gray Hill, of England made a trial of swimming in the sea and then in the Jordan, to compare the two. He tells the result in his book, "With the Beduins":

Many tourists while at Jericho bathe in the Dead Sea and the Jordan, and for very shame I could not pass by without doing so. But my experience was peculiar. I had with me one of the Jericho sheiks and one of the muleteers, and we rode first to the Dead Sea. Its waters are generally perfectly still and of a splendid blue color; but now, owing to the storm, they were very rough, the waves ran high, and for some two hundred yards from the shore were of an ugly brown.

I looked askance at it as I undressed, but felt bound to go in. The waves very promptly knocked me down, and filled my mouth, nose and eyes with their strong brine. Again I tried, and again, picking up one after another of the bare branches of trees which are carried down by the Jordan and washed on to the shore of this strange lake, with which I tried to steady myself as I walked in. But the force of the waves, aided by the great floating power of the water, twisted the branches out of my hands, and knocked me down time after time until, feeling that I had done enough for principle, I acknowledged that the victory did not lie on my side, and scrambled out, smarting most unpleasantly.

Then we galloped off to the Jordan, where I thought I should succeed better. So I cast about for a came with the fast-flowing, yellow flood, striking out in the fullest enjoyment.

But when I was just about to put my foot to the ground, I was brought up sharp with a tremendous blow on my right breast. If it had struck me on the heart it would, I think, have killed me on the spot. I had come down on to the end of a stake pointing upstream, and driven in to mark the upper boundary of the bathing-place, but which was hidden, owing to the rains having raised the surface of the river. I had some difficulty in crawling out again, and was black and blue in the chest for a month afterward. There is nothing like a little experience to teach one wisdom.

Daddy Stork's Mistake

FOR a long time Clarissa had prayed for a sister—a nice little baby sister, whom she could love and fondle. And now the mean old stork had brought her a baby brother that fretted and squabbled and looked even crossly at her.

"Daddy Stork must have made a mistake. I'm sure he must; and I do wish he'd take this baby back," said Clarissa impatiently, as she frowned upon her baby brother.

Clarissa didn't know just how it came about, but suddenly she found beside her a radiant angel, clad in gleaming robes of white, and wearing a brilliant star above her brow. And the angel, though still smiling sweetly, said quite reprovingly to the little girl:

"There was no mistake. The queen of heaven heard your prayer, and immediately she bade a little cherub cease from playing with the stars, and run across to the chamber of souls with a message. Now, this message directed that a delightful little girl baby be selected from among the souls, and be given to the stork messenger. But when we happened to tell the queen that a naughty boy baby was disturbing the little souls, she commanded this baby sent to you, in order that it might teach you patience and kindness."

"AN ANGEL BESIDE HER"

"I have just been too ugly for anything," murmured Clarissa through her tears, "and won't you please tell the queen that I'll be as kind and patient as ever I can. And I really do feel that I love baby brother now."

Clarissa quickly proved that, after all, Daddy Stork had made no mistake.

THE WAY.

When fate is dealing out hard knocks,
Don't try to shake 'em;
Just buckle in and grit your teeth,
Then stand an' take 'em.
For when she finds you won't be downed,

As sure as shootin',
She's very apt to turn around,
And go a-scootin'.

TAXES ON EVERYTHING

CURIOS DUTIES IMPOSED TO RAISE BRITISH REVENUES.

Pitt, During Great Britain's War With France, Tried Every Tax Imaginable.

Chancellors in former times were at their wits' ends to raise revenue; and many were the curious taxes they imposed," says the London Daily Mail.

Pitt put a tax on hair powder. For a hundred years the wig, introduced from France, was very fashionable. But about the middle of the eighteenth century it began to fall into disuse and hair powder took its place.

Men tied their natural hair in a queue and covered it with powder. To appear at any social function with unpowdered hair was an impossible offence.

Taking advantage of the fashion, Pitt put on the "guinea pig" tax, as it was called, charged on a householder in respect of every person in his house who used hair powder.

But there were many exemptions; in addition to the Royal Family, and their servants, clergymen not possessing a hundred a year, subalterns and privates in the army, and officers in the navy under the rank of commander were exempted.

And to relieve the man with a large family, a father with more than two unmarried daughters could get a license for any number by paying two guineas.

Pitt expected a revenue of more than £20,000. But the Whigs, headed by the Duke of Bedford, decided to balk the Chancellor by abandoning the use of hair powder.

In September, 1795, some of the Whig leaders—the Duke of Bedford, the Marquis of Anglesea, the Earl of Jersey, Lord William Russell and others—met in solemn conclave at Woburn Abbey and there sorrowfully cut off their queues.

Curled and oiled whiskers took the vacant place and powder was left to menservants, but it was not till 1869 that Mr. Lowe repealed the hair powder tax as not being worth the cost of collection.

War with France was the cause of the tax on dogs. In 1796 the impost commenced, but it was limited to persons keeping sporting dogs or a number of dogs.

For a long time—1840-53—dog owners paid a very heavy toll. For all non-sporting dogs the tax was 9s. 8d., for sporting dogs, 15s. 4d., and for greyhounds, £1 2s.

But in 1853 Mr. Gladstone changed the tax to 12s. for any kind of dog. Even this was too high. Not one-fourth of the owners paid, and so great became the numbers of dogs on the public roads that something like a panic arose throughout the country.

In London the parks were infested by stray dogs and it was a common sight to see dozens of them following riders in the Row, barking at the horses.

So to prevent evasion the tax was reduced to 5s., and afterward raised to the figure which it now stands.

Probably the worst taxes ever imposed were those on paper, newspapers and advertisements—the tax on knowledge, as it has been called.

hundredfold the revenues collected from this bad tax.

Toll was taken from the people in many other curious ways. Watchers (then usually slung from a chain round the neck) and clocks were taxed, 10s. for a gold watch, 2s. 6d. for a silver watch, and 5s. for a clock. The tax nearly ruined the trade.

Raisins came to be taxed during the Commonwealth because plum puddings were regarded with aversion by the Puritans.

Hats were taxed once and had to bear a revenue stamp; so were gloves, mittens, almanacs, perfumes, tooth powder and all sorts of toilet articles, glass, stone bottles and bricks.

Female servants were taxed by Pitt 2s. 6d. for one, 5s. each for two, and 10s. each for three or more—a very unpopular tax.

THE MARINER'S COMPASS.

Influences That Draw It From Its Allegiance to the Magnetic Pole.

Nothing in the navigational equipment of a ship has been the subject of more anxious scientific research or receives more jealous care than the mariner's compass, says the Windsor Magazine.

The popular notion of the compass needle always pointing north and south is—well, more inaccurate than even popular notions usually are. Even under the most favorable conditions there are only certain places upon the surface of the earth where the compass needle does not point north and south, and it is quite safe to say that such conditions are never found on board of any ship.

But we must go further and say that no more unfavorable position could be found for a compass than on board of a modern steamship, which is a complicated mass of steel, all tending to draw the compass needle from its allegiance to the magnetic pole of the earth, warring influences which must needs be counteracted by all sorts of devices which hedge round the instrument by an invisible wall of conflicting currents of magnetism.

And as if this were not enough there are now huge dynamos to be reckoned with, producing electric currents for all sorts of purposes on board. In the midst of these mystic currents the poor little compass needle, upon which the mariner depends for his guide across the trackless deep, hangs suspended like one shrinking saint surrounded by legions of devils.

WHAT HAPPENED TO JONES.

A certain wag called at a house and asked the servant who came to the door:—

"Is Henry Jones in?"

"No, sir; he is not here. He does not live here," was the reply.

"Yes, he is here," laughed the wag, "for I am Henry Jones."

The next day he practical joker made his face up with false whiskers, and visited the same house. The same servant answered the bell.

"Is Henry Jones in?"

"No, sir," said the servant, sharply.

"Yes, he is," shouted the other, as he pulled off his disguise and roared with laughter.

The servant called after him:—

"If you come here again I will answer you with a broomstick."

NEVER SLEEP IN LONDON

WORKERS OF THE NIGHT IN THE GREATEST CITY.

Editors and Printers at Work—Washing of the Streets—The Fish Markets.

There is no night in London—London slumbers not, nor sleeps. If a definition of night-work were wanted, I should say it is work that is begun and ended anywhere between six in the evening and breakfast-time, says a writer in the London Daily Mail. Six is the average hour when the day-workers shut their desks; but it is the time when the policemen on night-duty begin their first four-hours' spell, and when men are settling down in newspaper offices.

The sub-editors may catch the 2.45 a.m. to their homes, and their work is but early night work. The printing presses are beginning to roar as they go home; and the men connected with the outside of newspaper offices are beginning to gather. Coffee-stalls and coffee-shops now open for their benefit. As three o'clock wears on to four, the lower end of Fleet-street becomes as busy as a fair, and soon begins the race to the stations of newspaper-laden carts, vans, and cabs.

AS SEA CLEANSSES SANDS.

By this time the markets are opening, and night-work merges imperceptibly into day-work.

Passing through the streets to see the markets—Billingsgate, Smithfield, Leadenhall, Spitalfields, the Borough, Covent Garden, the cattle market at Islington, or the hay and straw and hide markets—the washing of the streets strikes one as a sight not only picturesque, bordering on the romantic. The square mile of the City is entered daily by 1,300,000 human beings, and by more than 100,000 vehicles. Before dawn, water has washed away the wheel and the foot marks, as the sea cleanses the sands.

BILLINGSGATE MARKET.

It is interesting, too, to go down to the docks to see a fruit-ship being unloaded through the night, in the lurid light of swinging lamps, for the morning's market at Covent Garden, or to watch the unloading of the fish-steamer at the wharf at Billingsgate. To pass through the garish fish-market on to that wharf as dawn is breaking, and river and air and sky are bathed in the deepest violet blue, is to see the finest sight which London at night has to offer.

And the weirdest and the most horrible and greatest sound made by any of the thousands of night-workers of London is the yell which opens the first auction at Billingsgate.

LIVED AFTER BEING HANGED.

No Drop used at Executions in the Early Days.

Innumerable instances of resuscitation after hanging are recorded. Henry III. granted a pardon to a woman named Inetta de Balsham, who was suspended from nine o'clock on a Monday, to sunrise of Thursday, and afterwards "came to." Dr. Plot tells of a Swiss who

HOW TO BE HAPPY.

A Clean Conscience, Something to Do, and Some One to Love.

In these days of many theories regarding the power of mind over matter, when almost everybody is searching for a mental short cut to that state of contentment that is somewhat indefinitely defined as "happiness," it is a pleasure to come upon such a sane prescription for relief from existing disquietude as that which is given by Mrs. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps in one of the current magazines. "The conditions of happiness," she says, "are three: a clean conscience, something to do, and some one to love." Here in a nutshell we have a philosophy of life that may be adopted without hesitation. Whatever one's opinions may be regarding the truth of the so-called psychic problems that are now attracting so much attention, there can be no objection to any of the ingredients that compose the prescription suggested. It is about as clear and compact a definition of the qualities that combine to produce a state of individual happiness as it would be possible to devise.

In the first place, happiness without a clear conscience would be absolutely impossible. No man can be happy and at the same time be afraid to look the world in the face. The mere appearance of somebody who has a just grievance against us is enough to knock all the joy out of life for some time to come. Money will do a great deal toward the attainment of happiness. The realization of ambitions will help us to be contented, but neither of these things will take the place of the peace of mind that only the clear conscience can bring. Though we exert every mental effort of which we are capable the day or hour is certain to come when we are brought face to face with the fact that there is an indictment outstanding against us to which we must plead in the court of conscience. It is at such a time that we begin to realize that neither wealth nor position are alone able to bring us happiness for which the soul longs. To attain this blessing we must be able to look every man straight in the eye, and to do this we must know that no man has the power to bring the blush of shame on our cheeks.

Contentment of this sort, however, is not the only thing we need to make us happy. Before we can attain this condition we must have something to do, for work is the greatest remedy for misery that man has yet been able to find. As a matter of fact, half the unhappiness in this world is due to idleness. When a man has nothing else to think about he is not unlikely to spend his time in thinking about himself, and there are few of us who, should we grow introspective, could not dig up some thoughts that would help to make us miserable. In other words, it does not pay to dwell too closely upon our own troubles or to delve too deeply into the past. Yesterday has gone, and no regrets that we can express are able to bring its possibilities back again. To-day is a new day, with new opportunities waiting to be grasped. The only way in which it is possible for us to take advantage of them is to be up to the minute, with hands ready and mind alert to seize the chance for which we have been waiting. The best way in which raised to the figure which it now stands.

Probably the worst taxes ever imposed were those on paper, news-papers and advertisements—the tax on knowledge, as it has been called.

How much these taxes retarded the progress of the country there is no calculating. The paper duty, William III.'s invention, commenced in 1694 and lasted down to 1861 over a century and a half.

It was at one time £28 a ton and when Charles Knight published the "Penny Cyclopaedia" (1830) he had to pay £20,000 duty on the paper.

Only 14,000 tons of paper were used in 1803 and only 28,000 tons in 1831.

Then in 1711 Queen Anne put a duty on newspapers, a penny per sheet, raised to fourpence by George III. and not abolished until 1855.

To make matters worse an advertisement duty was imposed in 1712, also by Queen Anne. This amounted to the prohibitive sum of 3s. 6d. for each advertisement.

For four years shopkeepers were taxed by Pitt (1785-89). It was not much, only sixpence in the pound up to £10 rent and two shillings in the pound when the rent exceeded £25 pounds.

But a great outcry arose. Pitt said the shopkeeper could pass the tax on to the customer; the shopkeeper said he could not and in the end the shopkeeper was victorious.

A curious thing happened when auctioneers were taxed. At first £5 a year, the duty was raised to £10 by Peel, but he relieved them of the necessity of taking out a license for beer, spirits, etc., when they sold these articles at auction. The consequence was that auctioneers everywhere carried on the sale of spirits, etc., for themselves until the abuse was stopped in 1864.

To Pitt again and the war with France we owe the income tax. He put it on with a vengeance—2s. in the pound on all incomes over £200 and varying rates on incomes from this sum down to £60.

It commenced in 1798 and was abolished in 1816. Then for twenty-six years the people were free from this most unpopular impost.

At first the possession of large families was taken into account, and abatements were made for children, £4 per £100 for each child over two years, where the income did not exceed £400 a year, and less for rich folk.

The window tax, a very old tax, commenced in the reign of William III., was not discontinued until Lord Halifax changed it to the house duty in 1851.

It must have caused a great amount of consumption, anaemia and other foul air maladies, for in 1850 there were only an average of six windows in English houses. Indeed, our architects are not yet free from the bad influence of this tax.

In many old houses one still sees mock windows painted on the walls for symmetry—hideous things. Not only were glazed windows taxed, but any hole in the wall was included. Indeed, in the early days only very rich people had glass windows, and so precious were these that they were carried from one house to another when people removed.

Curious dodges were practised to escape the tax, such as extending one window across two houses or making a very wide division between two panes of glass. The loss to the nation must have been a sharp.

"Yes, he is," shouted the other, as he pulled off his disguise and roared with laughter.

The servant called after him:—

"If you come here again I will answer you with a broomstick."

Jones then wrote to his friends that he had changed his lodgings, and that he invited them to a "house-warming" that evening. The new lodgings, he made believe, were at the house where he had angered the servant. Evening came.

"Ah! you are here again, are you?" was the servant's reply to the first visitor who asked for Mr. Jones.

Then the servant followed up the remark by a shower of blows from a stick. A few moments later another man called and asked for Mr. Jones. He, too, was beaten off the step. A third person received the same punishment, and so did all of Mr. Henry Jones's friends who accepted the invitations to the "house-warming."

What happened to Jones history has not divulged.

SENTENCE SERMONS.

Vindictiveness is the jaundice of memory.

A large heart does not go with the big head.

Conceit of ourselves breeds no confidence in others.

Serving two masters is stealing from one or both.

He is not brave who does not fear to do the base thing.

No man knows whether he is brave until he has to stand alone.

The good that shall be to-morrow is the good we can see to-day.

No man is true to the truth of to-day who does not press beyond it.

A lot of faith in eternal damnation has come out of present bad digestion.

When your religion is nothing but listening it hears nothing from heaven.

The amount of any man's possessions depends on his powers of appreciation.

Faith is the power to discount the toil of the night by the promise of the day.

Live the ethics of Christianity and its arguments will take care of themselves.

You never will move the world toward heaven by going through the motions of religion.

You have no power to help mankind until its sins move you to compassion rather than to condemnation.

It is easy shutting our eyes to the brother who is down when our hungry hands are going out to those who are up.

Many a man who has always guarded the door of his lips will look small when the door of his heart is opened.

IMPORTANCE OF BIRDS.

So great is the part played by birds in disseminating seeds and in protecting plants by the destruction of noxious insects that Mr. H. W. Henshaw reaches the somewhat astonishing conclusion that if all birds were exterminated, not only would successful agriculture become impossible, but the greater part of the vegetation of the earth would eventually be destroyed. A permanent reduction in the bird population, he says, could not but have disastrous consequences.

Henry III. granted a pardon to a woman named Inetta de Balsham, who was suspended from nine o'clock on a Monday, to sunrise of Thursday, and afterwards "came to." Dr. Plot tells of a Swiss who was hung up thirteen times without effect, on account of the peculiar condition of his windpipe, it having been converted into bone by disease.

Annie Green, a servant-girl, was hanged at Oxford in 1650, and recovered fourteen hours afterwards under a doctor's treatment. Mrs. Cope, who was hanged at the same place eight years later, also recovered. On September 2nd, 1724, Margaret Dickson was hanged at Edinburgh, and recovered while being carried to the grave. She lived for many years afterwards, and was universally known as "Half-hanged Maggy Dickson."

A housebreaker named Smith was hanged at Tyburn in 1705. A reprieve came when he had been suspended a quarter of an hour. He was cut down, bled, and revived. William Duell, hanged in London in 1740, revived and was transported. A man hanged in Cork in 1765 was taken in hand by a physician, who brought him round in six hours, and we are told the fellow had the nerve to attend a theatrical performance the same evening.

Richard Johnson, hanged at Shrewsbury, October 3rd, 1696, obtained a promise from an undersheriff to place him in the coffin without changing his clothes. After hanging half an hour he still showed signs of life, and on examination it was found he had wrapped cords about his body connected with hooks at the neck which prevented the rope from doing its work. The apparatus was removed and the man hanged effectively.

It may be offered in explanation of the cases mentioned that there was no drop used at executions in those days, the culprit usually suffering asphyxia without the cerebral column being broken.

NATURE NOTES.

A giant blue crab of Japan measures twelve feet across the nippers.

The gray and black Agrippina moth of Brazil is thirteen inches from wing tip to wing tip.

A good gamecock has no white in its plumage, and hence the synonym for cowardice—"to show the white feather."

The starfish, netted, commits suicide. It dissolves into many pieces, which escape through the meshes of the net. Then a kind of resurrection takes place, each piece growing into a perfect starfish.

The peniophthalmus, or walking fish, inhabits the South Pacific. At low tide it may be seen promenading the lonely white coral beaches on two shimmering yellow-scaled legs, in search of sand crabs.

LONDON'S BUSY SPOTS.

The Marble Arch, Hyde Park, was not designed to stand amid its present surroundings. It was erected originally at a cost of £80,000 as the main entrance gateway to Buckingham Palace and was intended to bear an equestrian statue of George IV. by Chantrey. It is situated at one of the busiest points in London. 29,320 vehicles passed it in one day. On the same day 27,768 vehicles passed Charing Cross, and 27,523 passed the Bank.

only way in which it is possible for us to take advantage of them is to be up to the minute, with hands ready and mind alert to seize the chance for which we have been waiting. The best way in which we can prepare for this possibility is to keep busy. If we have enough to do we have little time for either introspection or retrospection, and as both are fatal to our happiness the "something to do" that leaves no time for such mental dissipations is certainly a necessary ingredient in this prescript. But, then, in addition to all there must be some one for us to love, some one who can draw us out of the shell of selfishness and make us take a genuine interest in life, for the selfish man can know no true happiness. To be really happy we must do for others, we must think of others and make their interests our own. Many a man and woman has learned that in this condition there is a remedy for countless ills—a remedy that is more effective than any that the druggist can compound. Thus, it is in doing for others that one is able to escape from his own chains. It is in thinking about the needs of others that he is able to forget his own woes. It is in helping others to find happiness that he is able to discover that blessing for himself. The loveless man may be a rich man, or a successful man, so far as the material viewpoint is concerned but when you find a being who is living without love you will have located a soul that is unhappy.

Yes, it is a good prescription—a clean conscience, work to do, and some one to love. It is unnecessary to search for other ingredients. Procure these things for yourself, and you will have no further need to complain about your unhappiness.

ANIMALS IN COURT.

The Irish terrier which exhibited its tricks the other day at the Westminster Police Court is by no means the first animal which has relieved the tedium of an English court of law by its antics. In a Manchester police-court a baboon, which appeared in the dock with its owner on a charge of breaking into a fowl-house, showed its contempt of the Court by stealing and chewing up peas under the very nose of the magistrate. At a London court 109 frogs were produced in evidence; in another case a porcupine was exhibited on the witness-table of a county court to show whether or not the animal was worth the money claimed for it; while among other animals which have made similar unconventional appearances in recent years have been cats, monkeys, and a baby lion.

WORLD'S BIGGEST HOTEL.

Chicago is planning to build the biggest hotel in the world. This is the new La Salle Hotel, to be erected at La Salle and Madison streets. With the furnishings, the hotel will represent an investment of approximately $3,000,000, and with the land, which was leased on the basis of a value of $2,500,000, the total will run up to $6,000,000. The building will be twenty-two storeys high, with two basements, and will have 1,172 rooms.

It's much easier to pray for forgiveness than to fight against temptation.

A QUALIFIED LAMENT.

By a Man Who Seems Cheerful
Though His Wants Not Filled.

"As I look back," said a man upon whose head now quite some years have fallen, "my only regret is that I was born with refined tastes, with an appreciation of the beautiful, with a love for all things graceful and good. For I have not so fixed that I could satisfy these longings."

"Now if, so to say, I had been born rich as well as handsome it would have been all right; but unfortunately for me poverty was my lot, as far as money is concerned, and so I have had high tastes and aspirations without the means of satisfying them; and I think I might have enjoyed life more if I had been made of coarser clay."

"You take, for instance, the matter of food. I like good things to eat and good cooking; and though I am naturally of a tranquil temperament and possessed always of a good appetite, yet food poorly cooked and poorly served always disturbs me greatly."

"But on the other hand do we not find plenty of people who rise from a dinner however cooked and served contented and happy? And I often wonder if it would not have been better for me if I had been born with that disposition."

"Take pictures. I like good paintings and should be glad if I could adorn my house with such but as it is my walls are bare, while those who find delight in simple chromos have walls well filled. And would it not have been better for me if my tastes had run that way? And you take works of art various: I like vases that would cost $1,500 apiece, while many are satisfied with what they can get at the '5 and 10.' And would it not have been better for me if I had been like them?"

"And I think I could enjoy a motor car, though I ride, perchance, in the people's automobile. And I know I should like a yacht—and I'd be satisfied with about a forty-five foot sloop for a starter—but I have to ride in a steamboat common to all. And my clothes get shiny, and I wish I had more money for clothes."

"In fact, there's a whole lot of things that I'd like to have and that I'd much enjoy, but that I can't have for lack of money, and so as I look back I sometimes wonder if it would not have been better for me if I had been born with an appreciation less keen for the beautiful. And yet I don't know."

"As a certain powerful writer once remarked, it is better to be a might have been than a never was; and I don't know, after all, but what I agree with him; for it is some pleasure to me to think that I could have enjoyed these things if they had come my way."

ENGLISH FROM TOKIO.

An Englishman Annoyed His Neighbors by Keeping Geese.

Though the Japanese have borrowed many things from us they do not seem to have mastered our language as yet, as the following letter shows. It was received by an Englishman who resided in the native quarter of Tokio. He had annoyed his neighbors by keeping geese, which disturbed the calm of the place, and they accordingly resolved to send a protest to him. This letter was the result of their

WORK OF CIRCUS PEOPLE

ORGANIZATION HAS DEFINITE DUTIES FOR ALL.

Dinner Ready for Employees Forty Minutes after Cook Waggon arrives.

The system under which the employees of a circus work is as nearly perfect as it can be made. Each man has his especial duty—one hoists poles, another unfuris canvas, and so on, each one becoming so familiar with his work that he could accomplish it with his eyes shut if necessity arose; and in an incredibly short time, from what looks to the outsider as hopeless chaos and confusion, a tented city rises like magic. With the arrival of the tent and stake wagon, the boss canvas man walks over the site selected, with tape measure in hand, and at intervals indicates the places for the supporting iron tent poles to be driven. Each pole is marked with a little colored flag fluttering on the top, and these flags are the distinguishing marks for the canvas-men who follow the tents. There are ten or twelve of them when all is done. One long tent, straw carpeted and canvas stalled, holds the several hundred splendid horses belonging to the circus. A smaller tent holds the performing horses.

THE ANIMALS IN CAGES.

And the giraffes and camels and elephants have a tent to themselves; then there are the dressing-rooms, the dining-tent, tents for the blacksmith, the harness maker, the wardrobe matron, the circus barber, and for those of many other callings necessary to the little travelling circus world, all of which must be protected from the sun or rain.

Thirty-nine minutes after the cook wagon reaches the grounds the kitchen has been set up, the dining-room is not only made ready, but also tables are set and the doors are thrown open to the 1,500 employees. "If it takes longer than 40 minutes to set up the dining tent and serve breakfast or dinner, there is trouble in store for someone," said the chief commissary of a circus; "but we pride ourselves on having everything ship-shape in 39." The first thing done is to set up the ranges and start the coffee caldrons to boiling. The fresh meat and bread that have been contracted for in advance are delivered on the spot, the butcher falls to work, and in less time than it takes to tell it the odor of frying bacon and the aroma of coffee are floating out on the morning air to encourage the tent workers.

THE GENERAL ARRANGEMENT

Of the tables in the dining department is like that in a ship. A number of long tables stretch the entire length of the tent, and one table at the end is set crosswise. This latter is for the manager of the show and his business staff. The freaks occupy a table by themselves, members of families and troupes are seated together, and efforts are made to make it as pleasant as possible for all concerned.

It is seldom that the entire force of employees sit down to the tables at the same time. The dining tent is open 2½ hours for each meal, and

CHILDREN ADOPTED BY ROYALTY.

Make Themselves Responsible for the Future of the Youngsters.

The interest which the Princess of Wales recently exhibited in the welfare of little Alice Steele, a former inmate of the Village Home at Alderstone, founded in memory of Her Royal Highness's mother, the late Duchess of Teck, has been the subject of considerable comment. The Princess not only sent her protege presents from India during the Royal tour, but has now caused the little girl to be removed from the Village Home and sent to a good school, and, furthermore, has promised to provide for her future.

The role of fairy godmother thus taken up by the Princess of Wales reminds one that the Czarina, the Queen of Holland, and the German Empress have each practically adopted several children, and made themselves responsible for the education and future of the youngsters. Three of the Czarina's "adoptions" are children of officers killed in the war with Japan, while the German Empress, who has caused many homes for poor and destitute women and children to be established throughout the country over which her husband reigns, has specially adopted an orphan brother and sister whose parents were burnt to death in an hotel fire in Berlin.

Possessing no children of her own, the Queen of Holland lavishes a great deal of affection on two little girls, Pauline and Helena Verbek, the children of one of her husband's aides-de-camp, who, about three years ago, was killed while trying to save the life of a certain lady of the Court whose horse had bolted. The aide-de-camp managed to stop the horse, but received such injuries that he died shortly afterwards. Queen Wilhelmina was so affected by the man's bravery that, hearing that his two children, whose mother had died some time previously, were left ill-provided for, she took them into the Royal Household, and has practically adopted them as her own, although, of course, they do not enjoy any of those Royal privileges which would fall to a child of her own.

The ultimate fate of these Royal protégés is not always a happy one, judging by that of Countess Larisch, who, at an early age, was adopted by the ill-fated Empress Elizabeth of Austria. The Countess was really the Empress's niece, being the daughter of Duke Louis of Bavaria by his morganatic marriage with the actress Henrietta Mendel. The latter received, on the occasion of her marriage, the title of Baroness Wallsee, and this was also accorded to the child which she bore to the Duke, and who was christened Marie.

This child was brought up almost entirely by the Empress at the Court of Austria, and ultimately married Count George Larisch. Unfortunately, the Countess's extravagance led her into conduct which resulted in her being forced to leave Austria and deprived of her rank as Lady of the Palace.

Far more fortunate has been the fate of the Austrian Empress's other adopted child, Aglae, Princess of Auersperg, who, born within a few weeks of the Empress's youngest and favorite daughter, the Archduchess Valerie, was brought up with the latter at Court. Princess

WONDERS OF WIRELESS

LATEST EXPERIMENTS TOLD BY MARCONI.

One Enables Ship to Determine Position of Other Vessel Sending Messages.

That wireless telegraphy has not yet exhausted its store of wonders and surprises was proved in an interesting talk with Mr. Marconi at his London office recently.

The tall, athletic, well-groomed young man, greets you in breezy fashion, and in such perfect English that his Italian name is forgotten, and you remember only that his mother was Irish.

"Oh, yes," he said, "I'll tell you what I'm trying to do, and what are my hopes, but please don't let us have too much of the I—I—I."

BOTH DIRECTIONS AT ONCE.

"Most people know all about the regular service which the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company is now maintaining across the Atlantic. It began in October last with the exchange of messages between King Edward and Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, and we are now sending about 2,000 words across daily.

"We can send twenty-four words a minute across the Atlantic, or forty-eight when we can use the duplex system. But at present we can only send messages one way at a time. If an operator tried to send a message across while he was receiving one there would be great confusion, one man firing against another"—and Mr. Marconi waved his hand to suggest a grand collision of language in mid-Atlantic.

"But lately I have been experimenting with apparatus which will enable us to send a message in both directions at once. The experiments have been quite successful over a distance of three or four miles at Poole, in Dorsetshire, and I anticipate equal success before long across the Atlantic.

CAN DETERMINE POSITION.

"That is one of my latest experiments. Another is to enable a ship approaching the shore, or another ship in a fog, to determine exactly the position of the wireless station on shore or the course of the other ship. You can see, of course, how it will help a navigator if he is able to know, not only that another ship is approaching, but the exact angle the course of that ship makes with his own.

"It is perhaps a little difficult to explain the idea to the general reader but here it is roughly," and Mr. Marconi sketched rapidly on his blotting pad while he spoke.

"We get, you see, a screen with a small hole in the centre. This is turned about in the direction from which the other ship, or the shore station, is known to be telegraphing, until the ringing of a bell, caused by the waves entering the hole in the screen, shows that the exact direction from which the wave is coming has been ascertained.

"I shall be carrying out experiments on these lines in the Mersey in a few weeks. The idea is being specially welcomed by shipping authorities on the St. Lawrence River, where fog so often hinders navigation.

an Englishman who resided in the native quarter of Tokio. He had annoyed his neighbors by keeping geese, which disturbed the calm of the place, and they accordingly resolved to send a present to him. This letter was the result of their labors:

"Tokio, Jan. 1st, 1858.
"Mr. John Benington.

"Dear Sir.—We have already twice written of your hateful geese, with very unacceptable unbearable, uncommon, uncouth, unquiet, and very loud voice. Your hateful geese cry in ugly and stormy manner. Therefore, whenever your hateful geese cry, our childs are afraid and trembled with wonder. In that consequence the healthy of our childs is very injured.

"At the same time, we are awakened from very early morning, and must hear of the hateful, unquiet, unlikable, ugly, loud voice of your uninteresting geese.

"Whenever your geese cry quietly, we all can think no thought. It is frequent that the thought made is partly trampled down by your hateful and unquiet voice of your geese.

"Since you brought the geese, we all have no case to think thought except in the night.

"We and our childs are extraordinarily injured, both material and abstract. Kill your hateful geese. Kill your geese or carry away them to the distant place, and do to make us not be injured by their hateful and unquiet voice. If you do not satisfy our want, we all shall injure you in return too.—Yours faithfully,

"ALL NEIGHBORS."

A man must indeed be hardened to ignore such a fervent appeal; yet, sad to state, the geese are still there, though now and again one comes to an untimely and suspicious end.

MOST PROFITABLE ACRES.

Small Plot of Cultivated Ground in Tibet That Yields $15,000.

The possibilities of profitable gardening in England are exemplified by an acre of land cultivated on the French system of intensive culture, which in the last completed year is said to have yielded £625 in gross returns, says the Westminster Gazette.

This probably constitutes a record for England, the nearest approach known to the writer being an acre of land, the property of a seedsman on the Great Western line between London and Oxford, which has yielded in one year flower seeds to the value of £270.

In Samoa £60 to £80 is the average yield an acre of land planted in cocoa; in Georgia £80 worth of eggplants have been picked from a single acre, and pineapple farms in the West Indies often pay as much as £100 an acre.

Such yields as these, however, are trivial compared with that of an acre of vineyard in the Moselle wine growing district which was sold a few years ago for nearly £24,000, and which produces a crop worth £2,500; or with that acre of land in Tibet on which grows the sacred "tree of a thousand images" the leaves of which yield an annual revenue exceeding £3,000.

CO-OPERATION.

Parke—You keep a joint bank account with your wife, don't you?

Lane—I deposit the money and she draws it out.

seated together, and efforts are made to make it as pleasant as possible for all concerned.

It is seldom that the entire force of employees sit down to the tables at the same time. The dining tent is open 2½ hours for each meal, and the performers struggle along as they choose. Divided from the officers' and performers' mess tent is that of the 1,000 tent hands or roustabouts, as they are generally called. The food served to both tents is the same, and consists of good, wholesome fare—roast beef, baked potatoes, vegetables, salads and desserts, with a change of menu every day, and the food cooked in the open air is peculiarly delicious and appetizing.

COST OF THE OCCUPATION.

Don't Forget Any Honest Work of Future Humanity.

It is always wished to treat lightly any honest occupation in which another must earn his living. A man could one day in a little shop where souvenirs and trinkets were sold and watched the different persons who came up to the counter to examine the goods. A young woman behind the counter was doing her best to serve her customers satisfactorily and to give them the best her little stock afforded. To thousands of persons, doubtless, the little stock of novelties had an interest which warranted the conduct of the business. One couple he observed came up to the counter and cast a hasty glance over the stock. The salesgirl's face lighted up with interest as she stepped forward to serve them. The woman then turned to her husband, and, with a look of utter disdain for the little stock of trinkets, walked on, remarking aloud so both customers and the girl could hear it, "There's nothing here I'd have as a gift." The girl's face fell, and she seemed saddened. Others might walk on in their supercilious superiority, but she must remain and earn her living by selling those little trinkets to such as wanted them.

The observer could not help thinking how this spirit of disrespect for the humbler work of another has wounded the feelings of unnumbered workers and made them lose respect for the tasks at which they must earn their living.

CHEAP LIVING.

Owing to the abundance and cheapness of meat in Australia, restaurant-keepers have for years been able to give astonishingly liberal meals for 12 cents. But they are not satisfied with the margin of profit, and they have decided in conference to raise the price to 14 cents. One of the reasons assigned for this step is the "abnormal appetites" of their customers. It is the hospitable custom in Australian popular restaurants not to charge for a second helping of anything, and you can have as many cups of tea as you please after having paid for the first one. It is the freedom with which this privilege is exercised that cuts down the profits of proprietors of 12 cent restaurants.

COULDN'T TELL.

"Pa, is it better to be born lucky or rich?"

"I don't know. I've never been either."

rate of the Austrian Empress's other adopted child, Aglae, Princess of Auersperg, who, born within a few weeks of the Empress's youngest and favorite daughter, the Archduchess Valerie, was brought up with the latter at Court. Princess Aglae is now happily married to Count Kinsky, Master of the House and Chamberlain to the Emperor.—London Tit-Bits.

A FAMOUS HOSPITAL.

Every Three Minutes a Serious Case Enters the Receiving Hall.

Some idea of the enormous amount of cases required to support the London Hospital can be gained when it is mentioned that since it was founded over 6,000,000 patients have been relieved, and during the past five years the wards have contained a daily average of 1,000 cases. For a century or more the great Receiving Hall, the hospital "atrium," through which the constant stream of suffering humanity is sorted into the various wards, has been open day and night. On an average a serious case enters this hall every three minutes, week in, week out, and every twenty-four hours forty-eight patients are put under anaesthetics in the operating theatres. Figures such as these drive home the magnitude of the work.

For instance, it is estimated that of catgut, which is used in tying up arteries, an average of one mile per week is used. One million five hundred thousand pills, a ton of cough lozenges, a hundred miles of sticking-plaster, and 3,000 leeches are required every twelve months. Then, again, no fewer than 10,000 codfish are consumed. If the patients of last year had been placed side by side they would have formed a line approaching a hundred miles in length. Another little point—one which shows the vast difference that small changes entail in so huge a place. An extra pat of butter for each nurse increases the expenditure by £150 a year. It costs nearly a penny per second to run this great hospital, and it is undoubtedly one of the best conducted and most efficient institutions in the world.

SENSITIVE PLANTS.

There are plants so sensitive that if when standing by them, you should suddenly put up your umbrella or sunshade, it would be quite sufficient to cause them instantly to close together their leaflets and turn down their leaf-stalks, just as if they were startled and alarmed by the movement. Indeed, on a sunny day, when the temperature is sufficiently high, you need not make even so decided a movement; merely your shadow coming in contact with their leaves will often cause them to fall slightly.

BLOODHOUND TRACKING.

The bloodhound does not necessarily follow blood. He hunts what is technically termed "the clean boot." That is, the hound follows the trail of the hunted person without any adventitious aid, and it is the possession and gradual development of this particular quality which makes him so interesting a possession to the sportsman, and renders bloodhound tracking a sport in which large parties can engage with all the pleasure of the chase.

I shall be carrying out experiments on these lines in the Mersey in a few weeks. The idea is being specially welcomed by shipping authorities on the St. Lawrence River, where fog so often hinders navigation.

NO WIRES TO CUT.

At present the trans-Atlantic service, from Clifden, Ireland, to Glace Bay, Nova Scotia, a distance of 2,300 miles, is our longest regular system, but I see no reason why the most distant parts should not be thus connected, and to a country like Great Britain, with her far-off colonies, the possibilities are enormous.

In undeveloped lands, too, like Africa, its future seems assured. One of its great advantages is that there are no wires to cut. The cutting of telegraph wires by savage or half-civilized tribes, out of ignorance or mischief, has always been a difficulty. In China, too, where we have five stations, this same point holds good, especially in view of the fact that superstitious dread of shadows falling on ancestral graves has often led to the removal of wires and poles. Think, too, of the anxiety that we should have been spared if the besieged Legations in Pekin a few years ago could have communicated with the allied European fleets by a system which no wire-cutting could hinder.

ITALY TO BUY STATION.

At the present time a bill is before the Italian Parliament for the purchase by the Government of the Marconi station at Bari, near Brindisi, which communicates with Montenegro across the Adriatic. In his speech, the Minister for posts and telegraphs said that this station had, in its three years' working, given proof of its efficiency and reliability, and he proposed its purchase with every confidence. This testimony to our system is, of course, very gratifying.

Then with a sigh over the fact that business cares had for some time kept him from his beloved experiments, to which he will shortly return, Mr. Marconi brought the interview to a close.

FOUND SKELETONS AND GOLD.

Underground Stronghold Contains Hundreds of Skeletons.

Great excitement has been caused at Serra Daire, in southern Portugal, by the discovery of an underground Moorish stronghold, which is said to be rich in treasure.

The stronghold consists of a very extensive series of underground passages and chambers, including living quarters, stables and storehouses, and it was undoubtedly constructed at the time that the Moors were being hard pressed by the Portuguese, who held the northern portion of the country.

Hundreds of skeletons have been found, and a great store of ancient weapons, including daggers, swords and scimitars, many of which are studded with precious stones.

Great stores of gold and silver coins have also been found, and large numbers of people are working feverishly day and night.

THE WAY OUT OF IT.

Amateur Dressmaker—This skirt is a great trouble to me; there is not enough stuff for the hem.

Facetious Friend—Then why not ~~be~~ ~~face~~ your trouble?

For that Dandruff

There is one thing that will cure it—Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is a regular scalp-medicine. It quickly destroys the germs which cause this disease. The unhealthy scalp becomes healthy. The dandruff disappears, had to disappear. A healthy scalp means a great deal to you—healthy hair, no dandruff, no pimples, no eruptions.

The best kind of a testimonial—
"Sold for over sixty years."

Made by J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
Also manufacturers of SARSAPARILLA, PILLS,
CHERRY PECTORAL.

Ayer's

is, therefore, between the period up to May 31 and that after June 10.

In the former period $15,000,000 of the main estimates were voted and passed, $7,000,000 voted but not passed. In the latter $31,000,000 of the main estimates were passed and $26,000,000 voted, but not passed. In the former period of five months the motion to go into supply was obstructed three times by Liberals, who had reports to make or important projects to discuss, and thirty-five times by Conservatives; and on only four occasions did the House go into committee of supply forthwith. In the latter period of four weeks the House went into supply forthwith nine times, and on only three occasions was a motion to go into supply obstructed or delayed.

From November 28 to May 31 the House of Commons passed only one measure of first class importance, namely, the French treaty. Since June 10 the House has passed three bills of first class importance, namely, the Civil Service, the Railway, and the Bank bills.

The House of Commons has done at least three times as much work in the last four weeks as it did in the first five months of the session.

The Opposition kept the House two months over the vote of $900,000 for ocean and river service, and they harassed the Minister of Public Works over estimates of less than double that amount, for about six weeks. They began the session with an organized campaign to bring discredit on the Liberal ministry. The first move was to demand free access to the various departments of government, so that they might overhaul the records of public business. Failing in this, they next claimed the right to have brought before the House, to become part of its record, the records of the department. The government met the demand willingly by offering to produce before the House or any of its committees any records or documents which any member of the Opposition might state he had some good reason for wishing to see. On these terms several hundred files were brought down and examined in the House and before the Public Accounts Committee. Meantime they were piling up charges of fraud and corruption, which the papers, as they were brought down, and the investigations as they were proceeded with, failed to justify. Mr. Foster drew special attention to the expenses of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries to the Colonial Conference. The expenses for this trip to England had not been voted when Sir Wilfrid Laurier and he went away, and Mr. Brodeur, as he was going to Europe to see about an ice breaker, took his expenses out of the icebreaker vote, returning the money when he received his Colonial Conference appropriation. Mr. Foster said Mr. Brodeur had stolen the money from the ice-breaker vote, and the House was kept sitting continuously from Thursday to Saturday night. Then it was shown that Mr. Foster, when a minister, had taken travelling expenses from a vote for commercial agencies, and as travelling expenses were not the purpose of the vote, the Liberals of that day had asked for an explanation. Mr. Foster had replied that he knew travelling expenses were not the purpose of the appropriation, but it did not matter, as the counter had to pay anyway. On this being brought to his attention, Mr. Foster withdrew the word stolen and the farce came to an end. Opposition to the ocean and river vote was withdrawn, and after two months of needless delay it finally passed.

Next came an attack on the Government's policy and methods of disposing of timber limits. Collusion

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chat H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulence. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chat H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY

The Farmer's Wife

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true

CUSTOMS REGULATIONS RESPECTING THE FREE ADMISSION OF ANIMALS FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF STOCK.

On July 1st there came into effect new regulations regarding the custom entry of animals imported into Canada for the improvement of stock. Heretofore all certificates of registration which were apparently genuine were accepted by custom officers for the purpose of free entry. Under the new regulations either a Canadian certificate of registration or an import certificate as the case may be must be presented.

Canadian certificates of registration must be presented at the Port of Entry for the following classes and breeds,—

CATTLE—Shorthorn, Ayrshire, Hereford, French Canadian, Galloway, Aberdeen-Angus, Red Polled, Jersey, Guernsey and Holstein.

HORSES—Clydesdale, Hackney, Shire, Percheron, Thoroughbred Belgian and French Canadian.

PONIES—Shetland, Welsh, New Forest, Polo, and Riding, Exmoor, Connemara and Hackney.

SWINE—Yorkshire, Berkshire, Tamworth, Chester White, Poland China, Duroc Jersey, Essex and Victoria.

SHEEP—Shropshire, Lincoln, Ox-

60 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Any one sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS & C.

Among sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain the original source which is an inviolable and absolutely confidential. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms for Canada, $3.75 a year, postage prepaid. Sold by all leading bookstores.

MUNN & CO. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

BEFORE AND AFTER TREATMENT.

Canadian Tetterine is an absolute, certain cure for Eczema, Acne Rosea, Tetter, Pimples, Blackheads, Ringworts, Barbers' Ich, Seald Head, Herping Piles, Ulcers, sores, and cutaneous eruptions of all kinds. Has been thoroughly and successfully tested in hundreds of so called incurable cases.

It is entirely unlike any other preparation, mixture or ointment that has been sold or prescribed.

A few applications will convince that it has wonderful medical virtue and intrinsic merit.

It is made in Canada. A good honest Canadian preparation.

Price one box Fifty Cents, or five boxes Two Dollars.

Mailed to any address on receipt of price.

Sold and recommended by all leading Drugists in Canada.

Pamphlet free to any address.

Manufactured and sold by the sole proprietors.

The Tetterine Chemical Co.
Windsor, Ontario.

Sold in Napanee by F. L. Hooper, T. E. Wallace, T. A. Huffman and J. P. Lawrence, Druggists.

AN ANALYSIS OF OBSTRUCTION

Three months ago the Opposition in the House of Commons gloried in obstructing the business of the country. To-day they try to deny that they were ever guilty of such a wicked thing. But it is in the altered behaviour of to-day that we have the best proof of their intention in the earlier months of the session.

The session can be divided into three easily distinguishable periods. The first is the obstruction and slander period, from November 28 to May 31, when the Opposition were lavish with insinuations of graft and corruption, followed by dramatic assertions that there should be no supplies until "grievances were redressed," backed up with spectacular all-night sittings. The second was the provincial election period, from June 1 to June 10, during which affairs came to a crisis and the Opposition began to realize that, in keeping public servants without pay and contractors without work, they were likely to become very unpopular. The third is the business period from June 11 to the present. The second was a transition period, during which the Opposition was undergoing the change of heart. The true comparison and after two months of needless delay it finally passed.

Next came an attack on the Government's policy and methods of disposing of timber limits. Collusion was charged between J. G. Turriff, late commissioner of Dominion lands, and T. A. Burrows, a frequently successful tenderer. The transactions, which Mr. Burrows had with the Department of Interior in respect of timber berths took place before 1904, when Mr. Turriff was commissioner. Mr. Turriff opened the tenders, and it was alleged that he opened them alone, under suspicious circumstances, and gave Mr. Burrows secret information. The Public Accounts Committee held an inquiry, extending over six days, and it was shown that Mr. Turriff opened the tenders in the presence of his secretary, at the time specified for opening them. In the aggregate, Mr. Burrows' tenders were 21 per cent, above those of the next highest bidders. The attack failed completely. The subject occupied six full days in the House of Commons, there references to it on five other days, and the Public Accounts Committee spent six days in upon it.

The original documents agitation, which related to this subject as well as to others, occupied some five days in the House of Commons, and it came upon a half dozen other occasions.

The Government's immigration policy was next attacked. It was alleged that bonuses were paid on all immigrants, instead of only farmers, farm laborers, railway construction men and domestic servants; and further, that the bonuses were paid irrespective of whether the people stayed in Canada or went to the United States. There was also an insinuation that there were people at the back of the bonus, who got a "graft" out of it. The last point was never pushed beyond nominations. The system of giving the bonus was investigated in the Agriculture and Colonization Committee. Witnesses were called, and it was shown that on only the selected classes mentioned were bonuses paid to the booking agents, and that there was an arrangement, made with the United States immigration officers on the international boundary, whereby the names of those who settled across the border were obtained by the Dominion Immigration Department. If any of the bonused immigrants went across, they were noted and entered up against the booking agent's account and the sums deducted from the next

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We the undersigned have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists Toledo, O.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Since the time of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Tamworth, Chester White, Poland China, Duroc Jersey, Essex and Victoria.

SHEEP—Shropshire, Lincoln, Oxford Down, Dorset, South Down, Hampshire and Leicester.

The Canadian Records for all above mentioned breeds with the exception of that for Holstein Cattle are conducted under the Canadian National System in the office of the Canadian National Records, Ottawa. The Holstein Records is located at St George, Ont. In making application for the registration of an imported animal the foreign certificate of registration in addition to the usual application must be forwarded.

There are from time to time animals imported into Canada of breeds for which there are no Canadian Records but which are recorded in Books of Record of one of the following recognized foreign Associations.

HORSES—Suffolk Horse Society (Great Britain); Cleveland Bay Horse Society of Great Britain and Ireland; Yorkshire Coach Horse Society of Great Britain and Ireland; American Morgan Register Association; American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association; American Trotting Horse Register Association; Commission des Agriculteurs de France (French draft); Commission des Stud Book des Chevaux de Demi (French Coach) Landwirtschaftlichen Hauptverein fur Ostseelands, (German Coach); Zuchtvverband des Sudlichen Zucht ebietes, (German Coach); Verband der Zuchter des Oldesburger eleganten Schweren Kutschpferdes, (German Coach); Verband der Pferdezuchter in den Holsteinchen Merschell, (Oldenburg)

CATTLE—Highland Cattle Society of Scotland, Kerry and Dexter Herd Book (Dublin, Ireland); Sussex Herd Book Society (Great Britain); Polled Durham Breeders' Association (United States); National Polled Hereford Breeders' Association (United States).

SWINE—Large Black Pig Society (Great Britain)

SHEEP—Suffolk Sheep Society (Great Britain); Kent and Romney Marsh Sheep Breeders' Association (Great Britain); Cheviot Sheep Society (Great Britain); Wensleydale Long-wool Sheep Breeders' Association (Great Britain); Black Face Sheep Association (Great Britain)

GOATS—British Goat Society.

ASSES—Societe Centrale d'Agriculture des Deux Sevres (France) Stud Books of Jacks and Jennets of Spain.

Tortured with Skin Rash

Zam-Buk Brought Relief.

At this time of the year children are liable to all kinds of torturing rashes and eruptions, and the advice of Mrs. F. Rowe of 1 Oxford St. London, Ont., is timely. She says:—"A horrid rash broke out on my little boy's body. The child suffered acutely with the burning and itching and grew quite restless. A friend advised me to try Zam-Buk. I did so, and was surprised to see how quickly it cleared away the rash. The very first application seemed to cool and ease the burning and itching, making the child rest easier." In several days he was completely cured, not a mark remaining on the skin to show where the trouble had been. Zam-Buk is the best healing balm yet used."

All druggists and stores, 50 cents box or Zam-Buk Co. Toronto, for price.

That hacking cough continues

Because your system is exhausted and your power of resistance weakened.

Take Scott's Emulsion.

It builds up and strengthens your entire system.

It contains Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites so prepared that it is easy to take and easy to digest.

ALL DRUGGISTS: 50c. AND $1.00

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bear the Signature of Char. H. Fletcher

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does! It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets "ALL DEALERS"

To secure free custom entry for an animal so recorded it is necessary to forward to the Canadian National Records, Ottawa, the foreign certificate of registration. The Accountant of the Canadian National Records will return to the importer the foreign certificate to which will be attached an import certificate which will be authority to the custom officer to admit the animal duty free. A nominal charge will be made by the National Record for this service.

If future information is desired such will be supplied on application to the "ACCOUNTANT" National Live Stock Records, Ottawa.

Heat prostrates the nerves. In the summer one needs a tonic to off-set the customary hot weather Nerve and Strength depression. You will feel better within 48 hours after beginning to take such a remedy as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Its prompt action in restoring the weakened nerves is surprising. Of course, you won't get entirely strong in a few days, but each day you can actually feel the improvement. That tired, lifeless, spiritless, feeling will quickly depart when using the Restorative. Dr. Shoop's Restorative will sharpen a failing appetite; it aids digestion; it will strengthen the weakened Kidneys and Heart by simply rebuilding the worn-out nerves that these organs depend upon. Test it a few days and be convinced. Sold by—ALL DEALERS.

MYSTERY OF DREAMS

Whence Come the Warning Visitors We See in Sleep?

TWO VERY PUZZLING CASES.

One Where Mother and Son Both Got Tidings of Disaster at the Same Time and One Where a Child Saw Her Father Saved in a Shipwreck.

Out of 149 dreams of a very striking kind investigated by one of the leading psychic research societies no fewer than seventy-nine related to a death, and perhaps the rarest of all these dreams is the case where two persons dreamed the same thing on the same night, and the episode came true. This striking instance is reported by the Rev. R. B. Elrington:

"A woman parishioner of mine," he says, "whose husband was a fisherman, at that time on the sea, dreamed one night in terribly vivid fashion that his little craft had been cut in two by the towering steel bows of a great liner. Her eldest son was with the husband, and as she woke she screamed

"I told her evasively her papa had come home."

"She was not to be denied, however, and asked, with strange persistence, 'Are papa's legs cut?'

"I said they were."

"And the very first thing she said to her father was: 'Why, you didn't have those clothes on when I saw you! The ones you had on were all torn in the shipwreck!'"

Lily Spruit herself furnished a report to the Psychical Research society. She said she woke in terrible fright, having seen every microscopic detail of the shipwreck and its sequel. She saw her father get into the big boat and keep close to his ship for some time. She watched his boat capsize and the boy Allen drown. What woke her, she said, was the howling of the wind about the wreck, and the last she saw was the other men pulling her father back into the waterlogged boat.—William T. Fitz-Gerald in New York Tribune.

THE PLANET JUPITER.

What the Man of Science Has to Say About Its Wonders.

The jolly Jovians are said to be realities and not myths. Not only are there said to be inhabitants on Jupiter, but also on some of his moons, in the midst of which the vast planet, 1,300 times the size of the earth, spins at such tremendous speed that it causes around the equator a furious wind that blows perpetually at the rate of 250 miles an hour. Those who believe in the Jovian say that his height runs from fifty to fifty-five feet and that he exists for about 800 to 1,000 of earth years. The Jupiter year, however, consists of 144 months. The oceans of Jupiter, torn into fury by the hurricanes, would pay no attention to one moon such as moves the tides of our earth, and it takes no fewer than five of these satellites to perform this work for Jupiter. They travel at various rates of speed, some flying close to Jupiter's surface, others far off. They have atmospheres like ours on earth, and a moonlight on Jupiter is indeed a glorious sight, for these moons have a variety of color; two are blue, one is yellow, and one red. Jupiter needs all her moons at night for illumination, for without them her five hours of darkness would be black indeed. So distant is the sun that broad daylight is hardly brighter than twilight on earth, and one lone moon would not reflect enough of the sun's rays to guide the Jovian footsteps.

NAPOLEON'S HABITS.

The Great Warrior Was Fond of Perfume and Clean Linen.

It is pleasant to learn if one has Napoleon I. on the hero list that he had very dainty habits in personal matters; that he was fastidiously clean in his person, according to an article in a French contemporary, and poured eau de cologne into the water he washed in, then sponged his head with perfume and finally poured the remainder of the contents of the flask over his neck and shoulders. He was also extravagantly fond of clean linen and during his campaigns had relays of it sent to different places. In those days it did not cost a farthing to have starched things laundered, for, in account with a famous laundress in Paris, the emperor's linen for one wash amounted to 386 pieces and cost only a trifle over $20.

This strikes an American as very reasonable, but his majesty never wore

Too Easy For Him.

"Sir, I want work."

"Here's a penny. Buy yourself a newspaper."

"But I know nothin' about runnin' a newspaper," protested Tired Tiffins, who really wanted alms.

To thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man.—Shakespeare.

Misnamed.

Towne—Why do you call young Fetherbrane "Cholly?" His first name is Noah.

Browne—Yes, but that's so inappropriate. Noah had sense enough to get in out of the rain.

He who will not reason is a bigot; he who cannot is a fool; he who dares not is a slave.—Byron.

English Army Horses.

Every horse in the English Army is numbered and has a little history kept for it all to himself. The number is branded upon the animal's hind feet—the thousands on the near hind foot and the units, ten and hundreds on the off hind foot. Thus the horse whose number is, say, 8,354 will have an 8 on his left hind foot and 354 on the other one. On what is called his "veterinary history sheet" everything about the horse will from time to time be written.—London Army Journal.

Something Comic.

Brownbigge (to waitress who has handed him a newspaper)—Ain't yer got nothing comic? I likes to have something funny to look at while I'm a-heating. Waitress—There's a looking glass straight in front of you, sir.—London Tit-Bits.

An Unhappy Outlook.

Prospective Tenant—I should want the studio for sculpture. Caretaker—Yes, sir. Some of these is rented for that. There's a sculptor molding next door, sir.

Mutual Reluctance.

"Here is my seat, madam, but candor compels me to say that I think you are as well able to stand as I am."

"Politeness compels me to say 'Thank you, sir.'"

Earnestness is enthusiasm tempered by reason.—Pascal.

Oddfellows'

Excursion

—to—

OTTAWA

Civic Holiday

WEDNESDAY,

August 12, 1908

COPYRIGHT

The Pursuit of Happiness and Comfort completes everyone when suffering with headache, etc., etc., etc., to consult a good honest competent Optician or Oculist. Oculist's charges you do not do and promise to tell you if necessary to go to a specialist.

Most Expert Testing Free.

Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded everytime, bear in mind.

F. CHINNECK, Jeweller

Near Royal Hotel.

HERRINGTON, WARNER & GRANGE,
Barristers, etc.

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOW RATE
OFFICE—Warner Block, Opposite Post Office.

T. B. GERMAN,

Barrister and Solicitor,

MONEY TO LOAN AT LOWEST RATES.

OFFICE : Grange Block, 60½ John Street
26m Napane, Ont.

R. A. LEONARD, M.D., C.P.S.

Physician Surgeon, etc.

Late House Surgeon on the Kingston General Hospital.

Office—North side of Dundas Street, between West and Robert Streets, Napane.

DEROCHE & DEROCHÉ.

H. M. Deroche, K. C., C. C. A.
H. M. P. Deroche, B. A.

Barristers Etc.

MONEY TO LOAN

Mr. H. M. P. Deroche will be in Ten-worth every Wednesday.

W. C. WILSON,

BARRISTER,
Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer, Et
P. O. Box 620. Telephone No. 83.

OFFICE—North Side Dundas Street
Napane, Ont.

DR. C. H. WARTMAY

DENTIST.

It will be impossible for me to continue out of town visits, but if our friends at Yark and Tamworth will do me the favor of coming to my office in Napane, I will do my best to please them. All work guaranteed.

Lax-ets 5 C Sweet to Eat
A Candy Bowel Laxative.

DR. HENNEQUIN'S
TINCTURE
OF
TAR

one night in terribly vivid fashion that his little craft had been cut in two by the towering steel bows of a great liner. Her eldest son was with the husband, and as she woke she screamed out, "Oh, save my boy, my boy!" This was remarkable enough, considering the sequel, but almost at the very moment the poor woman was in her distress, yet still asleep, another son was pounding at her door, half asleep and half awake, and crying, "Oh, mother, where is father?" The terrified woman now rose and let the boy in. He was crying. He told her he had distinctly heard his father's heavy tread coming up the stairs and his ponderous kick with sea boots against the door, as had been his manner when returning abruptly from a long cruise. Next morning the alarmed mother and wife told all the neighbors, and before the day was out the dreadful news came that every detail of her dream was true. The little trawling lugger had been run into by a coasting liner, nearly cut in two and sunk with all hands, including her husband and son."

Premonitory dreams occupy a large part of the psychological records, and the following case is a very puzzling one: A Mrs. Spruit lived at Balmain, one of the suburbs of Sydney, Australia. Her husband was a sea captain in command of the Atacama, a wooden ship of 1,300 tons, which had arrived in Sydney in a leaking state and was picked up cheap by a firm known as Cowlishaw Bros. for $3,500. Twice as much was spent in repairs, and then the Atacama was sent up the coast with a cargo of coal. She delivered this and next set out for San Diego.

But when 500 miles out from Sydney she sprang a leak, and Captain Spruit decided to put back. In spite of the pumps the water gained, and soon there was a depth of eleven feet in the hold. Spruit now resolved to abandon the ship and launch the three boats. The captain himself, with one seaman, the steward, boatswain and an apprentice, was in the twenty-four foot lifeboat, while the rest of the crew, twelve in all, were in the other two boats. Heavy seas were running, and the boats were nearly swamped. As Spruit could not swim, he was nearly drowned. Some of his men were lost. Their situation was indeed fearful in boats half filled with water and exposed to a fierce gale 400 miles from land. Again and again was Spruit washed out, but at last his boat was picked up when its occupants were in the last stages of exhaustion from fatigue, exposure and lack of food. A reporter of the Sydney Morning Herald called to interview the captain and found him barefooted, with terribly swollen legs, covered with severe cuts and bruises.

Now consider Mrs. Spruit's report to the Psychological Research society, which is most remarkable.

"Last Thursday week," she writes, "at 3 o'clock in the morning my thirteen-year-old daughter Lily came into my bedroom and woke me by a tap on my forehead. 'Oh, mamma,' she cried in a breathless whisper, 'I'm so frightened!' I tried to soothe her, but she only covered her face with her hands and whispered trembly: 'Oh, look! My papa's ship is all wrecked! Papa's come home all in rags, with his feet and legs cut, and I see two or three of his men drowned out of the boat!'

"I told Lily sternly it was all nonsense."

"It isn't," she said passionately. "I've seen it in my dream, and I know it's all true!"

"But I coaxed her off to bed. The girl kept worrying about it until the next Sunday. A week after her dream my husband returned, and Lily found me crying when she came in from school."

"Oh, mamma," she cried sharply, "is the Atacama wrecked?"

peror's linen for one wash amounted to 386 pieces and cost only a trifle over $20.

This strikes an American as very reasonable, but his majesty never wore any article but once, and, as he always undressed himself without aid from his valet, his garments were literally cast to the four corners of the room. Napoleon's bill for eau de cologne, however, exceeded the washerwoman's by a large majority. It is a relief to learn that the Little Corporal was so much a dude. Some of his predecessors in the Tuilleries were not blessed with such excellent habits if history is to be relied upon.

To Make Waxed Paper.

This is used for keeping substances which contain either a volatile aromatic ingredient or grease, which would penetrate through ordinary paper. On a flat sheet of copper over a gentle fire place a sheet of paper as a base and then lay a second sheet on the top of the first. Coat this second sheet with yellow of white wax and distribute the latter uniformly over the entire sheet by means of a sponge, exerting a little pressure, till the paper is everywhere transparent and consequently permeated by the wax. If the fire is too feeble, the process will be retarded. Too powerful a flame is still more harmful, as the paper is liable to become brown or black. Stearin may be used instead of wax.—Der Industriose Geschäftsmann.

Sure to Be There.

An old Scotch farmer was lying on what he thought was his deathbed. He began to give orders to his wife about his funeral and the people to be invited. His wife, knowing that he was not dying, paid but little attention to his requests, and this so enraged the farmer that he rose on his elbow and cried out:

"What need I speak? There'll be naething done richt unless I'm there myself!"

His wife, patting him on the shoulder, replied: "Toots, man, Bauldy! Keep yer min' easy. Ye'll be the principal man there."—Glasgow Times.

Where They Gas Away.

Of the late Langdon Smith, the brilliant journalist and author of New York, a Denver reporter narrated anecdotes the other day.

"I remember," he said, "my first visit to Washington. Smith, big and handsome and vivacious, showed me about. From an eminence a great pale dome rose up against the blue sky, the dome of the capitol.

"What is that?" said I.

"That?" said Smith. "Oh, that's the national gas works!"

In One Lesson.

He—Your sister said she couldn't dance.

She—Well, can she?

"Yes; I made her. We hadn't been on the floor a minute when I stepped on her foot. You just ought to have seen her."

SOLID FOOD MEANT AGONY.

Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets cured her Indigestion—made her Stomach strong and well. To-day she eats anything she wishes, enjoys it and suffers no pain.

Mrs. Ellen Butler, 37 Collable street, Toronto, suffered so from Indigestion that for years to put a bit of solid food in her stomach meant agony for hours. She had tried many remedies without any permanent relief, but when she commenced using Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets she immediately improved. After taking three boxes she was able to eat anything without the slightest distress. Sixty tablets, 35 cents.

(25)

Sold by T. B. Wallace

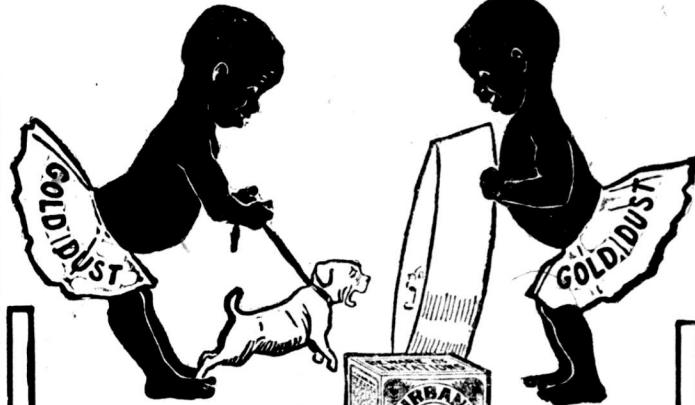

Mrs. R. J. Ego, Ardslee, Ont., Says:

"When baby was seven months old she got very ill with Indigestion and constipation, and kept getting worse, until doctors had no hopes for her recovery, all medicines failed to have any effect. We received a sample package of Hennequin's Infant Tablets. I had not much faith in them, as I had tried so much, but concluded to try them. We gave her one-half one Tablet, and that day we noticed a change for the better. I at once sent for a box; we used them, and the results are most astonishing. We used five boxes, and baby has been a well child for some months, and is fat, hardy and cheerful. I do not feel safe without them. I cannot speak highly of what I know has saved my baby's life, and I wish all mothers whose babies suffer as mine was, to try them. Enclosed please find $1 and for which please mail to my address 6 packages."

DR. HENNEQUIN'S INFANT TABLETS.

Destroy worms, assimilate the food, regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, procure healthy and natural sleep, relieve teething trouble, allay feverishness, cure indigestion, diarrhea, constipation, colic, etc., stop walking in the sleep and frightened awakening from sleep, cure fits, etc. Beyond price for children affected with weak health. Dr. Hennequin's Infant Tablets do not contain morphine, opium or other narcotic properties. 25c per package—postpaid to any address. Send us $1 for 5 boxes and if, after using part or all of one box, you wish your dollar back, you can have it by mailing us the remaining four boxes. We cannot be responsible for money unless sent by P. O. Order, Money Order, or Registered Letter. DOUGLAS & CO., Napanee, Ont., Can., Wholesale Agents for Canada.

"Let the GOLD DUST TWINS do your work!"

The Dog and The Shadow

You remember the fable of the dog who dropped a real bone for its shadow which he saw in the water. Bear in mind that all is not Gold Dust that glitters under the name of washing powder. Don't accept a shadowy substitute; get the real

Gold Dust Washing Powder

with the Gold Dust Twins on the package."

OTHER GENERAL USES FOR GOLD DUST
Scrubbing floors, washing clothes and dishes, cleaning wood-work, or clean, clever, and Stewart, washing away work, cleaning bath room, pipes, etc., and making the best of soap.

Made by THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY, Montreal, P. Q. Makers of FAIR SOAP.

GOLD DUST makes hard water soft

POSITIVELY FREE!

Trial Package Postpaid, "Hennequin's Infant Tablets."

Any Address, Send Post Card. Write your Address plainly.

Hennequin's Infant Tablets

Save Babies' Lives. For Babies and Small Children. (Made in France.)

Dr. Hennequin's Infant Tablets saved our little girl's life. Three doctors said she could not live. The Tablets cured her.—Mrs. E. R. McBRIDE, Napanee, Ont.

My baby was so weak from sickness that he could hardly walk. We thought he would die. We could find nothing to help him. I was given a sample package of three Hennequin Tablets; we used them; I saw a change at once. We secured the Tablets and our baby is same child. They certainly cured my baby and saved his life. I believe them to be the best medicine ever sold for babies. Mothers if your babies are not well take my advice and try these Tablets.—MRS. JAMES RIDDELL, Barrydale, Ont.

We have hundreds of such letters. If the Tablets were not what you need we would not offer to give them away and prepay them. If your baby is not well send for trial package.

Hennequin Tablets have the letter "H" stamped upon them—this is your guarantee.

All dealers, 25c per package, or 5 for $1.00 sent postpaid to any address.

DOUGLAS & CO., wholesale Agents, Napanee, Ont., Can.

Mfrs. of DOUGLAS' EGYPTIAN LINIMENT, Coleman's Paste A. A. A., etc., etc. When writing please mention this paper.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CAN BE HAD IN 25c. TRIAL SIZE

AS WELL AS IN REGULAR 50c.
BOXES.

Everybody Can Afford To Give These Wonderful Tablets a Trial at Least
And Prove Their Value.

"Fruit-a-tives" or "Fruit Liver Tablets," the wonderful medicine made from the juices of ripe fruits, have scored a remarkable success. The demand for them has grown in four years till it now extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Druggists at first bought them in lots of one dozen boxes—to retail for $6.00. Now it is no uncommon thing to receive orders from wholesalers for 100 gross lots (14,400 boxes)—to retail for $7,200.

There is only one reason for this great success—they cure sick people.

But still there are homes where "Fruit-a-tives" have not been tried—homes where they still suffer from Constipation, Biliousness, Kidney Trouble, Skin Diseases, Neuralgia, Rheumatism and kindred painful and weakening ailments—often because they have not cared to risk 50c. to try "Fruit-a-tives" when other medicines—supposed to cure—could be had for 25c.

This last objection to trying "Fruit-a-tives" has now been overcome. We have put out a new trial size to retail at 25c. The price no longer stands in the way. Get a trial box and see for yourself that "Fruit-a-tives" will help you.

If your dealer has not the 25c. trial size, let us know. Give us your name and address and we will send you a booklet—free—containing valuable recipes and stories of what "Fruit-a-tives" have done. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Why He Fretted.

Amateur Sportsman (after shooting his best friend)—Too bad, too bad! But I thought you were a deer. The Victim—Don't fret. Amateur Sportsman—Don't fret! Why, man, I promised my wife a pair of horns.

What's the Use?

"Gosh we not to do something more for the preservation of our forests?"

"Oh, what's the use?" answered Senator Sorghum impatiently. "Trees can't vote."

HE SOUGHT DEATH.

The Unfortunate Napoleon III. at the Battle of Sedan.

Sarah Bernhardt mentions in her memoirs that Napoleon III.—had two horses shot under him at Sedan. Some having thrown doubt on her statement and denied that the emperor was ever in personal danger at the time, Baron Verly, son of the late colonel of the Cent Gardes, gives what he affirms to be the authentic account of the unhappy sovereign's persistent attempts to court death when he saw that defeat was unavoidable. On Sept. 1, 1870, at 6 o'clock in the morning, Marshal MacMahon, returning wounded to Sedan, met the emperor riding out to Bazeilles. Napoleon III. realized that the situation was desperate. He rode slowly out, depressed and thoughtful, under a hail of shot. During an hour he inspected the positions. Bullets rained on his escort. Captain d'Heudecourt was killed a few feet away from the emperor. The latter, deliberately seeking death, alighted, ordered his escort to remain behind an embankment and walked up to a cemetery on a height, where he stayed for another hour, exposed to fire. He mounted again and rode to another part of the field. General de Courson and Captain de Trecesson were dangerously wounded by his side, but not a bullet hit him. The emperor at last seemed to despair of meeting his death as he sought it and rode back to Sedan at noon. In the town itself shells fell thick, and while the emperor was riding with his escort up the Grand Rue one burst just in front of him, wounded one of the Cent Gardes and killed the horses of two aids-de-camp. Napoleon III. looked on stolidly, understanding, perhaps, that it was not his fate to die in action. The story that he had two horses killed under him is, therefore, not correct. But there is no doubt that the unfortunate emperor, beaten and ill, a pathetic and tragic figure, did deliberately seek death on the field to escape the disgrace of Sedan which he foresaw.—Paris Letter.

HERE'S A HEART POINTER.

No beating about the bush for Aaron

Nichols—he believes Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart cured his wife, and he says so straight.

"This is to certify that I bought two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart for my wife who has been for twenty years a great sufferer from Heart Disease. She had more benefit from it than from all the doctors that have attended her, and I am pleased to give this certificate of its wonderful curative powers."

Aaron Nichols, Peterboro P.O., Ont.
It relieves in thirty minutes. (26)

Sold by T. B. Wallace

LAKE MANGISHLAK.

Its Strongly Perfumed Waters Are Mauve in Color.

"Grasse, clinging to the Alp, high above the Mediterranean, is supposed to give the stranger a headache on account of its perfume," said a perfumer. "Grasse makes the world's perfumes. You see mountains of flowers there, as in a milling country you see mountains of wheat. The odor is powerful, but as far as headaches—no."

"But in the Caspian district there is a lake so strongly perfumed that if the stranger boats on it or swims in it he really gets a headache. This lake's banks are of white salt crystals, its waters are mauve in color, and from it an odor of violets is exhaled."

"It is Lake Mangishlak. I visited it to see if I couldn't fit up and put it on the perfume market. No go."

"You see, it is the presence of the seaweed Polydectes violacea that gives the lake its hue and smell. When you bottle the water the seaweed atoms after a few days die and rot. Then the odor changes from violet to—pah!"

"But if you are ever in the Caspian visit the Mankishlak peninsula and take a look at the lake. It is in its way as curious as the asphalt lakes of South America."

SHE WAS INSULTED.

The Sting in the Letter That Came For Her Husband.

"Harry, love," said Mrs. Knew to her husband when he entered his home a few evenings ago, "I've been dreadfully insulted."

"Insulted?" repeated Mr. Knew indignantly. "By whom?"

"By your mother."

"My mother, Flora? Nonsense, dear. She's the kindest woman in the world. And how could she insult you? She isn't here; she's miles away."

"But, Harry, she did insult me," persisted Flora, "and it was done in a letter."

"Show it to me."

"I'll tell you about it." A letter came for you this morning addressed in your mother's handwriting, and so, of course, I opened it."

"Of course," said Mr. Knew dryly.

"It was written to you all the way through, you understand?"

"Yes, I understand that, but where does the insult to you come in?"

"In the postscript. When I read along to that it said, 'Dear Flora—Don't fail to give this letter to Harry; I want him to have it.' Now, tell me, wasn't that an insult?"

The Unprodigal Son.

The president of a club of New York waiters said the other day of a parsimonious young man:

"He resembles a chap they tell about in Bucks county."

"This chap lived alone with his father. On the old man's death he would inherit the farm."

"Well, finally the old man took sick. His end drew near. The son sat up with him a night or two, expecting him to pass away, but he lingered on."

"On the fifth or sixth night the son, instead of sitting up, put a lamp, turned low, very, very low, on a table by the bed and went off to his own room with the caution:

"When you feel that it is all over with you, father, don't forget to blow out the lamp."

A Rare Souvenir.

A curious souvenir is preserved in the Bank of England in the shape of a

IDOLS OF THE HINDOOS

There Are Hundreds of Millions of Them in India.

THE FAME OF JUGGERNAUT.

This Idol Has Been Worshiped About
Two Thousand Years, and His National Temple Is on the Sands of Puri—The Three Monster Cars.

If I were asked to describe India the first remark that would spring from my lips would be, "It is a land of idols." It would be impossible to compute the number of idols that there must be at the present time in India. The Hindoos pretend to have 233,000,000 gods, and these are represented by innumerable idols, so that we are quite bewildered with the thought of taking the census of the idols of India. The population of the whole Indian empire is now about 300,000,000, and possibly the country contains ten times as many idols as people.

Banaras is the great center of the idol making business, though in all parts of India the trade flourishes. Potters day through may be seen in the sacred city molding images of clay for temporary use. Sculptors also may be found producing representatives of the gods in stone or marble. Carpenters, moreover, make great wooden idols for the temples, and workers in metal—goldsmiths, copper-smiths and brass workers—turn out more or less highly finished specimens in their respective metals.

When speaking of idols it should be borne in mind that the images turned out by the potter, sculptor, carver or manufacturer are not considered sacred or fit to be worshipped until certain mystic words have been uttered over them by a priest. The ceremony of "the giving of life," as it is called, to the image is a very solemn affair, and when it is done the idol is regarded as holy and must ever afterward be approached and treated with the utmost reverence.

Out of the many millions of so called gods in India, all of whom are counted worthy of worship, three are regarded as specially sacred and form the Hindu triad or trinity. They are respectively Brahma, Vishnu and Siva. Of those it is stated the second person of the trinity only has been represented on this earth by human incarnations. Through one or all of these gods the Hindoos believe they may obtain salvation. Brahma represents the way of salvation by wisdom, Vishnu by faith and Siva by works. It is immaterial which method is adopted, as they all lead to the same goal.

Juggernaut is perhaps the most famous name among all the Hindoo idols, inasmuch as his fame has gone forth into every land. His temple is situated on the sandy shores of Orissa, washed by the wild waves of the bay of Bengal. The worship of Juggernaut dates back nearly 2,000 years, and Orissa has been the holy land of the Hindoos from that time till the present day.

Sir William Hunter, who was one of the greatest authorities on things East Indian, says in a wonderfully graphic description of the temple of Juggernaut: "On the inhospitable sands of Puri, a place of swamps and inundations, the Hindoo religion and Hindoo superstition have stood at bay for eighteen centuries against the world. Here is the national temple whither

A

REMARKABLE INVENTION

FOR THE

CULTURE OF HAIR

CULTURE OF HAIR

THE EVANS VACUUM CAP is a practical invention constructed on scientific and hygienic principles by the simple means of which a free and normal circulation is restored throughout the scalp. The minute blood vessels are gently stimulated to activity, thus allowing the food supply which can only be derived from the blood, to be carried to the hair roots, the effects of which are quickly seen in a healthy, vigorous growth of hair. There is no rubbing, and as no drugs or chemicals of whatsoever kind are employed there is nothing to cause irritation. It is only necessary to wear the Cap three or four minutes daily.

60 DAYS' FREE TRIAL!

The Company's Guarantee.

An EVANS VACUUM CAP will be sent you for sixty days' free trial. If you do not see a gradual development of a new growth of hair, you are at liberty to return the Cap with no expense whatever to yourself. It is requested, as an evidence of good faith, that the price of the Cap be deposited with the Chancery Lane Safe Deposit Company of London, the largest financial and business institution of the kind in the world; who will issue a receipt guaranteeing that the money will be returned in full, on demand without questions or comment, at any time during the trial period.

The eminent Dr. L. N. LOVE, in his address to the Medical Board on the subject of Alopecia (loss of hair) stated that if a means could be devised to bring nutrition to the hair follicles (hair roots), without resorting to any irritating process, the problem of bald growth could be solved. Later on, when the EVANS VACUUM CAP was submitted to him for inspection, he remarked that the Cap would fulfill and confirm in practice the observational had previously made before the Medical Board.

Dr. W. MOORE, referring to the invention, says that the principle upon which the Evans Vacuum Cap is founded is absolutely correct and indisputable.

An illustrated and descriptive book of the Evans Vacuum Cap will be sent, post free, on application.

THE SECRETARY, EVANS VACUUM CAP CO.,
LIMITED.

Regent House, Regent Street, London, W.

Bay of Quinte Railway and Navigation Company

GENERAL PASSENGER TIME TABLE,

No. 28

Taking effect Jan 1st, 1906.

Bannockburn and Tamworth to Napanee Deseronto and Bannockburn.

Stations	Miles	No. 12	No. 40	No. 4	No. 6	Stations	Miles	No. 1	No. 41	No. 3	No. 6
		A. M.	A. M.	P. M.	P. M.			A. M.	P. M.	P. M.	P. M.
Arr. Lve	Bannockburn	0	0	0	0	Lve Deseronto	—	7	20	12	55
Arr. Lve	Allans	3	6	15	150	Arr. Napanee	—	9	7	20	1	15
Arr. Lve	Quincyboro	8	6	25	205	Lve Napanee	—	9	7	50	1	25
Arr. Lve	Bridgewater	14	6	10	200	Strathtona	—	15	8	65	1	40
Arr. Lve	Tweed	20	6	55	245	Newburgh	—	17	8	15	1	50
Arr. Lve	Tweed	7 00	7 20	—	255	Thouneon's Mills*	18	—	12	35	4	50
Arr. Lve	Stodd	23	7	35	305	Camden East	—	8	30	2	00	12	15
Arr. Lve	Larkins	27	7	25	320	Arr. Yarker	—	23	8	00	2	15
Arr. Lve	Marlbank	33	8	40	315	Lve Yarker	—	23	9	00	2	17
Arr. Lve	Erinville	37	7	55	335	Galtbrith	—	23	1	00	6	25
Arr. Lve	Tamworth	40	8	10	300	Mosow	—	27	9	20	2	35
Arr. Lve	Wilson	44	8	15	345	Enterprise	—	32	9	35	2	50
Arr. Lve	Enterprise	48	8	25	350	Wilson	—	34	10	00	1	30
Arr. Lve	Mudlake Bridge	49	8	30	355	Tamworth	—	38	10	00	3	10
Arr. Lve	Mosow	51	8	37	360	Erinville	—	41	10	10	3	25
Arr. Lve	Galtbrith	53	8	45	365	Marlbank	—	45	10	25	3	40
Arr. Lve	Yarker	58	8	48	10 00	Larkins	—	51	10	45	4	15
Arr. Lve	Yarker	59	8	50	10 17	Stodd	—	65	11	00	4	20
Arr. Lve	Caunders Park	59	8	50	10 23	Arr. Tweed	—	58	11	15	4	35
Arr. Lve	Thouneon's Mills	60	8	55	10 28	Lve Tweed	—	61	11	30	4	50
Arr. Lve	Newburgh	61	8	55	10 33	Bridgewater	—	64	11	50	5	10
Arr. Lve	Strathtona	63	8	55	10 45	Queensboro	—	70	12	05	5	30
Arr. Lve	Napanee	69	8	55	11 00	Allans	—	73	12	20	5	45
Arr. Lve	Napanee	69	8	55	11 25	Arr. Bannockburn	—	78	12	40	6	00
Arr. Lve	Deseronto	78	—	—	6 55

Kingston and Sydenham to Napanee and Deseronto.	Deseronto and Bannockburn to Napanee.	Deseronto and Napanee to Sydenham and Kingston.
Stations	Miles	No. 2	No. 4	No. 5	Stations	Miles	No. 1	No. 3	No. 6	Stations	Miles	No. 2	No. 4	No. 5
		A. M.	A. M.	P. M.			A. M.	P. M.	P. M.			A. M.	A. M.	P. M.
Arr. Lve	Kingston	0	—	—	Live Deseronto	—	7	00	—	—	Arr. Napanee	—	7	20	—
Arr. Lve	G. T. R. Junction	9	—	—	Arr. Deseronto	—	7	20	12	55	Arr. Napanee	—	9	70	—
Arr. Lve	Glenvale	10	—	—	Live Deseronto	—	9	70	12	55	Strathtona	—	15	8	25
Arr. Lve	Murvale	14	—	—	Arr. Deseronto	—	9	70	12	55	Newburgh	—	17	8	40
Arr. Lve	Harrowsmith	19	—	—	Arr. Deseronto	—	15	8	15	12	40	18	—	1	40
Arr. Lve	Sydenham	23	8	00	Arr. Deseronto	—	19	8	30	12	50	Thomson's Mills*	—	18	—
Arr. Lve	Harrowsmith	25	8	10	Arr. Deseronto	—	23	8	45	1	05	Camden East	—	20	5	13
Arr. Lve	Frontenac	29	—	—	Arr. Deseronto	—	23	8	55	6	23	Frontenac	—	27	—
Arr. Lve	Yarker	66	8	35	Arr. Deseronto	—	23	8	55	6	23	Arr. Yarker	—	23	8	55
Arr. Lve	Yarker	66	9	05	3	05	6	23	6	23	Arr. Harrowsmith	—	30	9	10
Arr. Lve	Caunders East	30	9	15	3	18	6	23	6	23	Arr. Sydenham	—	34	—	6	10
Arr. Lve	Thomson's Mills*	31	—	—	6	23	6	23	6	23	Arr. Harrowsmith	—	30	9	10
Arr. Lve	Newburgh	32	9	30	3	25	6	23	6	23	Arr. Murvale	—	35	9	22
Arr. Lve	Strathtona	34	9	45	3	35	6	23	6	23	Arr. Glenvale	—	39	9	32
Arr. Lve	Napanee	40	10	00	3	50	6	23	6	23	G. T. R. Junction	—	47	9	50
Arr. Lve	Napanee, West End	40	—	—	6	35	6	23	6	23	Arr. Kingston	—	49	10	00
Arr. Lve	Deseronto	49	—	—	6	55	6	23	6	23

LOCAL WORKING TIME TABLE.

PICTON to DESERONTO and PICTON.

STEAMERS

TRAINS	Leave	Arrive	Leave	Arrive	Leave	Arrive	Leave	Arrive	Leave	Arrive	Leave	Arrive	Leave	Arrive
Leave Napanee	7 20 a.m.	10 40 a.m.	Leave Deseronto	7 00 a.m.	8 30 a.m.	Leave Picton	7 25 a.m.	9 50 a.m.	Leave Deseronto	7 50 a.m.	10 10 a.m.	Leave Napanee	7 00 a.m.	—
Leave Napanee	3 30 p.m.	6 30 p.m.	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—
Leave Napanee	6 30 "	8 15 "	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—
Leave Napanee	10 30 "	10 60 "	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—
Leave Napanee	11 00 "	11 25 "	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—
Leave Napanee	12 03 p.m.	12 25 p.m.	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—
Leave Napanee	12 23 "	1 40 "	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—
Leave Napanee	4 30 "	4 40 "	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—
Leave Napanee	6 35 "	6 55 "	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—
Leave Napanee	7 10 "	7 30 "	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—
Leave Napanee	8 15 "	8 35 "	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Picton	—	—	Leave Deseronto	—	—	Leave Napanee	—	—

Daily. All other rains run daily. Sundays excepted.

WALTER RATHBURN
President.

H. B. SHERWOOD
Superintendent.

D. A. VALLEAU
Asst. Superintendent.

"...out the lamp."

A Rare Souvenir.

A curious souvenir is preserved in the Bank of England in the shape of a note for £1,000 with which Admiral Lord Cochrane paid his fine when he was falsely accused of spreading an interested object a rumor that Bonaparte was dead in 1814 so as to cause a rise in the price of stocks. The sum mentioned was raised in subscriptions of a penny by his Westminster constituents. The note is inscribed with the name of the intrepid but ill used salt and has inscribed on it a sentence in which he expresses the hope that one day he will prove his innocence and triumph over his accusers. That consummation was not effected until eighteen years later, when he was reinstated by William IV.—London Telegraph.

Submarine Navigation.

The idea of the submarine is certainly as much as 200 years old, but most of the earlier plans were flat failures. In 1774 an inventor named Day lost his life during an experimental descent in Plymouth sound. Bushnell of Connecticut in 1775 contrived a submarine vessel propelled by some kind of screw. Robert Fulton also in 1796 invented a box which when filled with combustibles might be propelled under water and made to explode under the bottom of a ship. It is hard to say who was the originator of the idea of the submarine boat unless it was Day.

Puri, a place of swamps and inundations, the Hindoo religion and Hindoo superstition have stood at bay for eighteen centuries against the world. Here is the national temple whither the people flock to worship from every province of India. There is the gate of heaven whither thousands of pilgrims come to die, lulled to this last sleep by the roar of the eternal ocean."

Well, I saw on one occasion that marvelous sight, the dragging of Juggernaut's car and the cars of his brother and sister. The three idols are inseparable, and ugly things they are, being nothing but huge logs of wood coarsely fashioned into human shape, but without arms or legs. Juggernaut's car stands forty-one feet high and has fourteen enormous wheels. The other two cars are just a little smaller. The great cars have to be dragged a certain distance—half a mile or more from the temple—and the god will not allow horses or elephants to undertake the work, but calls upon his faithful worshippers to do it themselves. Immense ropes, or, rather, cables, are attached to the cars, and at the word of command from the priests thousands of men and even women and children rush forward and seize the ropes and range themselves in order and the next moment are straining and pulling at the cumbersome conveyances, which at length move with a heavy, creaking noise.

Never shall I forget the sight. The road was filled with tens of thousands of lookers-on, all wild with excitement, and the fanatics who held the ropes were dragging the cars along with frenzied zeal. Every now and then there would be a stop that the men might rest, I supposed, but instead of resting they took to jumping in the air and to whirling themselves around like dancing dervishes and shouting at the top of their breath: "Victory! Victory to Juggernaut!"

Once on a time infatuated worshippers would throw themselves under the wheels of the mighty car that they might be crushed to death, counting it a privilege and a joy thus to perish. Some might do it today if the paternal British government did not provide against such catastrophes by taking all due precaution.—John J. Pool, B. D., F. R. G. S., in Los Angeles Times.

Yellow Fever.

The first appearance of yellow fever is said to have been among the soldiers of Columbus in 1493.

A Hard Case.

"His wife earns her own money." "Indeed! I did not know she was employed."

"Oh, yes; hard at it all the time." "What does she do?" "Works him to give up."

Consistent.

"The people who say that women are inconstant and inconsistent," declares the philosopher of folly, "are dead wrong. A few years ago a girl told me she was just twenty-two, and she sticks to the same figures today."

In His Line.

First Ball Player—I was out so late last night that my wife wouldn't let me in. Second Ball Player—Well, you are used to being "out at home."

We have only two days to live. It is hardly worth our while to spend them in cringing to contemptible rascals.—Voltaire.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE FOREHEAD.

What Its Size and Shape Are Said to Indicate.

A high forehead to be very good should be well developed about the eyebrows.

Breadth of forehead is always favorable. It is distinctly connected with breadth of character.

A forehead that curves back reveals a poetic temperament, a fondness for the arts and a talent for either music or painting.

Of course a broad forehead may be part of a weak face, and a weak chin and mouth will naturally give a truer impression of character than even a combination of a narrow forehead with an otherwise strong face.

If there is quite a perceptible bulge of the eyebrows, combined with a high forehead, the sign is of a calm, cool, deliberate thinker.

If with these eyebrows is combined a forehead that slopes gradually back, a sensitive, poetic temperament is disclosed. If, again, they are combined with a short, narrow forehead, the subject will be successful in business and in everything connected with worldly matters, but he will be incapable of appreciating to any extent or of creating anything connected with the arts.

SAW IT IN A DREAM.

A Lost Check and the Peculiar Way It Was Found.

A wealthy New York lawyer sat up late one night writing letters he had not been able to finish during the day. It was past midnight when he went out to mail them, and when he returned and was undressing he paused in dismay, missing a check for a large sum received during the day and taken home with him. In vain was the house ransacked at that late hour. He went to bed convinced that the lost check must be in the house. An hour later he fell into uneasy slumber and beheld as with his eyes of the flesh the pink check curled about an area railing four or five doors from his own house.

So real was the dream that the troubled man woke up, dressed and, slipping down the stairs into the street, walked along the sidewalk to a spot still seen vividly in his mind, and there, sure enough, standing edge upward and partly curled about the iron, was the missing check. "I think," he reported to the Psychological Research society, "my subconsciousness must have noticed it fall from my pocket as I walked to the mail box and my subliminal self pointed it out to me in sleep." —William G. Flitz-Gerald in New York Tribune.

The Dogs of Constantinople.

There are at least 235,000 dogs in Constantinople, which has a population of 1,150,000. They are the vilest of cowards and are the scavengers of the city. It is said that scores of people are bitten daily by the dogs of Constantinople, but that a case of hydrophobia was never known there. Three centuries ago Nassuf Pasha, grand vizier to Achmet III, transported all the dogs to Asia and would have had them destroyed there, but the sultan, on consulting the mufti, was told that every dog had a soul and consequently forbade such wholesale destruction. After the slaughter of the janizaries Mahmoud intended to get rid of them, for he caused an immense number of sausages (!) to be made and, having poisoned them, gave the dogs a feast. Many thousands were thus killed in one day, but the people murmured so much that he was afraid to begin a second day's work. He therefore ordered them to be expelled to Asia, but the

TOWNSHIP OF RICHMOND.

July 6th, 1908.

The Council met at Selby, The members present were Messrs. Alf McCutcheon, E. R. Sills, C. H. Spencer, and Manly Jones.

Moved by Manly Jones, seconded by C. H. Spencer that in the absence of the Reeve we hereby appoint Mr. Alf McCutcheon to take the chair, Carried.

Mr. McCutcheon in the chair, the minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Moved by Manly Jones, seconded by C. H. Spencer, that $25.00 be granted to be laid out on roads in road section No. 17. Carried.

Moved by C. H. Spencer, seconded by E. R. Sills, that the treasurer be authorized to receive $6.00 from James Booth for use of stone crusher. Carried.

Moved by C. H. Spencer, seconded by Manly Jones, that we authorize the clerk to collect $4.00 for use of the town hall for the Provincial Election for polling. Carried.

Mr. Paul, the (Reeve) entered and took the chair.

Moved by Manly Jones, seconded by C. H. Spencer, that the Clerk notify the County Council that Unger's bridge, near Deseronto, on the Deseronto Road, is in a dangerous condition and should be repaired without delay, to avoid accidents and save damages. Carried.

A communication was read from John English, Esq., Barrister, (re) Albert Reids claim for damage on sucker creek.

Moved by Alf McCutcheon, seconded by C. H. Spencer, that the communication from Albert Reid, through his solicitor, John English, be filed. Carried.

Moved by C. H. Spencer, seconded by E. R. Sills that John Young receive $15.00 for keeping James Youngs, a resident of the Township of Hungerford, he being in want, and that the Township of Hungerford be billed for the same. Carried.

Moved by C. H. Spencer, seconded by Alf McCutcheon, that Road Division No 64 get a grant of $12.00. Carried.

Moved by E. R. Sills, seconded by Alf McCutcheon, the following accounts be paid : David Martin for 139 loads of gravel for road sections numbers 18 and 83, $13.90 ; John Penny for 80 loads of gravel for road section 15, $8.00 ; Wilson Booth for 50 loads of gravel for section No. 19, $5.00 ; Archie Winters for building a culvert in road section No. 83, $2.00 ; Wilson Booth for 2 days work on his road division, $2.00 ; Wesley Hall for work on crusher, $1.50 ; J. C. Hudgins for one day's work on road division No. 21, $1.00 ; J. R. Lochead for 91 loads of gravel for road section No. 12, $9.10 ; Isaac Asselstine for building culvert on sideroad in 6th concession near Thos. Carscallen's $2.50 ; J. H. McHenry for 80 loads of gravel on road section No. 20, $8.00 ; E. Bell for 130 loads of gravel for road division No. 16, $13.00 : Commutation of statute labor to road division No. 61, $12.00 ; aid to McTaggart $1.05.

The Council adjourned to meet on the first Monday in August at the hour of 10 o'clock a. m.

A. WINTERS.
Clerk,

A SERPENT STORY.

Terrifying Experience With a Deadly Lancehead.

The Paris Eclair tells a blood curdling serpent story, the scene of which was the island of Martinique and the dramatis personae Sergeant Legrand and Private Durand and the snake a deadly lancehead.

The soldier had been punished with a night in the cells for some trivial offense, but as the night was very hot the sergeant had left the door open. In the morning at 5 o'clock Legrand went to wake his prisoner and, to his horror, beheld a lancehead snake coiled up and fast asleep on the man's breast.

The sergeant did not lose his presence of mind. He stole noiselessly away, ran to the guard room and, followed by all the men on duty, returned to the cell with a bowl of milk and a tin whistle. Placing the bowl of milk at the entrance to the cell, the sergeant began to play the "Blue Danube." It is needless to remark that the weakness of the lancehead is milk and music. The serpent, which was a six foot specimen, awoke, glided from the soldier's body toward the bowl, but it had no sooner buried its head in its beloved drink than ten cudgels descended on it with terrific force, killing it outright.

The soldier Durand, who was in a swoon, was taken to hospital, where he lay for many days on the verge of madness. He finally recovered and related his horrible experience—how he had awoken in the middle of the night as the serpent was coiling itself on his bare breast and how he had lain there in an agony for hours, not daring to move a muscle.

Durand was sent back to France as soon as he had sufficiently recovered. The only trace of his terrible experience, adds the Eclair, is that his hair is now snow white.

MOSCOW.

For last week.

There is much sickness amongst horses here.

Miss Patterson and sister, of New York, are expected here soon to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sweet, Kennewick, Wash., were the guests of Mrs. Elverton Vanluven, last week.

Miss Lampkin is camping with a party of friends Chemong Park.

Another boy at Morley Huffman's. Mrs. W. Allen spent last week visiting friends at Wesley.

About forty-five young people from this community met on the shore of Varty Lake and spent a very pleasant afternoon and evening on Saturday.

Miss Blake spent last week at Forest Mills.

Week end visitors: Mr. and Mrs. George Sharp, of Hawley, and Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, at Robert Asselstine's; Mrs. Leonard and little son, Clifford, at E. Meakin's; Miss Hamby and Mrs. Judge, at Milo Huffman's.

LABOUR SAVING IN DAIRYING.

One of the recent regular monthly tests in the Inverkip, Ont. cow testing association showed that 160 cows gave an average yield of 833 lb. milk, testing, 3 4, thus containing 34.6 lb. fat. One excellent herd average is from 10 cows each giving 1390 lb. milk, 3.3 test. The highest yield in this herd was 1850 lb. milk for the month. In all but one of the 12 herds recorded are single cows giving 1000 lb. milk or more.

Another district averaged only 664 lb. milk per cow, while in a third district the average was 562 lb. Some herds were as low as 412 lb. milk, 13 lb. fat as an average of 9 cows. This is less than one third of the yield of the herd noted above at Inverkip. Three times the labour, nearly three times the feed, three times the stable room for no more profit. As I

SUFFERED FOR YEARS

Says Pe-ru-na Completely Restored Health.

MRS. CHAS. GROS LOUIS.

MRS. CHAS. GROS LOUIS, Indian Lorette, Quebec, Can., writes:

"For years I suffered from a disease that the doctors did not understand."

"One day I read in the paper about your excellent remedy, Peruna. I procured a bottle of it and took it according to directions. It was not long until I observed a change for the better.

"I can say that Peruna has cured me. I could not take any nourishment except milk."

"I will at all times say a good word for Peruna. I hold it in the highest esteem."

Not only women of rank and leisure praise Peruna, but the industrious, useful women engaged in manual toil would not be without Dr. Hartman's world-renowned remedy.

The doctor has prescribed it for many thousand women every year and he never fails to receive a multitude of letters like the above, thanking him for his advice, and especially for the wonderful benefits received from Peruna.

One Way, So They Say, of Reading a Person's Character.

The closer the thumb is set to the wrist, the greater the amount of amiable qualities a person possesses. And, conversely, the higher on the hand the thumb is set, the lower the order of his mental and moral makeup.

Monkeys' thumbs abut from the hand at a point close to the fingers. The closer to this formation a human being comes the more monkey-like intelligence and character he is apt to have.

A thumb set very close to the wrist shows sympathy for all in distress, great generosity, independence, love of liberty for self and others and a readiness to share with the unfortunate.

When the second phalanx of the thumb is much longer than the nail phalanx, there is a discordant relation between reason and will.

Reason preponderates to such an extent that the entire life is spent in planning what to do without ever doing.

A person of this kind sees clearly what is best for him, but lacks determination to put it into execution.

He sees the goal and the steps necessary for attaining it, but in the same glance he takes in all the obstacles, and while he is pondering the matter sausages (!) to be made and, having poisoned them, gave the dogs a feast. Many thousands were thus killed in one day, but the people murmured so much that he was afraid to begin a second day's work. He therefore ordered them to be expelled to Asia, but the order was very indifferently executed, and in a short time the dogs were as numerous as during the time of the janizaries.

The Dog Morland Painted.

Of the many stories of the seemingly unconscious heroism of Newfoundland dogs none is more interesting than the one concerning the noble dog which Morland afterward painted.

When William Phillips, bathing at Portsmouth, ventured beyond his depth and was drowning, two boatmen, instead of setting out to his rescue, haggled about a reward from the bystanders, who were urging them to go to Phillips' rescue. In the midst of the controversy a Newfoundland dog leaped into the water and brought the exhausted bather to shore. Mr. Phillips bought the dog from its owner, a butcher, and yearly gave a festival in honor of his rescuer.

It was for Mr. Phillips that Morland painted the dog's picture, and Bartolozzi engraved it.

A Dream Warning.

A strange story comes from Calabria. One Braccala, a resident of Pizzo, had a dream in which he saw his son, twenty years of age, being attacked by two men, who were stabbing him with knives. Braccala awoke and, arousing his wife, told her what he had seen. She tried to calm him, but while they were still discussing the matter a noise was heard in front of the house, and, hastening down, Mme. Braccala opened the door just in time to catch her son in her arms as he fell swooning to the ground. He had been attacked and stabbed and died shortly afterward.

The Human Touch.

"Janie had a doll that would say 'Papa' and 'Mamma,'"

"What became of it?"

"Jane's mother is an advanced person, and she said the doll was an inex-cusably childish reminder of a grossly benighted period."

"And what did she do?"

"She threw it in a dark closet where Janie didn't dare to go. And then a day or two later she happened to step on it in the dark and it shrieked 'Mamma!' so naturally that she fell over in a faint and bumped her head and had two buckets of water poured over her before she recovered consciousness."

An Anticlimax.

Sir Henry Irving was frequently a victim to the interjections of gallery gods. When playing "Macbeth" one night he had reached that dramatic moment in the banquet scene when in dreadful fear he bids the ghost of Banquo to vanish:

"Hence, horrible shadow, Unreal mockery, hence!"
he exclaimed and, shuddering convulsively, dropped to his knees, covering his face with his robe. As the ghost vanished a shrill voice in the gallery broke the momentary silence: "It's all right now, 'Enery; he's gone!"—London Bellman.

Achill Island.

There are few people who once having seen the island of Achill can forget its beauty. The island lies close to the west coast of Ireland. When the skies are blue, mountains green and smiling, bogs clad in purple and pink heather and the whole picturesque island in sunshine, the place is a wonderland.

move a muscle.

Durand was sent back to France as soon as he had sufficiently recovered. The only trace of his terrible experience, adds the Eclair, is that his hair is now snow white.

Love's Young Dream.

Another case of the bad boy rudely interrupting love's young dream. A Malate girl and her Romeo sat in close proximity on the couch in the drawing room lost to the world. They were brought back from Eden by her little brother, who, like many of his kind, makes it a practice to butt in at the wrong time. He walked into the room, planted himself in front of the young man and asked:

"Was you ever tied to a fish line?"

"I certainly was not," was the reply.

"Well," responded the boy, "I heard pa tell ma last night that you'd make a good sinker."

As to Quotations.

How many persons can毫不犹豫地 name the source of the familiar quotations? Many a man goes through life without reading a single play of Shakespeare, but probably no English speaking man goes through life without quoting him. If he sneers at "a woman's reason," he quotes Shakespeare; if he refers to "a trick worth two of that," he quotes Shakespeare again.

Goldsmith's "She Stoops to Conquer" is not a popular work, but one line of it—"Ask me no questions, and I will tell you no lies"—is known and used by everybody.

Made Him a Songster.

Mr. Stubb (in astonishment)—Gracious, Maria! That tramp has been singing in the back yard for the last hour. Mrs. Stubb—Yes, John, it is all my fault. Mr. Stubb—Your fault? Mrs. Stubb—Indeed it is. I thought I was giving him a dish of boiled oatmeal, and instead of that I boiled up the bird seed by mistake.

A COMET'S TAIL.

The Way This Filmy Dust Train Is Tossed About by the Sun.

No bridal veil was ever so fitting as a comet's tail. Hundreds of cubic miles of that wonderful appendage are outweighed by a jarful of air.

By means of the spectroscope we have magically transported this fairy plume to our laboratories and have discovered that it is akin to the blue flame of our gas stoves; for the gas by which we cook and the delicate tresses of a comet both consist of combinations of hydrogen and carbon, appropriately called by chemists "hydrocarbons."

When it first appears in the heavens, far removed from the sun, a comet is a tailless blotch of light.

As a comet swims on toward the sun the hydrocarbons of the tail split up under the increasing heat into hydrogen gas and hydrocarbons of a higher boiling point. With a still closer approach to the sun, these more resistant hydrocarbons eventually yield to the increasing heat and are decomposed in the form of soot.

Interplanetary space is airless; hence the soot cannot burn. It must pursue the comet in the form of a dust train. The particles constituting that train are small enough to be toyed with by the pressure of sunlight.

No matter where the comet may be in its orbit, whether it has just entered the solar system or is speeding away, that plume is inevitably tossed away from the sun, just as if a mighty wind were blowing it from the central luminary.

The appendage of shining dust is the symbol of the triumph of light over solar gravitation.

strict the average was 362 lb. Some herds were as low as 412 lb. milk, 13½ lb. fat as an average of 9 cows. This is less than one third of the yield of the herd noted above at Innerkip. Three times the labour, nearly three times the feed, three times the stable room for no more profit. As I have frequently remarked before this cow testing work is the best labour saving proposition yet placed before the farmers of Canada. Better cows mean less work and more income. Find out the poor cows by this individual testing, get rid of them, then give that feed saved to the better cows and watch the bank balance grow.

SARTORIAL DILEMMAS.

Weighty Problems That Are Puzzling Our English Cousins.

A problem is put forward by a writer in a contemporary which gives food for thought. It is this: Suppose by some combination of circumstances you were faced by the alternative of wearing a frock coat with brown boots. Which would be the better way out of it—to wear a bowler or a tall hat? As the writer justly remarks, if you wear a bowler then the thing you have to explain away is the coat. If you wear a tall hat, you have only the boots to account for. We should advise those of our readers who find one morning that all the wearing apparel in the house had been stolen during the night with the exception of a frock coat, waistcoat, trousers, shirt, collar, vest, tie, a pair of brown boots and two hats—one tall, the other round—to cut the Gordian knot by staying in bed. Another of life's dilemmas which may face the traveler down the world's dusty highway has to do with collars. Suppose on arriving at a house for a week end and starting to dress for dinner you find that your evening collars have got wetted by your sponge or otherwise defaced. Should you wear a clean double collar or a dirty orthodox evening collar? In the former case you will be natty, but a thing of loathing to all properly constituted men. In the latter you will give the impression that you cannot afford the services of a laundry.—London Globe.

A person of this kind sees clearly what is best for him, but lacks determination to put it into execution.

He sees the goal and the steps necessary for attaining it, but in the same glances he takes in all the obstacles, and while he is pondering the matter the opportunity to win success escapes.

Seeking the Light.

At a dinner during an Episcopal convention at Richmond a young lady sitting near the bishop of London said to him:

"Bishop, I wish you would set my mind at rest as to the similarity or dissimilarity between your country and ours on one point. Does the butterfly because the tomato can?"

The bishop laughed heartily at this vivacious sally. Not so a young Englishman of his party, who after dinner sought his host.

"I want to know, you know," said he, "about that joke of Miss B.'s. She asked if butter flew because tomatoes could. Pray tell me what the point is."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Thoughtful Tyrant.

Major Hayford Thorold, second in command of the First battalion, Duke of Wellington's regiment, had an odd experience in Matabeleland in 1896 when sent to restore order in a little township called Gwelo. On arrival there he found the acting commandant, an ex-storekeeper, in a state bordering on delirium tremens, so he had him locked up. The commandant, however, managed to break out and make his way to the telegraph office, where he dispatched the following wire: Chamberlain, London:

Man here named Thorold questions my sobriety. Who is Thorold? Wire at once to avert bloodshed.

Pain will depart in exactly 20 minutes if one of Dr. Shoop's Pink Pain Tablets is taken. Pain anywhere, Remember! Pain always means congestion, blood-pressure—nothing else. Headache is blood pressure; toothache is blood pressure on the sensitive nerve. Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets—also called Pink Pain Tablets—quickly and safely coax this blood pressure away from pain centers. Painful periods with women get instant relief. 20 Tablets 25c. Sold by ALL DEALERS.

BLOOD DISEASES

Guaranteed Cured or No Pay.

If you ever had any contracted or hereditary blood disease, you are never safe until the virus or poison has been removed from the system. You may have had some disease years ago, but now and then some symptom alarms you. Some poison still lurks in your system. Can you afford to run the risk of more serious symptoms appearing as the poison multiplies? Beware of mercury or mineral drugs used indiscriminately they may ruin the system. Twenty years experience in the treatment of these diseases enables us to prescribe specific remedies that will positively cure all blood diseases of the worst character, leaving no bad effects on the system. Our New Method Treatment will purify and enrich the blood, heal up all ulcers, clear the skin, remove bone pains, fallen out hair will grow in, and swollen glands will return to a normal condition, and the patient will feel and look like a different person. All cases we accept for treatment are guaranteed a complete cure if instructions are followed.

Reader if in doubt as to your condition, you can consult us FREE OF CHARGE. Beware of incompetent doctors who have no reputation or reliability. Drs. K. & K. have been established over 20 years.

WE CURE Nervous Debility, Varicocele, Stricture, Blood and Secret Diseases, Kidney and Bladder Complaints. Consultation Free.

If unable to call write for a Question List for Home Treatment.

DRS. KENNEDY & KENNEDY

Cor. Michigan & Griswold Sts.

Detroit, Mich.

A House of Mystery

OR, THE GIRL IN BLUE

CHAPTER XVIII.

Britten was, I immediately detected, one of those men whose well-feigned air of fussy sympathy, whose unruffled good humor, and whose quick perception enabled him to gauge to a nicely his patient's character, and thus to ingratiate himself. By the younger people he was, no doubt, pronounced clever on account of his age and known experience, while old ladies—those whose very life depended upon regularly seeing the doctor—declared him to be "such a dear, kind man." Upon the family doctor's manner alone depends the extent of his popularity and the size of his practice. The most ignorant charlatan who ever held a diploma can acquire a wide practice if he is only shrewd enough to humor his patient's, to take pains to feign the deepest interest in every case, and assume an outward show of superior knowledge. In medicine, be the man ever so clever, if he has no tact with is patient's his surgery bell will remain for ever silent.

Dr. Britten was a shrewd old fellow; a bit of a bungler, who made up for all defects by that constant good humor which people like in a medical man. "Don't worry, my dear sir; 'don't worry,' be urged, when he had finished. "Rest well, and you'll be right again very soon."

"But the events of last night?" I said. "A man made a dastardly attempt upon my life, and I intend to secure his arrest."

"Yes, yes, I know," he answered, patting me on the shoulder with a familiarity curious when I reflected that I had never set eyes upon him till half an hour before. "But take my advice, and don't reflect upon it."

"If you know, then perhaps you'll kindly give me some explanation?" I said, resenting his manner. He was treating me as he would a child.

"I only know what you've told me," I responded. "It's a strange story, certainly. But don't you think that it is, greater part of it, imagination?"

"Imagination!" I cried, starting up angrily. "I tell you, Doctor Britten—or whatever your name is—that it is no imagination. The wound on my head is sufficient proof of that."

"The wound was inflicted by yourself," he answered calmly. "You accidentally ran against the statue."

"I don't believe it," I said bluntly. "It's all a confounded conspiracy, and, moreover, you are making your professional reputation by assisting in it."

He shrugged his shoulders and raised his grey eyebrows with an expression of regret.

"I have been called to you, my dear sir, because you have met with an accident," he said. "I have merely given you the best of my advice—namely, to remain quiet, and not trouble about anything that has passed. Your brain requires rest after the severe shock it has received."

"Doctor Britten," I said determinedly, "I quite understand the meaning of your vague words. You believe that I'm not quite right in my mind."

"No, no," he assured me quickly. "I did not say that. Pray do not misunderstand me. I merely advise rest and perfect quiet. Indeed, you would be far better in bed for a few days—far better."

"I know my own feelings best, thanks," I replied, for his manner, almost man in his sane senses such a telegram as that would have been extremely gratifying," he observed.

"Now, tell me," I said; "do you know who I am?"

"I think I do. You are Mr. Wilford Heaton."

"And you tell me that I'm a millionaire?"

"I do, most certainly."

"Then, much as I regret to be compelled to say it, young man," I answered, "I am of opinion that you're a confounded liar."

"But Mawson has struck the gold seven dollars to the pan," he pointed out in protest.

"Well, what in the name of Fortune has it to do with me if he's struck it a thousand dollars to the handful?" I cried.

"I should be inclined to say it had a great deal to do with you as holder of the concession," he answered quite coolly.

"Oh, bother the concession," I said hastily. "I don't understand anything whatever about it, and, what's more, I don't want to be worried over any mining swindles." Then I added, sinking into the padded chair before the writing-table. "You seem to know all about me. Tell me, now—what's your name?"

"My name?" he echoed, staring at me blankly, as though utterly puzzled. "Well, I thought you knew it long ago. I'm Gedge—Reginald Gedge."

"And what are you, pray?"

"I'm your secretary."

"My secretary!" I echoed, gasping in amazement. Then I added, "Look here, you're trying to mislead me, all of you. I have no secretary—I've never had one. All this chatter about mines and concessions and such things is pure and simple rubbish."

"Very well," he answered with a slight sigh. "If you would have it so it must be. Britten has already said that you are somewhat confused after your accident."

"Britten be hanged!" I roared. "I'm no more confused than you are. All I want is a straightforward explanation of how I came here, in this house."

He smiled, pityingly I thought. That old medical idiot had apparently hinted to both the servant and this young prig, who declared himself my secretary, that I was not responsible for my actions; therefore, what could I expect?

The explanation is one which I regret I cannot give you," he answered. "All I want is your instructions what to wire to Mawson."

"Oh, bother Mawson!" I cried angrily. "Wire him whatever you like, only don't mention his name again to me. I don't know him, and don't desire to make any acquaintance either with him or his confounded pans."

"I shall send him congratulations, and tell him to remain in Dawson City pending further instructions."

"He can remain there until the Day of Judgment, for all I care," I said, a remark which brought a smile to his pale features.

A brief silence fell between us. All this was absolutely bewildering. I had been struck down on the previous night in a street in Chelsea to find myself next day in a country house, and to be coolly informed by a man who called himself my secretary that I was owner of a great gold concession and a millionaire. The whole thing seemed too utterly incredible.

I felt my head, and found it bandaged.

At that moment, however, the door opened, and turning quickly, I was confronted by an angular, bony-faced, lantern-jawed woman, whose rouged and powdered face and juvenility of dress struck me as utterly ludicrous. She was fifty, if a day, and although her face was wrinkled and brown where the artificial complexion had worn off, she was nevertheless attired in a manner becoming a girl of twenty.

"Oh, my dear Wilford! Whatever has happened?" she cried in alarm, in a thin, unmusical voice, when she beheld the bandages around my head.

I looked at her in mingled surprise and amusement; she was so doll-like and ridiculous in her painted juvenility.

"Mr. Heaton accidentally struck his head against the statue in the drawing room, madam," explained Gedge. "Doctor Britten has assured me that the injury is not at all serious. A little rest is all that is necessary."

"My dear Wilford! Oh, my dear Wilford! Why didn't you call me at once?"

"Well, madam," I answered, "that was scarcely possible, considering that I had not the honor of your acquaintance."

"What!" she wailed. "You—you can't really stand there and coolly tell me that you don't know me?"

"I certainly assert, madam, that I have absolutely no knowledge whatever of whom you may be," I said with some dignity.

"Is your brain so affected, then, that you actually fail to recognize me—Mary your wife?"

"You!" I gasped, glaring at her, dumbfounded. "You my wife! Impossible!"

(To be Continued.)

WOMEN AND GIRLS HELD BY ANAEMIA

Unless the Blood is Made Rich and Red Health Cannot be Restored.

Throughout Canada there are thousands of growing girls and women held in the deadly clutches of anaemia. Slowly but surely a deathly palor settles on their cheeks; their eyes grow dull; their appetite fickle; their steps languid. Daily they are being robbed of all vitality and brightness. Their sufferings grow more acute if neglected, until the signs of early consumption become apparent. If your wife or daughter or sister complains of weakness, pains in the side, headaches or backaches; if her appetite and temper are uncertain and she is often low spirited, anaemia has her in its deadly hold. What she needs is new, rich, red blood. Give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People without loss of time, for they actually make new, red blood. They make girls and women well and happy, impart an appetite and steadily bring back the charm and brightness of perfect, regular health.

Miss Carrie McGrath, 26 Fenwick St., Halifax, N. S., says:—"I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life. Three years ago I suffered from anaemia in a severe form. I was all run down and as pale as a sheet. I could scarcely eat anything, and what I did take did not seem to nourish me. My hands and feet were much swollen and the least exertion would leave me breathless and my heart beating violently. I seemed to have pains and aches all over. I was so weak I could not even sweep a floor. At different times I was under the care of three doctors, but did not get any better. One doctor said I had dropsy and that my blood had all turned to water. My friends thought I was in a decline and that I had but a short time to live. I was completely disengaged myself, when one day a lady friend called to see me, and told me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured her daughter of anaemia and urged me to try them. I decided to try them, and in the course of a few weeks felt somewhat better. I met the doctor one day and he remarked how much better I was looking. I

CRIMES OF PRISONERS

COUNTERFEITING IN AN ENGLISH GOAL.

An Enterprising French-Canadian — Dreadful Crime of an English Prisoner.

The case of the German convict who, by collusion with a dishonest warden, has been flooding the country round Rendsburg Penitentiary with counterfeit coins is not unparalleled. When Dartmoor was first used as a war prison, and inhabited by some thousands of French prisoners of war, it had workshops, where, not only silver coins, but even Bank of England notes, were successfully counterfeited. The forgeries were used in buying provisions from the country people, and in those days, when coining and forgery were hanging matters, there were several cases of innocent owners of the bad money getting into serious trouble.

For instance, in 1812, three of the prisoners agreed with a soldier warden, named Lynch, to pay him a certain sum if he would aid them to escape. He agreed, and they paid him with forged Bank of England notes. When Lynch tried to pass one of the notes he was arrested, convicted, and transported. Sham silver was made out of lead stripped from the roof.

CONCEALED IN HIS CELL.

We look on the exploits of Jack Shepherd as, in the main, amusing fiction; but, all the same, there are recent instances of similar daring. A young French-Canadian named Thibodeau was arrested for theft, and sentenced to twelve months in the Bathurst (New Brunswick) Prison. Presently began a series of mysterious burglaries in houses near the prison. For the life of them, the local police could make nothing of the case. Then, one night, a warden was amazed to see a man breaking into the prison. He watched him crawl up a sloping roof, and climbing a lightning conductor, eventually enter the window of Thibodeau's cell. Posting a guard outside, he rushed up. Thibodeau was apparently asleep in his hammock; but, pulling off the blanket, the warden found that the man was fully dressed, and that there was wet mud on his clothes. Thibodeau was the burglar, and eventually all the stolen goods were discovered, hidden in a hole in the floor of his cell.

Thibodeau's exploits are inexplicable for he could never have hoped to remove unsuspecting such a mass of valuables as he had accumulated. A Spaniard—or rather, Basque—named Elcheopar, who was confined in the goal at Oloron, in the Pyrenees, was much more crafty. One night he wrenched the bars out of a narrow skylight in his cell, squeezed through, and made for the chief warden's room. Here he got a gold watch, a revolver, and the prison key. In the office below he found three more watches, some other jewellery, and money. Packing these in a bag, and changing his clothes for those of a warden, he calmly walked out of prison, and escaped.

IN THE PRISON CHAPEL.

Even English prison discipline, strict as it is, cannot altogether prevent the carrying out of those terrible and apparently causeless vendettas so common in the convict world. A dreadful scene occurred a few years ago in Knutsford Gaol. A convict, having a grudge against another, stole and hid a knife, and waited his opportunity. This came at last in chapel. The convict's enemy happened to be placed exactly in front of him, and in the middle of service the brute sprang forward and buried his knife in the other's back. Warders rushing in were only just in time to prevent the fellow finishing his deadly work.

A story of prison crime, which is comic rather than tragic, comes from Hungary. The gaoler at Neudorf one morning found ten of his charges who quite right in my mind."

"No, no," he assured me quickly. "I did not say that. Pray do not misunderstand me. I merely advise rest and perfect quiet. Indeed, you would be far better in bed for a few days—far better."

"I know my own feelings best, thanks," I replied, for his manner, although it might impress nervous old ladies, aroused within me a strong resentment.

"Exactly. But surely you should, for your own sake, attend to the suggestions of your medical adviser?"

"You have formed wrong conclusions—entirely wrong conclusions," I laughed. "Is it likely that I shall take notice of anything you say when you believe that I'm not responsible for my actions?"

I had watched his face carefully, and I knew that, like the dark-faced young man and Gill, the servant, he believed my brain unbalanced.

"I assure you, my dear sir, you entirely misunderstand me," he protested. "I merely say—"

"Oh, enough!" I cried angrily, turning upon my heel and leaving the room abruptly. I was sick of the chattering old idiot, who evidently believed that I was not responsible for my actions.

Down the wide oak stairs I passed, and in the great hall, which seemed to run the whole length of the house, and was lined with stands of armor, tattered banners, and trophies of the chase, I encountered the pale young man who had sent for old Britten.

I was passing him by, intent upon exploring this strange house in which I found myself, when, approaching me, he said:

"Would you please come into the library for one moment?"

"The library?" I asked, looking at him, puzzled. "Where is it?"

He opened a door close by, and I followed him into a comfortable study, lined with books from floor to ceiling. In the centre was a large writing-table, cluttered with papers, half closed beside was another smaller table, very severe and business-like.

"What is it?" I inquired. "What do you want?"

"This telegram has just arrived," he said, very excitedly, unclipping a drawer to his smaller writing-table, and taking out a telegram, which he handed to me. It read: "All of the flimsy paper and telegrams written thereon, as follows:

"We are to-day in receipt of following telegram from our dear friend Mr. Charles Mawson, in City, has struck it successively to pay Bank of British North America, London."

Such a message was utterly unintelligible to me.

"What?" I inquired, raising my eyes and looking at him, surprised. "I don't understand Charles Mawson, whoever he is, nor hasten to tell me that. What does it matter to me?"

"Matter?" My dear sir! Matter?" he cried, staring at me as though in wonder. "Oh, the rest, I think, he something that matters with you."

"Well, perhaps you'll kindly explain what it means?" I said. "I have, I assure you, no idea."

"Why, it means," he said, his face betraying his intense excitement—it means that Mr. Mawson's report is correct that there is, after all, rich gold on the concession; in short, that being owner of one of the most valuable pieces of concessions you are a millionaire!"

"That's all very interesting," I remarked with a smile, while he stood staring at me in perfect wonder.

"I fear," he said, "that you're not quite yourself today. The injury to your head has possibly affected you."

"No, I hasn't," I snapped quickly. "I'm quite as clear-headed as you are."

"Then I should have thought that been struck down on the previous night in a street in Chelsea to find myself next day in a country house, and to be coolly informed by a man who called himself my secretary that I was owner of a great gold concession and a millionaire. The whole thing seemed too utterly incredible.

I felt my head, and found it bandaged. There was no mistake about the reality of it all. It was no curious chimera of the imagination.

Before me upon the blotting-pad were some sheets of blank note-paper. I turned them over in idle curiosity, and found embossed upon them the address in bold, black characters: "Denbury Court, near Budleigh, Salterton."

"Is this place Denbury Court?" I inquired.

"Yes."

"And whose guest am I, pray?"

"You are no one's guest. This is your own house," was his amazing response.

I turned towards him determinedly, and in a hard voice said—

"I think, Mr. Gedge, that you've taken leave of your senses. I've never heard of this place before, and am certainly not its owner. Are you certain you are not confounding me with some one else—some one resembling me in personal appearance?"

"Absolutely certain," he replied. "Your name is Wilford Heaton, and I repeat that I am your confidential private secretary."

I shook my head.

"Well," he said quickly, "here is some further proof," and bending beside me he opened one of the drawers of the big writing-table, and took therefrom a number of blank forms, which he placed before me. In eagerness I read their printed heading. It was: "From Wilford Heaton, 103A, Winchester House, Old Broad Street, London, E.C."

"Well, what are those used for?" I asked in wonder.

"They are used at the City Office," he answered, tossing them back into the drawer. "They are used at the City Office," he answered, tossing them back into the drawer.

"And you tell me I am wealthy?" I said, with a cynical laugh.

"Your banker's pass-book should be sufficient proof of that," he answered; and taking the book from an iron safe let into the opposite wall, he opened it and placed it before me.

I glanced at the cover. Yes, there was no mistake. It was my own pass-book.

My eyes fell upon the balance standing to my credit, and the largeness of the figures held me open-eyed in astonishment.

It was wealth beyond all my wildest dreams.

"And that is mine—absolutely mine?" I inquired, when at last I found tongue.

"Certainly," he replied, a moment later adding, "It is really very strange that I have to instruct you in your own private affairs."

"Why have I an office in the City?" I asked, for that point was puzzling.

"In order to carry on your business."

"What business?"

"That of financial agent."

I smiled at the absurdity of the idea. I had never been a thrifty man; in fact I had never had occasion to trouble my head about finance, and, truth to tell, had always been, from a lad, a most extravagant at figures.

"I fear I'm a sorry financier," I remarked for want of something better to say.

"You are acknowledged to be one of the shrewdest and the soundest in the City of London," Gedge answered.

"Well," I remarked, closing the pass-book, securing the flap, and handing it back to him, "all I have to say is that this last hour that has passed has been absolutely replete with mystery. I can make nothing of all these things you tell me—absolutely nothing. I shall begin to doubt whether I'm actually myself very soon."

"It would be better to rest a little, if I might advise," he said, in a more deferential tone than before. "Britten suggested rest. That now has upset you a little. To-morrow you'll be quite right again. I feel sure."

"I don't intend to rest until I've cleared up this mystery," I said determinedly, rising from the table.

was completely disengaged myself, when one day a lady friend called to see me, and told me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured her daughter of anaemia and urged me to try them. I decided to try them, and in the course of a few weeks felt somewhat better. I met the doctor one day and he remarked how much better I was looking. I told him it was not his medicine but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that were helping me, and he told me I had better keep on taking them. I continued to do so until I had taken another half dozen boxes, when my health was perfectly restored. I am more than grateful for what these pills have done for me and strongly recommend them to all weak girls."

Thousands of men and women, now well and strong, praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for having cured anaemia, general weakness, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous disorders, paralysis and the ailments of girlhood and womanhood.

These Pills do this by making new, red blood, which feeds the starved nerves, drives out disease and strengthens every organ in the body. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OLD-FASHIONED SUMMER DRINKS

Baked Buttermilk for the Complexion—How It was Prepared.

Buttermilk in days long gone by was almost a fetish in the hands of the beauties of the time. When Marie Antoinette and her ladies rolled up the sleeves of their flowered muslins and played with churning and cream bowls in the laiterie at the petit Trianon the buttermilk craze was at its height, says the London Evening Standard.

Unguents for the face as well as the potions in which they indulged were probably responsible for the lovely complexions which made poets compose odes to the bloom of their cheeks and painters almost implore on their knees that disdainful beauties should relent so far as to have their charms immortalized. In baked buttermilk one of the strongholds of the complexion was said to lie. In a few days it worked wonders, while perseverance in its use during the whole of the summer months would preserve the skin smooth and soft as a roseleaf.

Where the sour milk prophet err'd to-day is in insultingly diluting the buttermilk, the proportions in the genuine old recipes of the past being that of a gill to a pint of fresh milk. This was poured into a jar with a fitted lid and placed before the open range during the whole of a day.

By night the milk had turned to the consistency of clotted cream, in which state it was poured from a height from one vessel to another until, by some magical means, the contents had gone back once more to the smoothness of fresh milk. It was then sweetened with cane sugar and enclosed finally in a stone bottle, corked down tightly and placed before the fire but not so near for five or six hours. At first baked buttermilk does not always appear particularly pleasing, the mere fact that it is distinctly sour making it an acquired taste.

If it was not acid, however, it was scarcely considered to have been perfectly made, while if it effervesced when the bottle was opened it formed not only a mere refreshing summer drink, particularly when well seed, but was thought to be particularly efficacious as a means of improving the complexion.

MILK IN BRICKS

Summer milk by the brick can now be bought in both Denmark and Belgium. The Belgian government has given a yearly subsidy of about $50,000 to increase the trade. In Copenhagen a firm engaged in this business makes a weekly delivery of 300,000 quarts per week, and a great deal of this goes to distant countries.

of service the brute sprang forward and buried his knife in the other's back. Warders rushing in were only just in time to prevent the fellow finishing his deadly work.

A story of prison crime, which is comic rather than tragic, comes from Hungary. The gaoler at Neudorf one morning found ten of his charges who were in a common ward all plainly suffering from excessive alcohol. But where had they got the liquor? It was hours before the mystery was solved. Then the proprietor of the next house—a wine-shop—found that he had been robbed. It appears that one of the prisoners was an old employee of this man. At his instigation, the prisoners had made a hole through the flooring, reached the cellar below, and spent all night carousing.—London Answers.

GERMAN RED TAPE.

The widow of a German officer presented herself at the office in Berlin for the purpose of drawing the pension due to her. She handed in the necessary certificate from the mayor of the village in which she lived, to the effect that she was still alive. "This certificate is not correct," said the officer in charge. "What is the matter with it?" asked the lady. "It bears the date of December 21," was the stern reply, "and your pension was due on December 15." "What kind of a certificate do you wish?" asked the disappointed applicant. "We must have a certificate stating that you were alive on December 15," said the officer, with great firmness.

Mother—"Don't let me catch you at that jem again." Tommy—"Well, mother, if you keep it lower down, I could get away quicker."

Timid Child (who has just been assured of the company of angels in the dark)—"Ye-e-s, but, mummy, couldn't you have the angels and leave me the candle?"

A Tonic for the Debilitated.—Parmelee's Vegetable Pills by acting mildly but thoroughly on the secretions of the body are a valuable tonic, stimulating the lagging organs to a healthful action and restoring them to full vigor. They can be taken in graduated doses and so used that they can be discontinued at any time without return of the ailments which they were used to allay.

OUT OF SIGHT.

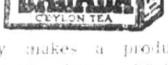

Mistress—"What you ignorantly term the snail's horns, Bridget, are really as eyes."

Bridget—"Gory b—f Phwaz an elegant air-ingement fur likin' through a key-hole."

NOR THE BAT.

Fish hooks have not materially changed in 2,000 years. For that matter, neither have the fish.

Butcher—"I need a boy about your size, and will give you three dollars a week." Boy—"Shall I have a chance to us?" Butcher—"Yes, for I shall want you to be here at four o'clock in the morning."

Salada makes a product needed, quickly brings fame. "Salada" Tea is both noted and famous.

FITS CURED

Suffers from Fits, Epilepsy, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Troubles or Falling Sickness should write the MERRING CO., 179 King street, Toronto, for a trial bottle of their Fit Cure and Treatment. Enclose 10c for postage and packing.

WILSON'S FLY PADS

One packet has actually killed a bushel of flies.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS, GROCERS AND GENERAL STORES 10c per packet, or 3 packets for 25c. will last a whole season.

The Bell Piano and Organ Co., Ltd., Guelph, Ont.

PIRACY IN 1908.

Piracy is Not so Nearly Extinct as is Generally Assumed.

The seizure of the Neuvre Tigre in the South Pacific, as reported from Sydney recently, might have happened in the days of Captain Kidd. The master and mate were made to walk the plank in the bad old style, after which the name of the stolen vessel was altered to the White Rose, and her course set for the coral islands, on one of which she ultimately went ashore.

Then there was the case of the French ship Baleineen, which was bootyed by Moorish pirates off Cape Juby last February, and whose crew of nineteen men were only saved from imminent death by the opportune arrival of Lord Mountmores, who got them by a ruse on board a little thirty-ton yacht he was navigating.

Somewhat earlier in the year, a little further to the southward, a horde of black pirates attacked and looted the German steamer, Ascan Woermann, near Shanghai, during the same week, two launches were attacked by several hundred pirates while steaming down the river, three passengers being killed and cargo valued at $15,000 carried off; while only the other day a determined attempt was made by nomad Arab tribesmen to capture a British steamer plying on the Euphrates, several of her passengers and crew being killed or wounded by rifle fire.

Nor do the above instances by any means exhaust the list of outrages of the kind that have occurred during the present year, for between January 1st and March 1st, according to an American Consular report, no fewer than eleven craft of various sorts and sizes have been captured by pirates in and about the Philippine Islands.

HUSBAND AND SON CURED.

A Mother's Praise of Zam-Buk.

HIGHEST PEAK IN CANADA.

Two Men Will Try to Summit the Snows of Mount Robson.

Two trained mountaineers of Canada, Dr. Coleman, the geologist of Toronto University, and Mr. Kinney of Victoria, B. C., will attempt to reach the top of Mount Robson this summer. It is a virgin peak. Mr. Kinney went to the mountain last year only to meet rain below and snow above in such quantities that he could not make the climb.

Mount Robson is one of the most inaccessible summits in North America. It stands a little west of the divide between waters going to the Arctic Ocean and others flowing to the Pacific.

So far as is known it is the highest point in Canada. Its height was ascertained by the Canadian Geological Survey only about ten years ago. It is 13,700 feet above the sea and rises 10,750 feet above the neighboring valley, but somehow it never impressed those who saw it with its tremendous elevation, nearly two miles above their standpoint.

It is the centre of scenery of remarkable grandeur. James McEvoy of the Canadian Geological Survey explored this region in 1888 and said that the descriptions of Milton and Cheadle written in 1865 had in no respect been overdrawn.

This is of interest to all tourists, because this magnificent mountain region, now very hard to reach ad impossible for the ordinary traveler to traverse, will before long be open to all. The route of the Grand Trunk Pacific, which is now being extended westward from Edmonton, will be carried through the Yellow Head Pass, and in the stretch where it will skirt the northern bank of the upper Fraser the trains will pass only a few miles south of the great mountain.

Mount Robson will be a hard proposition for the average mountaineer, and its ascent will doubtless be left to experts, for it has a slope of 60 degrees practically from base to summit. It is glacier clad, very rugged, and its apex of ice, glittering in the morning sun, two miles in the air, is said to be one of the finest sights that mountains anywhere afford.

DISTRIBUTING THE REVENUE.

The reports of the various departments of a great Railway system, would, if made public, often surprise the readers of current news. It has been gathered that the Grand Trunk Railway System has spent, within the past few years, not less than fifteen million dollars in double tracking the main line, and that the pioneer Canadian Railway now operates the longest stretch of double track under one management, in the world.

In addition to this they have spent other millions in stations, shops and other improvements, thus increasing the carrying capacity of the road contributing to the upbuilding of the country, and at the same time affording added security to the lives and property of its patrons which the installation of block signals on a single tracked line could never secure. By the expenditure of all these millions in Canada, they are distributing the Revenue, or a good share of it, among the people.

"I can't decide," she said, "whether to take the hat or not. But it is just the dearest thing I have seen this season." "The dearest?" asked the husband, with a sardonic laugh. "Then it's certain that you'll take it."

The healthy glow disappearing from the cheek and meaning and restlessness at night are sure symptoms of worms in children. Do not fail to get a bottle of Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; it is an effectual medicine.

END OF THE SEASON.

Guest (in restaurant)—"I say, waiter, have you any oysters?"

Waiter—"No, sah. We all aint got no shell fish 'ceptin' ones sah."

SHREDDED

Try a Seasonable Diet and Give Your Stomach a Chance.

Shredded Wheat, with Strawberries will be found wholesome, appetizing and much more nutritious than meat; also with raspberries, peaches and other fresh fruits.

It Will Tone Up Your Liver and Stomach.

Sold by all grocers.

WHEAT

PANGO

For Neuralgia, Headache, Rheumatism, Pain, Etc.

50 CENTS. ALL DRUGGISTS, OR

The Pang Company, Toronto

WHOLESALE

LYMAN BROS. & CO., Toronto and Montreal; LYMAN KNOX & CLARKSON, Toronto; NATIONAL DRUG CO., London.

A. J. PATTISON & CO.,

33 Scott St., TORONTO. Phone Main 1311

INVESTMENT BONDS.

Stocks bought and sold on all exchanges for cash or margin.

Cobalt orders executed for cash.

CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

MANUFACTURERS

INTENDING TO LOCATE IN TORONTO WILL FIND

Ideal Manufacturing Premises
IN TRUTH BUILDING

Flats 2,000 to 10,000 Square Feet Each
LOWEST RENTALS, INCLUDING

Steam Power, Heat, Electric Light

Fire Sprinkler System, Lowest Insurance.
Most Central Location. Four Large Freight Elevators.

S. Frank Wilson & Sons, 73-81 Adelaide St., West

THE

Larder City Gold Mines

LIMITED

been captured by pirates in and about the Philippine Islands.

HUSBAND AND SON CURED.

A Mother's Praise of Zan-Buk.

Oakwood, Victoria.

Dear Sirs—I have great pleasure in stating that Zan-Buk cured my husband of barber's rash with twice rubbing. It also cured my little boy of a dreadfully bad arm after vaccination. I know of several other cures it has effected and I cannot speak too highly of it. I am sure if people once try it they will always use it. Yours truly, R. SAVILLE. Zan-Buk is healing, soothing and antiseptic. It quickly heals wounds and skin troubles. Certain cure for piles. Sold by all druggists and stores, 50c a box, 3 for $1.25.

Sometimes it makes a girl blush to think how a certain young man might have kissed her, but don't.

Are your corns harder to remove than those that others have had? Have they not had the same kind? Have they not been cured by using Holloway's Corn Cure? Try a bottle.

"Truth," remarked the moralizer, "is stronger than fiction." "Yes," rejoined the demoralizer, "and the majority of men seem to be shy of associating with strangers."

Success In Life is dependent upon good health. You are out of sorts, ill or feeble, take "Frovin." It's the best tonic. $1 bottles. All medicine dealers.

"Mr. Brown is such a charming companion!" "Never noticed it. He generally says nothing." "Yes; but he says it so beautifully!"

She (passionately)—"Will you ever love an' her, dear sir?" He (wearily)—"No, never, if I get out of this affair!"

To Prevent is Better Than to Repent.—A little medicine in the shape of the wonderful pellets which are known as Parneec's Vegetable Pills, administered at the proper time and with the directions adhered to often prevent a serious attack of sickness and have money which would go to the doctor. In all irregularities of the digestive organs they are an invaluable corrective and by cleansing the blood they clear the skin of imperfections.

"Johnny, you must comb your hair before you come to school!" "I ain't got no comb." "Borrow your father's." "Pa ain't got no comb either." "Don't be comb his hair?" "He ain't got no hair."

A. R. BICKERSTAFF & CO.,
Stocks, Bonds and Debentures,
Cobalt and all Mining and Oil Stocks of Canada and United States.
Orders executed with promptness. Correspondence solicited.
621 to 627 Traders Bank Building, Toronto, Ont.
Phone Main 929.

WHERE BABIES ARE NOT BURIED.

Among the Chinese in the Straits Settlements, and in their own country, it is nothing uncommon for the corpses of infants to be cast away, instead of being buried. The charitable explanation is that this is done to save burial expenses. The "Echo de Chine" gives the true reason as being the deep-rooted superstitious belief among them that the death of a baby arises out of punishment to its soul for sins committed in a previous state of existence. It is an accursed creature, whose coffin no one will follow. It is, hence, a common sight in China to see dying babies laid down by the roadside to breathe their last. The parents will not allow them to die in the house, the belief being that infants, after their death, become wicked spirits. To allow them to die under the parents' roof will bring nothing but evil upon the family.

water; it is an effectual medicine.

END OF THE SEASON.

Guest (in restaurant)—"I say, waiter, have you any oysters?"
Waiter—"No, sah. We all aint got no shell fish 'ceptin' eggs, sah."

AN INCOME

of FIFTY-TWO DOLLARS a year as long as you live, or SEVEN HUNDRED DOLLARS CASH, is the First Prize in the cartoon contest now being advertised by the ORANGE MEAT people. There are a great number of other large Cash Prizes, and all that is required of you to enter this contest is to send your name and address to ORANGE MEAT Kingston, and commence saving the bottoms of packages of ORANGE MEAT.

Make a start TO DAY.

ORANGE MEAT and Milk supplies the most perfect and evenly balanced food the human subject can secure.

Magistrate about to commit for trial:—"You certainly effected the robbery in a remarkably ingenious way—in fact, with quite exceptional cunning." Prisoner (deprecatingly)—"No flattery, yer honor—no flattery, I begs yr."

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine which never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

FASHION TURNS THE SCALE.

Knicker—"She thinks fishing is cruel." Becker—"Yes, she doesn't wear them on her hat."

There is no more obstinate skin trouble than Salt Rheum. It sometimes lingers for years, but Weaver's Cerate makes short work of it. Also, Weaver's Syrup to insure permanent cure.

Wife—"Fanny has given notice." Hubby—"Why?" Wife—"She says you're in a brutal manner to her on the telephone yesterday." Hubby—"Yesterday? I thought I was speaking to you!"

It Has Many Offices.—Before the German soldier starts on a long march he rubs his feet with tallow, for his first care is to keep his feet in good condition. If he knew that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil would be of much better service he would throw away his tallow and pack a few bottles of the Oil in his knapsack. There is nothing like it.

A WIDE WAY.

Merry Widow Werner—"Can you tell me if I can get through this gate to the park?"

More Muhi—"I guess so. A load of hay just went through."

ADDING INSULT TO INJURY.

"Now, don't deny it, Rose. You wore my shoes."

"Only once—my feet hurt me so, and I wanted something comfortable."

She—"It is said that cats have a great dread of water." He—"Oh, I don't know! Our cat seems to drink that milk the milkman brings us!"

BLACK WATCH
The Name of
Black Watch
On a Tag on a Plug of Black Chewing Tobacco
Stands for Quality.

Larder City Gold Mines

LIMITED

(No Personal Liability)

Authorized Capital, - $4,000,000.00

DIRECTORS.

Arthur Dennis, Contractor, President.
A. S. Wigmore, Mgr. Homes Electric and Protection Co., Vice-President.
Fred. Armstrong, Contractor, Secy-Treasurer.
F. H. Herbert, Architect.
J. C. Holley, Contractor.
George Dutile, Sr., Contractor.
J. H. Tighe, Miner.

BANKERS.

The Crown Bank, Toronto.

AUDITOR.

Henry Barber, Toronto.

The property consists of 28 40-acre Claims immediately adjoining the new famous HARRIS MAXWELL, and upon the same amount of development should prove equally as good.

100,000 shares are now offered to the public at 15 cents per share. Do not lose this GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY of investing in one of the most promising properties in the district. For full particulars apply to

HENRY F. DARRELL, - FISCAL AGENT,
No. 8 Coborne Street, Toronto.

PRINTERS

A CAMPBELL PRESS

TWO REVOLUTION

43x56 inch bed, cost $2,500.

Will be Sold for $400 Cash

In order to make room for larger and faster machines. It is in good running order, as it has just been thoroughly overhauled by a competent machinist.

The Wilson Publishing Co., Limited
73 Adelaide St. West, Toronto.

It is better to be born plucky than rich and unlucky.

If a man has sense he sees other things in life besides dollars.

Grimsy—"So you want to marry my daughter, sir! What are your principles? Are you temperate?" Flidley—"Temperate! Why, I am so strict that it gives me pain even to find my boots tight."

YOUR OVERCOATS

and faded suits would look better dyed. If no agent of ours in your town, write direct Montreal, Box 158

BRITISH AMERICAN DYEING CO.

how much money he could save by using a Fairbanks Morse Jack-of-all-Trades Gasoline Engine to saw wood, pump water, grind feed, &c., we would not be able to supply the demand.

Cut this ad. out and send to us to-day, and we will send you our free catalogue.

Home Employment for Ladies

LIGHT, EASY, PLEASANT

Such as any lady can do and enjoy. Any lady who wishes, and sees this advertisement may, if she writes soon, secure this opportunity to be independent, earning a good living in a very easy manner. Work any lady can do. For particular address

MRS. M. SUMMERS,
Correspondence Department,
Windsor, Ont.

VICTOR - BERLINER GRAMOPHONES

All prices and styles from $12.40 to $2.40. Write for free catalogue.

DEPT. D

TORONTO GRAMOPHONE COMPANY,
264 Yonge Street, Toronto.

Agents wanted in every town.

The Canadian Fairbanks Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver.

ROBBERIES ON THE C. P. R.

Claimed to Have Been Solved by the Arrest of a Negro After a Long Chase.

A despatch from North Bay, Dnt., says: The mystery of many robberies of passengers on C. P. R. trains west of North Bay during the last month, which caused the railway company great annoyance, and seemed destined to baffle the best detective skill, has, it is claimed, by the authorities, been solved in the arrest on Wednesday of a negro, giving the name of Lamont. Pinkerton Detective Murray, of Boston, who has been working on the case for several weeks, chased Lamont to Moose Jaw, his quarry doubling back from that point and managing to elude the detective until Wednesday, when C. P. R. Constable Williams arrested him at North Bay and wired Detective Murray of his capture. Murray arrived and identified the prisoner as the man wanted. Lamont has been travelling back and forth on night trains. When asked his reason for travelling so extensively, he said he was just fishing.

Lamont was identified by C. P. R. officials as having made his headquarters at Schreiber, where he occasioned the company considerable trouble. He was remanded to jail for eight days in order that his record could be looked up.

LEADING MARKETS

BREADSTUFFS.

Toronto, July 21.—Ontario Wheat—No. 2 white, red or mixed, 81c to 82c.

Manitoba Wheat—Market quotations at Georgian Bay Ports: No. 1 northern, $1.10; No. 2 northern, $1.07; No. 3 northern, $1.04½.

Corn—No. 2 yellow, steady at 63c to 84c, Toronto freights.

Oats—Ontario, No. 2 white, 45c to 46c outside; No. 2 mixed, 43½c; Manitoba No. 2, 44½c, lake ports; No. 3, 43½c; rejects, 40c to 41c, lake ports.

Barley—No. 2, 56c to 60c; No. 3, 55c.

Peas—No. 2 nominally quoted at 90c.

Rye—No. 2, none offering; quotations nominal around 85c.

Buckwheat—No. 2 nominally quoted 85c to 88c.

I—¹ at $15 to $16 in bulk. ² at $20 to $21 in bulk outside; quotations for delivery in bags $2 more.

Flour—Manitoba patents, special brands, $6; seconds, $5.40; strong bakers', $5.30; winter wheat patents selling at $3.15 bid.

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Butter—Wholesale prices are: Creamery, prints, 24c to 25c; creamery, solids, 23c to 24c; dairy prints, choice, 22c to 23c; dairy prints, ordinary, 20c to 21c; dairy tubs, 19c to 20c; inferior, 16c to 17c.

Eggs—Prices range from 10½c to 21c per dozen in case lots.

Cheese—Prices of new range between 12½c to 13c for large, and 13½c to 13½c for twins.

Beans—$2 for primes and $2.10 for hand-picked.

Potatoes—Imported new potatoes are quoted at $4 to $4.20 per barrel in car lots on track here.

PROVISIONS.

Local quotations are: Pork—Short cut, $23 to $23.50 per barrel; mess, $19 to $19.50.

Lard—Tierses, 12c; tubs, 12½c; pails, 12½c.

Smoked and Dry Salted Meats—Long clear bacon, 11½c to 11½c, —Easy; No. 3 yellow, 79½c; No. 3 corn, 76½ to 77½c; No. 3 white, 78½c. Oats—Firm; No. 2 white, 62c; No. 3 white, 60c. Barley—Feed to malting, 66c to 76c. Rye—No. 2 on track, 79c.

Minneapolis, July 21.—Wheat—No. 1 northern, $1.16½; No. 2 Northern, $1.14½ to $1.14½; No. 3 Northern, $1.09½ to $1.19½; No. 1 hard, $1.18½; July, $1.14; September, 96½ to 98½c. Flour—Firm; first patents, $5.65 to $5.80; second patents, $5.55 to $5.70; first clears, $4.35 to $4.45; second clears, $3.50 to $3.60. Bran, in bulk, $19.00 to $19.50.

Milwaukee, July 21.—Wheat—No. 1 Northern, $1.17 to $1.18; No. 2 Northern, $1.15 to $1.16; Sept., 90½ to 90½c bid. Rye—No. 1, 74½ to 75c. Barley—No. 2, 75c; sample, 60 to 72c. Corn—No. 3 cash, 73½ to 74½c; Sept., 74½c bid.

New York, July 21.—Wheat—Spot, easy; No. 2 red, 97½c to 99c, elevator; No. 2 red, $1.00½ f.o.b. afloat; No. 1 northern, Duluth, $1.22½, f.o.b. afloat; No. 2 hard winter, $1.07½ f.o.b. afloat.

CATTLE MARKET.

Toronto, July 21.—Prices were reported 10c to 15c higher in some cases, but for the greater part they were steady. The demand for exporters shows a slight improvement. Good butchers' were very scarce and what there were brought very good prices. Cows were firm, although no material change was noticeable in the prices.

There was a good supply of sheep and lambs, and the demand was good, so the market was just about steady. Local prices of choice live hogs are $6.90 per ewt., fed and watered off cars Toronto.

SEVEN PRISONERS ESCAPE.

Broke Through One of the Rooms at Toronto Jail.

A despatch from Toronto says: A skillfully-planned and boldly-executed escape from Toronto jail was made on Friday by seven prisoners, who got clear away. It was a few minutes prior to 4 o'clock that the escape was discovered, but as the prisoners were all dressed in their usual clothes there was no

UPSET IN A SQUALL.

Young Man and Woman Drowned, Child Rescued.

A despatch from Halifax says: While sailing on Bedford Basin late Wednesday afternoon Una Roy, aged seventeen, and William Muir, aged sixteen, were drowned, and Margaret Muir, aged twelve, a sister of the last named victim, was rescued, after being half an hour in the water. When the party left Bedford at 4 o'clock the weather was fine and the water calm, but suddenly a terrific thunderstorm set in, and before the party could make the shore a heavy squall swept down from the north, and capsized the boat. The three occupants were hurled into the water about a quarter of a mile from the shore. As the craft began to fill and settle down in the water, Muir seized the two oars, passing one to his little sister and the other to Miss Roy. The latter, however, soon sank, and Muir, exhausted from his efforts to keep the two girls afloat, also went down. Little Margaret, however, clung to the oar, and her screams for help attracted the attention of a man named Wilkes, who was on the shore, and, procuring a boat, he rescued the little girl. The victims are members of prominent Halifax families summering at Bedford. Miss Roy is a daughter of Mr. J. E. Roy, and William Muir a son of Mr. Andrew Muir.

A SAD PICNIC THIS.

Driver of Tally-ho Fatally Injured at Guelph.

A despatch from Guelph says: A fatal accident occurred on Saturday to a jolly party of Guelph printers and their friends through which Fred Anderson lost his life. Anderson was employed in Hooper's livery stable and was the driver on a four-horse tally-ho, which was taking the Guelph party to Putlinch Lake, where they were to join a printers' picnic from Galt. The accident, which was of a trifling nature and yet resulted fatally, happened on Waterloo avenue just after the start was made. The wheel caught in the street car switch, causing the vehicle to slew, and Anderson was thrown from his seat and under the heavy wheels. The front wheels passed over his legs, but the hind wheel caught the middle of his body, crushing him in such a manner as to cause death a couple of hours later in the hospital. The unfortunate fellow was brought back in the tally-ho and the trip was called off. Anderson was a married man and was well known and respected in the city.

THE WEST WANTS MEN.

The Labor Scarcity Likely to be a Serious Problem.

A despatch from Winnipeg says: Grain in all parts of the west is showing the benefits of the recent rains, and everywhere the situation is very encouraging. Developments are few and steady growth is the principal feature. Wheat heads are filling out in fine style, giving promise of heavy yields. Unusual concern is felt regarding the supply of harvest hands this year. The interval between the harvest in Ontario and that in Manitoba is like-

Fashion Hints.

GLOVE STYLES.

Gloves are a very important factor of every costume, because it is unavoidable that they should be in plain view all the time. Many a pretty dress has been ruined by the gloves worn with it, all because the wearer did not know the etiquette, as it were, of glove wearing.

If a few simple rules are learned the rest comes easily. In the first place, colored gloves should be eschewed, the term colored meaning gloves of pink, blue, green and reddish tints.

Red-brown is allowable, especially in winter; brown and black and gray are always good; while white is seldom out of place and this year yellowish and pinkish yellow gloves are considered stylish. There is strictly no occasion and no time when it is strictly good form and good taste to wear gloves of any color save those mentioned.

If the dress is in a dark shade—green, navy blue, crimson—wear black, dark gray or brown gloves on all ordinary occasions; if the dress is in white or some light color, wear white or yellowish gloves.

Brown gloves are good for all tailored suits, but they are not considered dressy unless the whole costume be of the same shade.

White gloves are always popular and absolutely necessary with full dress—except on rare occasions, when the costume is all black.

Black gloves are good style, but rather sombre for evening dress. It is not good taste to wear black gloves with white or very light dresses, particularly in summer.

Yellowish and pinkish yellow gloves are much worn, but only with colored dresses, and not in the evening. Of course, white dresses demand white gloves.

Gray gloves at the moment are not much in favor, but when they are worn they usually accompany black tailored suits or gray costumes, either tailored or dressy.

Not only must the color be correct and appropriate, but the material must also be taken into consideration.

Silk and cotton gloves are at no time dressy. If they are worn it should be in the morning with a gingham dress or linen suit. They are allowable on a shopping tour; for calling nothing less than chamois is proper. Silk and cotton gloves should be chosen only in white, black or tan.

Chamois gloves are rather informal, though they are cool for summer. Besides that, they may be washed at home. They come only in two shades—the natural and the white, and the former is more popular this year. Chamois gloves are worn with strictly tailored suits whether of cloth or linen, morning frocks or pongees.

Suede gloves may be worn at any time except for full dress. In summer they may even serve for dressy occasions, as they are so much cooler than glace.

Glace kid gloves are imperative for full dress—except in very hot weather—and may be worn with al-

Local quotations are—

Pork—Short cut, $23 to $23.50 per barrel; mess, $19 to $19.50.

Lard—Tieres, 12c; tubs, 12½c; pails, 12½c.

Smoked and Dry Salted Meats—Long clear bacon, 11½c to 11¾c; tons and cases; hams, medium and light, 14½c to 15c; hams, large, 12½c to 13c; backs, 17c to 17½c; shoulders, 10c to 10½c; rolls, 10½c to 11c; breakfast bacon, 15c to 15½c; green meats, out of pickle, 1c less than smoked.

MONTREAL MARKETS.

Montreal, July 21.—Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, $6.10 to $6.20; second patents, $5.50 to $5.70; winter wheat patents, $5 to $5.50; straight rollers, $4.25 to $4.50; in bags, $1.95 to $2.10; extra, $1.50 to $1.70.

Rolled Oats—$2.50 in bags of 90 pounds.

Oats—No. 2, 49c to 50c; No. 3, 46c to 46½c; No. 4, 45c to 45½c; rejected, 44c; Manitoba, rejected (nominal), 44c to 45c.

Cornmeal—$1.85 to $1.95 per bag.

Millfeed—Ontario bran, in bags, $20.50 to $21.50; shorts, $23 to $24; Manitoba bran, in bags, $22 to $23; shorts, $24 to $35.

Cheese—11½c to 12c for westerns and at 11½c to 11¾c for easterns.

Butter—23c to 23½c for round lots and at 24c in a jobbing way for creamery.

Eggs—Sales of selected stock were made at 22c, No. 1 19c, and No. 2 at 16c per dozen.

Provisions—Barrels short cut mess, $22.50; half-barrels, $11.50; clear fat back, $23; dry salt long clear backs, 11c; barrels plate beef, $17.50; half-barrels do., 89; compound lard, 3¾c to 9½c; pure lard, 12½c to 13c; kettle rendered, 13c to 13½c; hams, 12½c to 14c, according to size; breakfast bacon, 14c to 15c; Windsor bacon, 15c to 16c; fresh killed abattoir dressed hogs, $9.75 to $10; live, $6.85 to $7.

UNITED STATES MARKETS.

Buffalo, July 21.—Wheat—Spring higher; No. 1 Northern, carloads, store, $11.17½; Winter lower; No. 2 red, 92½c; No. 2 white, 95c; No. 2 mixed, 94c. Corn executed escape from Toronto Jail was made on Friday by seven prisoners, who got clear away. It was a few minutes prior to 4 o'clock that the escape was discovered, but as the prisoners were all dressed in their usual clothes there was nothing to distinguish them from ordinary citizens once they were outside the jail grounds. The men who got away were confined in a corridor where are kept those prisoners who are there awaiting sentence or trial. From the evidence it was apparent that the escape had been planned for some time, and the secret carefully kept among the dozen or more prisoners who were confined in this particular corridor. As will be seen from their records several of the men are well-known criminals, three of them United States crooks, and it is not at all improbable that help was received from the outside.

Securing a key to the door of a chamber known as the death chamber, and used for the hanging of the negro, John Boyd, one of the number entered there daily, and with the lever used on the drop of the scaffold dug through the wall to the yard, where the prisoners were faced by the jail wall twenty feet high. They apparently stood on each other's shoulders till one reached the top, and the others were drawn up by jail bedclothes, and lowered down the other side of the wall in the same manner. Then a short dash along a lane and they were at liberty.

The following are the names of the prisoners, with their records, who escaped:—Alexander Rose, awaiting sentence on two charges of felonious wounding. Henry Churchill, committed for trial on charge of robbing Pullman cars on Grand Trunk. John C. Clark, broke jail from Newcastle, Penn., June 15, 1908, arrested in Toronto for theft. William D. Jones, broke jail from Newcastle, Penn., arrested here for theft. Robert Snow, escaped from Mimico Industrial School on June 19. Edward Lee, awaiting sentence for theft. John Copeland, awaiting sentence for theft.

Bad milk and the intense heat are blamed for the death of 120 babies in Montreal last week.

principal feature. Wheat heads are filling out in fine style, giving promise of heavy yields. Unusual concern is felt regarding the supply of harvest hands this year. The interval between the harvest in Ontario and that in Manitoba is likely to be shorter than ever before, and overlapping may interfere with excursions to the west. Mr. William Whyte of the Canadian Pacific Railway believes 25,000 men are required in the three Provinces, and a campaign will be started early to secure that number. The labor situation is likely to cause some anxiety before the season is over.

IRON NEAR MONTREAL.

Very Important Discovery by a C. P. R. Official.

A despatch from Montreal says: A leading official of the C. P. R. made the statement on Thursday that in the Laurentian Mountains, within 100 miles of Montreal, were the largest iron ore deposits in Canada; in fact, the ore area was miles square in extent. "The reports are now before me, showing sixty per cent. of iron to a ton of earth. I leave Montreal on Friday for the purpose of endeavoring to bring into realization what would have been yesterday described as a dream. Until we have completed the preliminaries it would be most injudicious to give particulars, but the genuineness of the find is beyond question," was the closing comment of the official.

FIRST QUARTER'S TRADE.

Large Falling Off Shown in Imports and Exports.

A despatch from Ottawa says: The total trade of Canada for the first quarter of the present fiscal year was $114,870,967, a decrease of $35,269,622 as compared with the corresponding period of last year. Imports totalled $68,921,107, a decrease of $29,325,005. Exports totalled $45,949,860, a decrease of $5,944,617.

During the month of June the decrease in imports was $8,808,711, and the decrease in exports was $1,241,639.

The customs revenue for the three months was $10,638,298, a decrease of $4,231,968.

The monthly reports from now on will, it is expected, show a gradual betterment, consequent upon the passing of the effects on trade of the business depression of the winter and spring months.

TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Money Package Found in C. P. R. Train Shed at Winnipeg.

A despatch from Winnipeg says: Twenty thousand dollars tied up in brown wrapping paper was found in the train shed of the C. P. R. on Wednesday as the result of rain dropping through the roof upon the package, thus revealing its contents. It is said to have been handed to an express messenger by a news agent, who found he had too much money on hand, and was too inexperienced to know the correct procedure. The valuable package had been handled like an ordinary bunch of laundry, among a lot of packages with which it was transported.

time except for full dress, in summer they may even serve for dressy occasions, as they are so much cooler than glace.

Glace kid gloves are imperative for full dress—except in very hot weather—and may be worn with almost any costume. Glace kid is expensive, but it wears and cleans well.

ARRIVAL OF LORD ROBERTS.

Cruiser Hits Battleship and Both are Damaged.

A despatch from Quebec says: The steamer Empress of Ireland arrived in port shortly after eleven o'clock on Thursday night. The Duke of Norfolk and Lord Roberts landed on Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Among the arrivals on the Empress of Ireland were Earl Ranfurly, Capt. Hon. Cecil Murray, and Geo. Wolf, Esq., who were driven to the Chateau Frontenac.

The first dress rehearsal of the pageants took place on Thursday afternoon, on the Plains of Abraham, and was a huge success, thousands being unable to secure seats, although an admission fee was charged.

When the British cruiser Venus was coming into port this evening, she collided with the British battleship Russell, both vessels being slightly damaged.

TWO MEN SUCCOCATED.

Were Engaged in Excavating for Bridge at Lethbridge.

A despatch from Lethbridge, Alta., says: A double fatality occurred on Wednesday afternoon, when two men, Frank Rush, an Englishman, and George E. Thompson, from North Dakota, met sudden death by gas suffocation. A hole 30 feet deep had been sunk by the C. P. R. to test the foundation for a pier for the big bridge, and an abandoned entry to the Galt Mine was found. Work was discontinued on account of the gas.

DOWNTWALL THROUH DRINK

Once Prosperous Man Brought His Family to Ruin.

A despatch from Montreal says: Seven years ago William Wright, head of the Wright Paper Company, was rated at $65,000. In 1904 he failed, owing to his fondness for drink. On Friday, on complaint of his wife, he was sent to jail for three months. In giving evidence she said: "He drank it all, and I have no home now. I am a pauper and my children are starving after having all that money could buy."

CUT OFF BABY'S LEGS.

Girl Got in Front of Mowing Machine Driven by Mother.

A despatch from Utica, N. Y., says: Mrs. John Bisnette, wife of a farmer at De Kalb, St. Lawrence county, ran the mowing machine for her husband on Thursday while her three-and-a-half-year-old daughter picked berries in the field. Suddenly the mother heard the baby scream just in front of her, and before she could stop the team, the rapidly-cutting knives had severed both her little daughter's legs. The child is dying, and the mother is going insane of grief.

SCHEME WILL BE EXTENDED

Several Ontario Counties Are Likely to Have Forest Nurseries.

A despatch from Toronto says: The Ontario Government's farm forestry scheme which has been initiated by the acquiring at the cost of $1,000 one hundred acres of land in Norfolk county to be used as a forest nursery is to be expanded as quickly as possible. The Minister of Agriculture has suggested that suitable places for the establishment of further nurseries would be Durham, Simcoe and Lambton counties, in all of which are large areas of lands which have been declared to be unrentable for agricultural purposes. The work under the department has been progressing steadily.

In the last two years something like half a million young white pine trees have been imported from Germany and distributed through the medium of the Agricultural College at Guelph. In connection with the Government nurseries it is proposed to utilize the services of the graduates of the Agricultural College who have taken a course in forestry. With regard to the large scheme of reforestation which will doubtless be undertaken by the Government at some future time the idea which has been advocated by the Hon. Nelson Montheith is that they should reforest some of the large areas in the north.

CONDENSED NEWS ITEMS

HAPPENINGS FROM ALL OVER THE GLOBE.

Telegraphic Briefs From Our Own and Other Countries of Recent Events.

CANADA.

The new city directory gives Montreal's population as 454,000.

A farm forest nursery is to be established in Norfolk county.

A new electric railway between Ottawa and Brockville is projected.

A close season for grouse and partridge has been declared for a year.

Counterfeit Standard Bank ten dollar bills are in circulation in Toronto.

The Dominion Parliament closed the longest session on record on Saturday.

It is reported at Sault Ste. Marie that the C. P. R. may buy the Algoma Central.

Forest nurseries are to be established in Durham, Simcoe and Lambton counties.

The rail mill of the Lake Superior Corporation at Sault Ste. Marie is closed again.

Mrs. Joseph Lyon was killed by falling down an elevator shaft at Ottawa, on Saturday.

Immigration officials are advising farm laborers not to go west, but to stick to Ontario farms.

Earl Roberts will visit Toronto and Niagara Falls, but will go no further west in Canada.

The C. P. R. will be able to handle its share of the Western Crops, says G. M. Bosworth.

Great damage to crops from the storm on Saturday are reported from North Oxford and Niagara Falls.

Montreal will ask the Dominion Government to pay the cost of protecting the port from foreign disease.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced in the Commons that Thanksgiving Day would be held on Monday in future.

A reorganization of the Provincial constabulary is being considered by the Attorney-General's Department.

The Welland Canal is being equipped with new electrical devices for operating the gates and swing bridges.

The first steel vessel ever built by private enterprise in Nova Scotia was launched at New Glasgow, N. S.

The statement is made by General Manager Morse that the Grand Trunk Pacific will be able to move part of this year's crop.

Jenkins, a mulatto, must stand his trial at New Westminster on a charge of murdering Mrs. Mary Morrison, of Hazlemere.

Charles Manning knocked David Morrissey down in the barroom of a Vancouver hotel. The latter's head struck the wall, and he died. Manning is charged with murder.

Wentworth County Council offers $500 for the arrest and conviction of anyone who caused the recent fires in Ancaster, where local option farmers are losing buildings nightly.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Perhaps the most remarkable case of martyrdom for science is that of

YOUNG FOLKS

THE BOB-WHITE FAMILY.

"Do little birds do just as their fathers and mothers do?" questioned Molly, as she leaned close to Aunt Elinor, and looked across the field to where "Bob-White" and his family had established a summer home.

"Not always," replied Aunt Elinor, slipping her arm about the little girl. "Sometimes they learn by their own experience to have more confidence in men and women and children than their parents had."

"What is confidence?" questioned Molly, who always wanted the meaning of things.

"Well, it's just the feeling you have when you lean up against me," explained Aunt Elinor, with a little laugh. "You are sure I won't hurt you, and you feel safe, as though you were protected."

"Oh, yes," responded Molly. "And do some birds feel that way when they are near people?"

Aunt Elinor nodded. "In countries where children are taught to be gentle and friendly with birds they become very tame."

"Would those little Bob-Whites ever have confidence in me?" asked Molly.

"Yes, indeed," said Aunt Elinor. And that very day Molly went across the field to where Mrs. Bob-White was perched on the low fence, talking to her little family.

Molly did not go very near. She sat down on a big stone, where she could see them plainly; but Mrs. Bob-White fluttered off the fence and joined her family, and they all scuttled away in the tall grass. Molly sat very quietly, and scattered the little bag of wheat she had brought all about the rock. After a while, as the birds did not come back, she went home.

The next day she started down the field again, for Aunt Elinor had told her that she must be very patient with all small wild creatures, and that it would take many visits before the quails would know that she was a friend. As she came near the rock where she sat the day before, there was a flutter of wings, and Mother Quail flew off to her perch on the fence, and Molly heard a low, plaintive "Quoi-i-hee!" from the little birds; but they did not follow their mother very far. Molly sat down in the grass, and saw the little birds pick up the sweet grains of wheat; and Mother Quail, after a few scolding notes, came back to her family. But she hopped about nervously, or made little upward flights.

Molly was sure that the birds were beginning to know her. This time she left some pieces of cake near the rock; and every day for two weeks she came faithfully to visit the Bob-Whites. By this time they began to look for her, and these wildest of wild birds had learned what their parents had not known—confidence in human beings. Aunt Elinor would sit on the porch and watch Molly go across the field, and see the little Bob-Whites come almost within reach of her little niece's hand. Sometimes they would even follow Molly a little way toward the house in the most loving and fearless manner, although their

ANOTHER HEAD-ON COLLISION

Winnipeg-Toronto Train Met a Freight Near Current River.

A despatch from Port Arthur says: The Winnipeg-Toronto train which passed through here on Sunday afternoon met in a head-on collision with a freight-train just east of the Current River, and only the fact that the recent flood there had necessitated the building of a new bridge over which trains run slowly prevented a serious disaster. The train was going only about ten miles an hour when it struck the freight, and though several cars were badly damaged, only the fireman and engineer of the passenger train, W. Morris and C. Bowles of Schrieber, and the news agent and waiter on the dining car were injured. They were badly shaken up and bruised.

The freight crew saw the passenger train approaching and jumped after stopping their train, but not in time to give warning to the passenger train. It is stated that the accident was caused by a mistake on the part of the freight in using orders issued Saturday instead of those issued on Sunday. No. 94 was cancelled on Saturday on account of trouble west of here, and orders then were issued for the freight trains to run through without regard to the passenger schedule. One of these orders was used on Sunday. George Roos of Schrieber was the conductor of the freight.

ARRIVED AT WRONG PORT

Queer Experience of the Norwegian Barque Atlantic.

A despatch from St. John, N.B., says: An incident, probably unique, occurred on Tuesday, when the Norwegian barque Atlantic sailed up the bay and anchored at Partridge Island. The Atlantic was several hundred miles out of her course, as she is bound to Carleton, Que. This latter port is situated in the county of Bonaventure on the north shore of Chaleur's Bay. A tug spoke the Atlantic, and upon exchange of the customary questions Capt. Livingstone of the tug surmised that there was some mistake. The captain of the barque was dumbfounded to learn of the predicament into which he had blundered. He explained that the mistake was due to lack of knowledge on the part of his brokers in New York, upon whom he had depended for information, and who had told him that the only place named Carleton in these parts was situated at the mouth of the St. John. With his course laid out according to their instructions, the Atlantic steered for this port. She remained only a few hours, setting sail again early in the afternoon.

HEALTH

PREVENTION OF HYDROPHOBIA.

Hydrophobia is comparatively rare in this country, but it is a preventable disease, and should have no existence whatever. It is even less prevalent in England and Germany, where a more rigid supervision is exercised over the domestic animals.

Dogs and cats are the most commonly affected. When one realizes that every pet dog or cat is a possible menace to the health of the household, both in its liability to acquire hydrophobia and as a carrier of other forms of infection, it is astonishing that the harboring of these animals is so little regulated. But hydrophobia is perpe-with having had his wounds cauterized. He should go at the earliest possible moment to the nearest city where the Pasteur treatment can be administered, and submit himself to it.

This treatment takes upward of three weeks. It is the only known safeguard against the appearance of hydrophobia in a patient who has been bitten by a rabid animal, and its success depends upon the promptness with which it is begun. If applied before the symptoms appear, it is almost certain to prevent the development of the disease; but if, on the other hand, the beginning of treatment is postponed until after the period of incubation is over, neither that nor anything else can save the patient's life.—Youth's Companion.

PUSHED HIM AGAINST KNIFE.

Halifax Man Arrested on Charge of Murdering Another.

A despatch from Halifax says:

cal option farmers are losing buildings nightly.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Perhaps the most remarkable case of martyrdom for science is that of Mr. J. Hall-Edwards, of Birmingham, who has had his remaining hand amputated for the agonizing disease known as "x"-ray dermatitis.

UNITED STATES.

The steamer St. Louis, of the American Line, cut a whale in two with her screw.

Eleven persons lost their lives at Baltimore through the capsizing of rowboats during a storm.

The United States Government will not oppose a just and harmonious increase in railroad freight rates.

A youth in New York shot his sweet-heart and himself because the girl's mother opposed their marriage.

Two men have been killed and a third fatally wounded in a religious war among the Austrian miners at Bingham, Utah.

Aaron T. Demorest, the New York maker of autos and carriages, ate clams and died of ptomaine poisoning.

Two customs inspectors and a watchman were killed at Boston by the explosion of a box of detonating caps, which they were opening.

An amendment to the constitution of Oregon gives the voters power to remove any elective officer from Governor down if his acts displease them.

Don't boil your eggs, says an Illinois expert, but leave them in hot water for 6 or 8 minutes with the heat turned off.

New York's new high pressure fire protection system sends a stream of water 17 stories.

Mrs. Sahlen, of Buffalo, poisoned her three children with Paris green, on Saturday, and then took a dose of the poison herself.

Frank Johnson, a negro, hanged in West Virginia for the murder of a woman, confessed to four other murders before going to the scaffold.

The Democrats will accept no contributions to the Presidential campaign found from corporations, and no contributions of over $10,000 from any source.

GENERAL.

Floods in Asia Minor have caused the loss of two thousand lives.

Thirty fishermen were drowned in a heavy gale off Santander, Spain.

The Pope has increased 39 pounds in weight, and is now on diet.

Two revolutionary agents have been captured in Mexico, posing as Baptist missionaries.

A mutiny is feared among the officers of the Turkish army in Macedonia.

Fifty revolutionists in Mexico are to be shot, and over a hundred others have been sentenced from 10 to 20 years in the salt mines.

Prince Zu Eulenbergh, who is on trial for perjury at Berlin, is compelled to rest in a bed in the courtroom.

Two thousand boys, running in relays of half a mile each, will carry a message from the Mayor of New York to the Mayor of Chicago.

The publication of criminals' photographs and crime news is to be forbidden in France.

Elinor would sit on the porch and watch Molly go across the field, and see the little Bob-Whites come almost within reach of her little niece's hand. Sometimes they would even follow Molly a little way toward the house in the most loving and fearless manner, although their doubtful mother called warningly after her family, as though she had not conquered all her fears, or as though she would teach them not to be too ready to trust.

"They have learned something their mother doesn't know, haven't they, Aunt Elinor?" Molly declared, happily, as she looked back toward the birds, and remembered what Aunt Elinor had told her of the meaning of the word "confidence." & Youth's Companion.

FASTEAST CRAFT IN WORLD

Its Real Function is to Destroy Destroyers.

A despatch from London says: There has just left Cammell and Laird's shipyard at Birkenhead for a speed test on the Clyde what is believed to be the fastest craft in the world. It is officially described as an ocean-going torpedo-boat destroyer, but its real function is to destroy destroyers. To enable her to overhaul these speedy vessels the Swift is equipped with the most powerful engines ever put into a small vessel, they being turbines developing 30,000 horse-power. The fuel she uses is oil, of which she carries 180 tons. The vessel has already had a preliminary trial, regarding which there is extreme scepticism, but it is believed she made 38 knots. It is predicted that in her forthcoming trial she is likely to make 39.

EXPLOSION ON THE RAGNA.

Two Men Killed at Tusket Wedge, Nova Scotia.

A despatch from Halifax, says: A distressing accident which resulted in the death of two men and the maiming of two others occurred late Wednesday on board the Norwegian bark Ragna, which was lying at Tusket Wedge. The boiler connected with the donkey engine exploded, killing instantly the carpenter and one seaman, and blowing one of the mate's legs from his body and severely scalding another seaman. The captain of the Ragna telephoned the news of the accident to Yarmouth and a tug boat was despatched to bring the injured men to Yarmouth.

TWO RICH STRIKES MADE.

Vein Showing Solid Metal on Surface Bared.

A despatch from Cobalt says: A rich discovery was made on Nipissing on Wednesday, on lot R. L. 400. A vein was found by men trenching. The vein has been uncovered for nearly 100 feet in places. It has a width of 14 inches, but the average width is 10 inches. It is a mass of calcite and silver, and for part of the distance solid metal appears on the surface. A find has also been made in the LaRose tunnel, No. 10, which is believed to be very important.

The German Emperor is seeking an alliance with Turkey.

that every pet dog or cat is a possible menace to the health of the household, both in its liability to acquire hydrophobia and as a carrier of other forms of infection, it is astonishing that the harboring of these animals is so little regulated. But hydrophobia is perpetuated to a greater degree by the homeless curs that infest the streets, and the extermination of these ought by all means to be insisted upon. As a further precaution, any dog or cat that becomes ill should be confined in comfortable quarters until it has fully recovered. Muzzling is, to say the least, an unjust punishment of the dog.

The mad dog is not always a savage animal, running wildly through the streets. For the first few days, at least, it may appear abnormally affectionate in its desire to lick the hands and face of its master; but it soon becomes dull and skulking, or restless and constantly moving, walking or running with its head low, often growling or snarling, and barking without occasion. Sometimes it is "dumb" from inability to open its mouth. It generally refuses food and drink, and acts as if there were an obstruction in its throat. No examination of such an animal should be made with the hands, for its saliva is virulent.

When a person has been bitten, the wound should be cleansed and cauterized as soon as possible with carbolic acid or other powerful antiseptic. It must not be closed or covered with a plaster. Wounds of the hands and face are particularly dangerous, because these parts are not protected by clothing, by which the virus may be removed as the teeth of the animal pass through.

The animal that inflicted the injury should not be killed immediately; it should be confined and kindly cared for until its condition can be fully determined. The discovery that it is not rabid relieves the injured one from the dangerous effects of fear, and often spares him many months of anxiety.

But if examination by a competent physician reveals the fact that the animal was indeed rabid, then the person who has been bitten should by no means rest content —Youth's Companion.

PUSHED HIM AGAINST KNIFE.

Halifax Man Arrested on Charge of Murdering Another.

A despatch from Halifax, says: Frank Burke, the young man somewhat mysteriously stabbed at the Intercolonial Railway Station Monday evening, is dead, and William Perrin, with whom Burke had a tussle at the time of the wounding, is at the police station, rearrested on a charge of murder. The two young men had been skylarking on a car when Perrin pushed Burke against a carving knife.

A CONVICT'S SUICIDE.

Frank Hogan, From Parry Sound, Hangs Himself at Kingston.

A despatch from Kingston says: Frank Hogan, a prisoner in the penitentiary, was found dead in his cell on Friday morning, having hanged himself with his suspenders. He was twenty-five years of age and was sentenced at Parry Sound in August, 1906, to three years' imprisonment for burglary.

WOLFE MEMORIAL.

Service will be Held at His Tomb in Greenwich Church.

A despatch from London says: On the day of dedication at Quebec there will be a memorial service at St. Alfege Church, at Greenwich, where Wolfe is buried. The Lord Mayor and sheriffs will attend, and it is hoped detachments of Wolfe's regiments will also be present.

Six persons were killed at Warsaw, Ind., by the collision of an automobile and train, on Saturday.

Count Ventzel Kaunits, a Minister of Bohemia, who was married last week on his sixty-first birthday to a beautiful peasant girl of twenty, has presented his mansion in Brunn, valued at £32,000, to the University of Prague. The Count and his bride have decided to live the simple life.

SMASHED A WOMAN'S NOSE

James McMananey Said It Was the Only Way to Save Her From Drowning.

A despatch from Montreal says: A sailor by the name of James McMananey on board the S.S. Nianga of the Elder-Dempster Line, saved the life of a woman on Wednesday morning, who had fallen off the wharf. She was walking along the wharf in an intoxicated condition and fell into the river. McMananey jumped in after her and brought her to the edge. As soon as she was safe the woman started to scream and call for help, saying that her rescuer was trying to murder her. Then she grasped the sailor's hair and commenced to pull it out in handfuls. This caused McMananey to release his hold on the woman, and she fell back into the water again, pulling her rescuer with her by the hair. Then started a battle under the water, for when the woman came up a few seconds afterwards it was seen that her nose was bleeding badly. By this time a boat had been sent out from the shore and the parties rescued.

When McMananey was seen afterwards he was suffering from a sore head where the woman had pulled at his hair. When asked if he had struck the woman he replied that he had, as this was the only way he could save her. She had a death grip on him.

SHOE COMFORT.

No reason why you should suffer from foot ills, when you have such an immense stock as ours to choose from. We carry everything in the line of shoes for the young folks or the old folks.

We wish to draw your attention to Our Large Assortment of Old Ladies' and Old Gentlemen's Shoes.

Old Gentlemen's fine, soft, Dongola Kid Lace or Gaiter Boots, broad and full fitting with sewed soles. Price..... $1.50

Old Ladies' fine soft Dongola Kid Lace or Gaiter Boots, made for solid comfort. Prices . $1.25 $1.50 $1.75 and $2.00

Prunella Shoes for house wear. We have them from 50c. to $1.25

THE J. J. HAINES SHOE HOUSES, Napanee, Belleville, and Trenton.

Largest Dealers in this Section of Canada.

THE BEST FLOUR. DAFOE'S NONESUCH DAFOE'S MANITOBA PATENT

By numerous tests by the best Bakers the above mentioned grades have been proven to be the best Flours in the market.

When buying Flour ask for Dafoe's, and patronize your home mill, thereby producing Bran and Shorts that you can purchase cheaper than the product of the Western mills, which has to be transported thousands of miles at great expense, and usually, when reaches you, of inferior quality.

The grocer complains if the farmer or his mechanic sends to Toronto or to outside points for an article he can get at the one store just as good, but he does not hesitate to buy Flour from mills hundreds of miles away, and sell you an inferior flour for more money than you can purchase the home product for, every bag of which is guaranteed.

CHOICE CORN MEAL and BUCKWHEAT FLOUR always on hand.

FEED GRINDING specialty, with the best feed mills known to the trade.

A full stock of the best ANTHRACITE COAL. Also in the market for the purchase of all kinds of Grain.

Ask for prices at the big Mill before purchasing your Flour, Feed or Coal.

Cambridge's Bread

wins its way on its merits. It is unequalled for lightness and flavour. Give it a trial.

Try our Ice Cream and Ice Cream Sodas, made of purest materials.

Just received shipment of Lowney's high grade Chocolates, also COWAN'S MAPLE BUDS and MEDALLIONS, fine goods.

Lunches served at all hours at Cambridge's Confectionery.

Next A. E. Paul's, and The Robinson Company, Limited.

Custom Made $15.00 Suits

Scotch Tweeds and Worsteds.

The best values in the trade

A.E. Lazier.

ROYAL HOTEL BARBER SHOP

F. S. SCOTT, Proprietor.

First-Class Workmen. Lightest and Brightest Shop in Napanee.

GIVE US A CALL.

JOHN T. GRANGE
ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES
Grange Block, John Street,
Strictly Private and Confidential.

FRED CHINNECK
ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES
Chinneck's Jewellery Store
Near Royal Hotel
Napanee

Strictly Private and Confidential. 39

F. W. SMITH,
ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES.
Strictly Private and Confidential.
Smith's Jewellery Store,
30-3-m Napanee.

Don't Forget.

The Annual Moonlight excursion of the Epworth League of the Western Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, August 14th on Steamer Aletha. Tickets 25c.

A Word About Corns.

Don't suffer a minute with corns—go straight to Wallace's Red Cross Drug Store and get some of that corn killer, it don't cost much.

Employees' Excursion.

The Bay of Quinte Railway Employees' Mutual Aid Association will hold their annual outing at the exhibition park in Tweed, on Wednesday July 29th, 1908. A good programme of events has been arranged including base ball game Napanee vs Quinte, lacrosse match Tweed vs Marmora, running 100 yards, boys; running 100 yards, girls; running 125 yards, running high jump, running hop, step, and jump, running broad jump, standing broad jump, sack race, putting 56 lb weight, tug-of-war. The Tweed Citizen's Band will furnish music and a good orchestra for dancing will be provided. Look up the big bills for full particulars.

A staff of fifteen is busily engaged at the National Trust company on the mass of clerical work that is necessary before the various York County Loan Claimants under the judgements of Official Referee Kappelle can be ascertained. In a month it is expected that a statement will be possible as to how long it will be before this work is completed.

"I think it will be a year yet," declared R. Home Smith, of the National Trust.

J. N. Osborne's

Barber Shop is on the north side of Dundas street near Steacy's. Call and see how well he can suit you.

Best Day.

Best outing of season, C. M. B. A. annual excursion on steamer Brockville to Glen Isle on Wednesday, July 29th. Come and enjoy the best days outing of the season.

The Whitest White
Of all White Paints.

Is Painter's Peerless White. It stays white longer, will not scale off and does not turn dark on standing. Sold in Napanee only at Wallace's Red Cross Drug Store.

A. E. I. O. U.

If any one who these lines view, can truly say, A. E.—I. O. U. And will come at once and pay your [bill].

You'll much oblige me, so you will. A. E. PAUL.

P. S.—I need the money.

One of Canada's Best.

The Frontenac Business College, Kingston, Ontario, is one of Canada's best Business Schools, and its graduates are in demand from one end of the Dominion to the other. Three calls for teachers from other colleges in Ontario during the past month, salaries ranging from $500 to $1000 a year. It pays to attend to the best. Write for special rates to first fifty registering for Fall term T. N. Stockdale Principal.

Yacht Club Regatta.

Yacht races under the auspices of the Napanee Yacht Club, were held on the bay opposite Forester's Island on Wednesday afternoon and proved a most enjoyable event. The course was a five mile triangular one. The regatta committee was as follows:—Commodore John N. Osborne, Starter; U. M. Wilson, Judge; Dudley T. Hill, Time-keeper. The following were the prize winners in the different events:—

Class I, N and P—Valkyrie, Rev. F. W. Armstrong, Trenton—Barometer; Vera, T. Naylor, Napanee, carving set; Ogeisto, F. McMaster, Napanee, Biscuit Bowl.

Class II, Q and R—Little Nell, Horey and Driver, Trenton, marine glasses; Ruth, Edgar Irwin, Napanee, biscuit bowl; Arrow, Madam and Gibbard, Napanee, umbrella. Also started, Evelyn, J. T. Cowan, Napanee; U and I, D. Rosenberg, Picton; Edna B., S. G. Black, Napanee.

Class III, 15 feet and under—Senga, F. G. Reid, Belleville, fruit dish; Winona, F. Crosbery, Napanee, silver cup; Marguerite, W. R. Miller, Napanee, yacht cap. Guess Again, J. N. Osborne, Napanee.

Motor Boats—C. A. W., C. A. Walters, Napanee, musical clock; Eric, F. F. Miller, Napanee, silver cake dish; Seward, B. L. Detlor, Napanee, silver spoon; Jessie, J. O. Canniff, Picton.

Motor Skiffs—Josephine, J. Mooney, Napanee, silk umbrella; W. F. M., W. F. Miller, Napanee, yacht shots; Tortoise, W. A. Ashley, Napanee, five gallons gasoline; Hannah, Mr. Hanna, Napanee.

Cancan Events—Fours—Belfie, Carroll, Anderson, Chenoweth.

Tilting—Anderson with Jemmott won from Chenoweth with Conway.

Doubles—Chenoweth with Conway, Barker with Carroll, Loyne with Jemmott.

Refined Gasoline for stoves and engines at the right price. The Medical Hall—Fred L. Hooper.

A Successful Winnipeg Novelist.

Mr. A. R. Davis, of this city, whose novel, "The Old Loyalist," was reviewed in these columns recently, is in receipt of many letters indicating that this story of life in the Bay of Quinte districts has made a considerable impression. Rev. Charles W. Gordon, D. D. (Ralph Connor) of St. Stephen's church, writes to Mr. Davis: "Allow me to congratulate you upon your book, 'The Old Loyalist.' It is a fine thing to see Canadians looking up the splendid history of their country and putting it down in readable form. I am firmly convinced that the right way to teach history is to tell it in story. The field into which you have entered is one far too little known by

SEEDS

GARDEN SEEDS FLOWER SEEDS

Large Stock NEW SEEDS.

FRANK H. PERRY.

RIGHT IN LINE.

Fruit season is here again and with it the usual demand for preserving utensils. We have a supply of the best grade of agateware.

Fruit season will not be so irksome this hot weather if you use one of our Coal Oil Stoves. Everyone guaranteed.

Harvest season, our stock is complete, with the best of whatever you need in Forks, Rope, Oil, Binder Twine.

Star Cement, Nails, Galvanized Shingles, Rubber Roofing, Paints and oils.

Try one of our Cherry Stoners.

M. S. MADOLE.

PHONE. 13.

Lake Ontario and Bay of Quinte

II Anthracite

You Save a V

We offer as a
July Bargain
the choice of any of our

$25.00

Summer Suitings for $20.00

JAMES WALTERS,

Merchant Tailor, Napanee,

Home Seekers Excursions

TO—

Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

APRIL 14th and 28th
MAY 12th and 26th
JUNE 10th and 23rd
JULY 7th and 21st
AUGUST 4th and 18th
SEPTEMBER 1st, 15th and 29th

For full particulars apply to

E. McLAUGHLIN

17:30 Agent C. P. R.

NAPANEE CANOE CLUB.

Following are the results of the races to date:

First regatta June 11th.

Fours 1st, Carroll, Dafoe, Grange and Daly, 2nd, Chenoweth, Edelstein, Miller, Bellie, 3rd, Barker, Anderson, McAllister and Robinson.

Backwards 1st, Chenoweth, 2d, Carroll, 3d, Anderson.

Singles 1st, Chenoweth, 2d, Carroll, 3d, Barker.

Upset 1st, Carroll, 2d, Anderson, 3d, Loynes.

The Doubles owing to the entries being left out, were called off.

Second regatta June 14.

Fours 1st, Chenoweth, Edelstein, Loynes, Bellie; 2d, Barker, Anderson, Carroll, Watt.

Doubles 1st, Chenoweth, and Edelstein; 2d, Barker and Carroll; 3d, Loynes and Bellie.

Crab 1st, Chenoweth, 2d, Watt, 3d, the Carroll Oldfield.

Upset 1st, Carroll, 2d, Loynes, 3d, Anderson.

Third regatta June 18th.

Fours 1st, Chenoweth, Anderson, Robinson, Cleland; 2d, Carroll, Oldfield, Grange, Steacy; 3d, Loynes, Steacy, Dafoe, McAllister.

Gunnell 1st, Dafoe, 2d, Chenoweth, 3d, Carroll.

Doubles 1st, Chenoweth and Dafoe; 2d, Barker and Carroll; 3d, Loynes and Bellie.

Crab 1st, Chenoweth, 2d, Oldfield, 3d, Anderson.

Upset 1st, Carroll, 2d, Dafoe, 3d, Anderson.

Fourth Regatta June 25th.

Fours 1st, Chenoweth, Dafoe, Holmes, Jeannett; 2d, Barker, Edelstein, Daly, Cleland; 3d, Bellie, Loynes, St. John.

PERSONALS

Mrs. J. M. Lapum, and family, of Scranton, Pa., are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sperry Rockwell, John street.

Mrs. Wickersham and daughters, of Seattle, are the guests of Rev. A. McDonald.

Mrs. John Alexander and son, Roland, of Montreal, spent last week the guests of Mr. L. F. Vandewater, Salem, leaving on Monday for Three Rivers, Que.

Messrs A. S. Kimmerly, Henry Savage, and W. M. Cambridge are at Quebec with the 14th Battalion band Kingston.

Mrs. Nicholas Vanalstine, Millstreet, is spending a couple of weeks in Kingston and Watertown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Douglas returned to Buffalo on Sunday.

Mr. Egerton Baker and wife are the new officers in charge of the Salvation Army corps here.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Guess spent a few days this week with friends at Ernestown Station.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas Ferguson and daughter Helen returned from their auto trip on Monday.

Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Wickersham and daughters spent a few days at the Thousand Island's this week.

Mrs. Macdonald and her guests took in the Reindeer trip to Picton one day last week.

Mrs. A. Macdonald was in Toronto and at Niagara Falls last week.

Mr. Nelson Grooms, Richmond, is dangerously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Davis, Richmond, spent Sunday with friends in Prince Edward county.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burrows and child, of New York, are guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Burrows.

Mrs. Jos. Lowry is spending the week in Lachine.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Boyes, Lachine, were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Vanalstine, over Sunday.

Miss Eva Emsley, Washington, D. C., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rev. W. H. Emsley.

Mrs. Wm. Coates spent a few days this week in Kingston.

Rev. A. Macdonald and Rev. J. K. Henry were enjoying the fishing on Beaver Lake a few days lately.

Mrs. T. D. Pruyne, Buffalo, spent a couple of days this week the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. Chinneck.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn and children, of New York, are guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Coates, Roblin's Hill.

Miss Susie Parrott, formerly of Violet, daughter of the late Miles Parrott, was in Napanee calling on friends this week, on her return from Mexico City, where she has spent eight months.

Mr. Wm. Flasch, of St. Thomas, was in Napanee and spent Sunday with his brother Mr. Flasch, of the Collegiate.

Mr. Sidney Kent, of Toronto, was in town Saturday en route to Camp La Nid.

Mr. Cator, of Baltimore, was in town on Friday and went to Camp La Nid.

Dr. David J. Smith, of Colting Bay, was in Napanee Sunday.

Mrs. Finkle and Mrs. Alice Gibson, spent last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Shibley, Sharbot Lake, at their Island home.

Mr. C. M. Warner made a trip to Montreal on Tuesday.

Miss Minnie Schryver, of Big Creek, was visiting Miss Jean Gibson for a few days this week.

Mr. Allen M. Scouten, of Violet, was in Napanee last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jeffrey, of Hawcraftsmen, were in town on Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie O'Reilly, visiting friends in Hungerford, returned to town last Saturday.

Mrs. James M. Lapum, Miss Edith

CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION Sept. 14 TORONTO

Greatest and Best Attended Annual Exhibition in all the World

Every Province Sends Its Products

$100,000.00
in Prizes and Attractions

Mammoth
Massed Band Concerts

Grand Art Loan Collection

From the Paris Salon and other Old-World Galleries.
International Military Tattoo and Realistic Spectacle

The Siege of Sebastopol

With 900 Performers.

International Dog Show International Cat Show
8,000 Live Stock on View

For Prize Lists, Entry Blanks and all Information address J. O. ORR, Manager, City Hall, Toronto
CHEAP FARES FROM EVERYWHERE

The Napanee Express

will be sent to any address in Canada from now until

January 1st, 1909,

—for—

25 Cents.

Send it to your friends.
Subscribe Now.

Oddfellows'
Excursion to OTTAWA

FISHER'S

MUSIC :: STORE

We are now in a position to appeal to all who are needing any of the undermentioned goods, and we endeavor, so far as lies in our power, to place the best possible value before our customers. If you are needing anything in this list please give us a call.

Pianos Violins

Doubles 1st, Chenoweth and Dafoe; 2d, Barker and Carroll; 3d, Loynes and Bellie.

Crab 1st, Chenoweth, 2d, Oldfield, 3d, Anderson.

Upset 1st, Carroll, 2d, Dafoe, 3d, Anderson.

Fourth Regatta June 25th.

Fours 1st, Chenoweth, Dafoe, Holmes, Jemmott; 2d, Barker, Edelstein, Daly, Cleland; 3d, Bellie, Loynes Steacy and Jemmott.

Ginnell 1st, Dafoe, 2d, Chenoweth, 3d, Carroll.

Trios 1st, Chenoweth, Loynes, Holmes; 2d, Carroll, Steacy, Jemmott; 3d, Anderson, Jemmott, Daly.

The last crew upset, but nevertheless, crossed the line all three and the canoe.

Upset 1st, Carroll, 2d, Dafoe, 3d, Anderson.

Fifth Regatta, July 2nd.

The Four resulted as follows:

1st, Carroll, Edelstein, Robinson, McNeill.

2nd, Loynes, Dafoe, Steacy and Daly.

3rd, Barker, Jemmott, Anderson, Cleland.

Judges Dr. Leonard and H. A. Daly.

Sixth Regatta, July 9th.

Singles 1st, Chenoweth, 2nd, Dafoe, 3rd, Carroll.

Crab 1st, Dafoe, 2nd, Chenoweth, 3rd, Loynes.

Doubles 1st, Loynes and Jemmott, 2nd, Chenoweth and Edelstein, 3rd, Barker and Carroll.

Turtle 1st, Dafoe, Jemmott, Steacy, Miller, 2nd, Carroll, Kenney, Loynes, Grange, 3rd, Hannah, Steacy, Watt Holmes.

The Tilting was not finished owing to the absence of several who were in the finals and who yet have to duck the towel and pole or go to visit the divers regions.

Seventh Regatta July 16th.

Trios 1st, Chenoweth, Conway, Robinson; 2d, Loynes, Steacy, Cleland; 3d, Carroll, Steacy, Dafoe.

Ginnell 1st, Dafoe, 2d, Chenoweth, 3d, Carroll.

Upset 1st, Dafoe, 2d, Carroll, 3d, Steacy st.

Turtle Trio 1st, Carroll, Cleland, Bellie; 2d, Chenoweth, Hannah, Conway; 3d, Steacy, Steacy, Dafoe.

TALK ABOUT GROCERIES

If you want good Groceries and the best, no cheap trash, you want to go to

H. W. KELLY,

Campbell House Corner, and you can get the best Roled Oats in town, also

Headlight Coal Oil	13¢ a gallon
Water White Oil (the best)	16¢ a gallon
3 Tins Gillet's Lye	25 cents
1 lb Laundry Starch	6¢ per lb.
Canada Corn Starch	7¢ per box
Canada Laundry Starch	7¢ per box
Benson's Corn Starch No. 1	7¢ for 2 lbs
Lars Sp. the Soap	15 cents
10 bars Jiffy Soap	25 cents
6 Green Castile	23 cents
1 lb French Castile (Foliet)	10 cents
Maple Leaf Baking Powder	13¢ a tin
Royal Baking Powder	10¢ a lb, the Pure Cream Tartar
Pure Cream Tartar	10¢ a lb
Grapanus	2 for 25¢
3 Boxes Silver Globe Starch	25 cents
New Mixed Peel	18¢ a lb
Corn Flakes	2¢ cents
O. Wee Key-No Salmon	15¢ a tin
2 lb Paris Lump Sugar	15 cents

The best 25¢ Green Tea in town.

If you want good Breakfast Bacon try our PEA MEAL, was visiting Miss Jean Gibson for a few days this week.

H. W. KELLY

Mr. Allen M. Scoulen, of Violet, was in Napanee last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Jeffrey, of Harrowsmith, were in town on Wednesday.

Miss Lizzie O'Reilly, visiting friends in Hungertford, returned to town last Saturday.

Mrs. James M. Lapum, Miss Edith Lapum, and Mr. Courtney Lapum, of Scranton, Penn., arrived in town last Friday to spend the summer holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Sperry Rockwell.

Mrs. Fletcher Calder, and four children, St. Thomas, are guests of Miss Blanche Cisler.

Mr. and Mrs. David Kelly have returned from Watertown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman spent Wednesday in Kingston.

Dr. Harold Ward with his wife and child are guests of Mrs. Ward at the camp down the reach.

Miss Annie Wilson has accepted a position in Rochester, N. Y. Miss Belle Davis will occupy Miss Wilson's former position via Mr. A. E. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Vrooman are spending the week in Quebec.

Mrs. John Wilson and daughter Gladys returned on Thursday from a six week's visit in Rochester.

Mrs. Thos. Jamieson, who has been ill for some time is still confined to her bed, and very low.

In our report of the Entrance Examination at Bath, the name Vera Bell should have been Vera Ball.

Mr. Thos. A. Gillen, a former resident of Morven, is in town for a few days in the interest of St. Brian's Camp, No. 125 Sons of Scotland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. McBride, of Belleville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Bowen on Wednesday eve.

The Misses Burt returned home from Sudbury on Wednesday.

Miss Myrtle Scott has returned from a two weeks vacation in Toronto. She was a guest in home by Miss Annie Ellis who will spend her vacation in Napanee.

A son and heir was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Elgar, (nee Minnie Embury) at Sault Ste. Marie, on July 21st.

Mrs. Jas. Scott, and son Cliff, of New York, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Clark.

BIRTHS.

Brown—At Ernestown, on Wednesday, July 22nd, 1908, Mary Augusta Brown, beloved wife of Mr. B. Sharp, aged 41 years, 11 months, and 12 days. The funeral will take place at the white church, Morven, on Saturday afternoon, at 1 o'clock.

Shaver—In Ernestown, on Wednesday, July 22d, 1908, Mary Augusta Brown, beloved wife of John B. Sharp, aged 41 years, 11 months and 12 days. The funeral took place from her late residence, Shaver's Corners, on Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Service will be held at the white church, Morven.

Nelson Walker held an auction sale of household effects on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peters and Mr. and Mrs. R. Gilford, Denver, Col., are camping at Nicholson's Point.

Up to Saturday morning four inches of rain fell and the farmers seem well pleased.

Visitors: Miss Lillie Lee and George Graham, of Toronto, are home for their holidays; J. S. Mabee and son, Clarence, of Williamsport, Pa., at his parent's, P. A. Mabee; Nelson E. Booth, and son, of Brooklyn, N. Y., at B. A. Booth's; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watts and son, Buffalo, at his parents, George Watts, also Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jenkins, of Napanee; W. J. Wallard, Berlin, at John Jones'; Mrs. R. G. Cooke and children, of Coburg, are visiting J. Cooke at the Dominion hotel; Clarence Lee, Manotick, arrived home this week; Miss Rose Babcock and Miss Pearl Hunter, Waterdown, at W. Babcock's.

The new tailor shop, opened by Harry Jones, is meeting with success.

Those who have gone to take part in the militia Quebec celebration are Judson Babcock, George Thomas, Roy Rose, W. J. Thompson, Earle Johnson.

Oddfellows'

Excursion

to

OTTAWA

Civic Holiday

WEDNESDAY,

August 12, 1908

OBITUARY.

PETER GOULD.

Mr. Peter Gould passed suddenly away on Saturday morning at his residence on Centre St. Deceased had been ailing for some time with Asthma and heart trouble, but was able to be about till a short time before his death. During the past few months he felt that his time here would be short and frequently expressed this to a number of his friends, and we believe that he was living with this end in view and was not taken unaware when the Master came. Those who have known him longest have very pleasant memories of him. Of a kind and genial disposition he was always ready to give a helping hand in any time of need. He was the last of five brothers now all dead, and was born on the old homestead near Lonsdale some seventy two years ago. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gould. He and family have been residents of Napanee for more than twenty years. He leaves a beloved wife and daughter to mourn his loss, and will be missed by a large circle of friends and neighbors. The Rev. W. H. Emsley conducted the funeral services in the Western Methodist church on Monday afternoon.

Preserving Kettles. Every price guaranteed, Non pois nons, ask for Elite Agate at BOYLE & SON.

ODESSA.

Mrs. Charity Hawley, an old and much respected resident of this place, died on Friday afternoon. She had attained the age of eighty-eight years. The funeral was held at the Methodist church on Sunday morning by Rev. J. A. McCamus, thence to Wilton cemetery for burial. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. John Morrison and Mrs. Barry, both of this place, and Mrs. Henry Eucyer, of Rome, N. Y., also two sons, R. Hawley, of Peterborough, and Sheldon Hawley, residing here.

Nelson Walker held an auction sale of household effects on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peters and Mr. and Mrs. R. Gilford, Denver, Col., are camping at Nicholson's Point.

Up to Saturday morning four inches of rain fell and the farmers seem well pleased.

Visitors: Miss Lillie Lee and George Graham, of Toronto, are home for their holidays; J. S. Mabee and son, Clarence, of Williamsport, Pa., at his parent's, P. A. Mabee; Nelson E. Booth, and son, of Brooklyn, N. Y., at B. A. Booth's; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watts and son, Buffalo, at his parents, George Watts, also Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jenkins, of Napanee; W. J. Wallard, Berlin, at John Jones'; Mrs. R. G. Cooke and children, of Coburg, are visiting J. Cooke at the Dominion hotel; Clarence Lee, Manotick, arrived home this week; Miss Rose Babcock and Miss Pearl Hunter, Waterdown, at W. Babcock's.

The new tailor shop, opened by Harry Jones, is meeting with success.

Those who have gone to take part in the militia Quebec celebration are Judson Babcock, George Thomas, Roy Rose, W. J. Thompson, Earle Johnson.

MUSIC :: STORE

We are now in a position to appeal to all who are needing any of the undermentioned goods, and we endeavor, so far as lies in our power, to place the best possible value before our customers. If you are needing anything in this list please give us a call.

- Pianos, Violins,
- Violin Strings, Pegs, Etc.
- Gramophones,
- Guitars, Auto Harps,
- Sheet Music,
- Sporting Goods,
- Sewing Machines,
- Books, Stationery,

Wallpapers

- Souvenir Cards,
- Pictures.

Picture Framing

a specialty.

Mr. Fielding, the Gerhard Heintzman Piano Tuner is coming. If your Piano needs attention please notify at once.

Closed every Wednesday at 12:30.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

The heavy showers of the last week have greatly improved the looks of the vicinity and was welcomed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Davis visited in Prince Edward county over Sunday.

Mr. Nelson Grooms is dangerously ill at his home, Elm Lawn.

Miss Zellah Grooms is also on the sick list.

The Rev. Mr. James, one of the young students sent out by the conference to do mission work through their vacation, ably filled the pulpit on Sunday last his discourse was appreciated by all present.

The grounds have been procured and the date fixed for the 29th of July for the annual S. School picnic, all who can to meet at the church at half past nine, and then to the Mohawk grove, west of Deseronto. Every body is welcome to pack their basket and come along and enjoy a day's outing in the beautiful woods.

STELLA.

Quite a number are through haying and reports say that the crop is a little better than last year.

The Orangemen and Prentice Boys and quite a number of others went on the steamer America to Picton on July 13th, to join in the big celebration.

Mrs. D. Caughey, Mrs. Miller, and Miss M. Allen have returned home from the Miller-Anderson wedding in Belleville.

Mrs. C. Girvin, South Shore, is moving into Capt. Gleeson's house in the village.

Dr. A. M. Girvin is about to take up practice in the west.

Mrs. R. Patterson, and Miss M. Taft left on Saturday evening for Buffalo, N. Y.

Visitors: Mrs. J. Preston, Detroit, at Mrs. E. Scott's; Mrs. Backus and son, New York, at J. S. Neilson's; Mrs. T. J. Pollie and family, Kingston, at John Sanders'.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bear the signature of 